CITY IS BURNING

People of Michel Beaten in Their Fight Against Fire

Train Was Hemmed in by Wall of Flame — Wind Turned to a Gale and in a Moment the City Was Doomed — 100,000 Feet of Lumber Were Burned

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 5.—For three days the people of Michel have fought for their homes with death at the door. Yesterday afternoon they were beaten at the game. The city, the second in size in the devastated district of East Kootenay, started to burn in real earnest at dusk. Nothing can save it from being a heap of ruins even more complete than Fernie.

From a light eastern breeze the wind turned to a gale from the west at three o'clock in the afternoon and the city in a moment was doomed. The blaze came sweeping down the hill. At the edge of the town one hundred thousand feet of mine timber owned by the coal company caught fire and four loaded railroad cars standing on a side track were consumed. Two Canadian Pacific locomotives were hitched on to a train to carry the fire fighters away to the west to safety. By the time the train left to the west the fire was spreading all over the yards. The train got only half a mile on its journey when it encountered a wall of flames. There was danger of its being hemmed in and being burned with everybody aboard, so the locomotives were reversed and run back with all speed. By the time the train returned all the houses on the flat district back of the Northern depot were burning and the main town was likely to catch at any moment. At five o'clock a lone newspaperman and the telegraph operator still stuck to the telegraph instruments. The last message the newspaperman sent:

"Many houses are burning. Trains cannot get west of here. Railway service west of this town will be blocked indefinitely. To the east the line is clear. Will try to reach Crows Nest before morning and forward news from there."

police, has been sent by the government of British Columbia to the fire-swept region, and he is now in charge of the relief work in East Kootenai, acting with the local authorities. The Dominion authorities have offered to send a detachment of Northwest mounted police into the devastated region to preserve order, but thus far the Provincial authorities have had the situation well in hand.

WORST IS OVER

PROPERTY LOSS IS PLACED AT $7,000,000.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 5.—The terribly destructive forest fires which have swept through the Crows Nest district of the Elk River valley in British Columbia since last Saturday, devastating a vast stretch of territory, destroying many lives and millions of dollars worth of property, wiping out entire towns and rendering thousands of persons homeless, are still raging, but are now sweeping a wild and sparsely settled country and it is believed the worst is over.

It is impossible at this time to arrive at a summary of the situation as regards loss of life and property with even approximate correctness. So widespread has been the destruction and so scattered are the people who lived in the burned area of more than 50 miles in length and 3 miles in width that any estimate of the number who met death in the flames is nothing more than guess work.

The property loss has been very great, but this, too, is difficult to estimate correctly.

A conservative valuation would probably place the amount between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000. Several thousand persons have been rendered homeless, principally residents of Fernie, which according to all accounts is almost completely wiped out, scarcely more than a score of buildings being left where once a prosperous town of 5000 inhabitants stood.

There has been suffering among the homeless, owing to lack of food and shelter, but this has been alleviated or partly relieved by the prompt action of the people of every city in British Columbia as well as many of those on border states, in sending money and supplies to the burned districts. This aid has been most generous and the temporarily destitute people will be adequately and promptly provided for.

A summary of the results of the fires has been prepared here which is believed to be a conservative estimate as to loss of life and property destroyed. It is as follows:

Town of Fernie, about 5000 inhabitants, practically wiped out, loss of 20 lives and $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 in property. Insurance about 50 per cent.

Town of Hosmer, about 800 inhabitants, partially burned, with loss of 1 life and $250,000 in property. Three hundred persons homeless.

Town of Michel: four persons reported killed and property destroyed in vicinity estimated at $1,000,000. Details unobtainable, owing to lack of communication.

Town of Sparwood; saw mill, village, two killed and large mills destroyed, damage estimated at $250,000.

Damage to standing timber throughout the burned area estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

GUSTAV FOSBERG

Knocked Down and Injured by Runaway

Gustav Fosberg, a fish dealer, residing at 29 Bowden street, was taken to St. John's hospital last night suffering from painful though not serious injuries. Mr. Fosberg was driving through Tewksbury Centre yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock when the horse took fright at a passing object, and ran away throwing Mr. Fosberg to the ground in such a manner that the wheels of the vehicle passed over his body. He was removed to the residence of Jeremiah Lynch nearby, and after an examination by a local physician he was taken to the hospital. It was stated at the hospital this morning that Fosberg was resting comfortably, and apparently had suffered no internal injuries.

COMES TO LOWELL

Manchester Man Accepts Position Here

Charles F. Good, overseer of the finishing department of the Stark mills at Manchester, N. H., according to the Manchester Union, is coming to Lowell to take charge of the finishing and shipping department in the Boott mills. The Manchester Union, in commenting on Mr. Good's departure from that city, says that in his going Manchester will lose one of its best singers. Mr. Good has been one of the leading soloists of that city for 25 years and has been a member of the choir of the First Congregational church for 16 years. His family will remain in Manchester until later in the year.

LOWELL'S TAX RATE

For 1908 Announced by Assessors to be $20.40

One Dollar Advance Over Last Year's Rate and the Highest in History of the City, Except in 1903 When the Rate Was the Same

Lowell's tax rate per $1000 for 1908 is $20.40, an increase of one dollar over last year.

The tax rate for the current year was announced by the assessors at a few minutes before the noon hour today.

The new tax rate has never been exceeded in the history of the city and only once was it equaled and that was in 1903. But even at that it is not as high as the assessors anticipated. They were of the opinion that it would reach the $20.50 mark, though weeks ago Chief Clerk Reardon gave as his opinion that the increase would be about $1.

The increased tax rate is almost wholly due to increased appropriations a large state tax. The total gain for personal and real estate for 1908 is $970,053.64. The total personal property for 1908 was $15,827,691.75 and for 1907, $15,763,128.21. Total value of real estate for 1908 was $60,588,100 and for 1907, $59,682,610.

The total valuation of personal and real estate for 1908 was $76,415,791, and for 1907, $75, 445, 738.21. The gain in new buildings for 1908 was not as great as for 1907.

The tax rate for the past 20 years has been as follows:

1888.....	$15.70	1898.....	$18.00
1889.....	16.10	1899.....	19.60
1890.....	17.00	1900.....	18.80

KILLED A WOMAN

Negro Gave Himself up to the Police

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—Walking up to a policeman late last night, a young negro said:

"Reckon you better lock me up, boss. I killed a woman, but I did it in self-defense and I want to be locked up. I had to to save myself."

The policeman accommodated the man, who gave his name as Robert Barring, and his story was then investigated. In a house in the southern section of the city the police found Maggie Albert, a young negress, dead with five bullet holes in her head. The revolver with which the murder had been committed had been held so close to the woman's face that the powder had badly scorched the flesh. Jealousy is believed to have been the motive for the crime.

FOOD STANDARDS

Are to Be Still Further Raised

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., Aug. 5.—Representatives from 27 states are attending the annual convention of the association of state and national food and dairy departments in session here. Dr. H. Wiley of Washington, chief of the bureau of chemistry, is among those present. The feature of the opening session yesterday was the address of Dr. E. F. Ladd, who received what had been accomplished since the government pure food movement was inaugurated. He recommended that food standards be still further raised, that the national pure food commission be enlarged and that a permanent committee be appointed to formulate uniform laws for such states as have not yet passed pure food laws.

THE KING

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Aug. 5.—The many thousand people who had waited since daybreak for the return of Count Zeppelin's airship from its record-breaking voyage were greatly disappointed when it became known shortly after ten o'clock that the airship had been compelled to come down at Echterdingen. The king of Wurtemburg, who was one of those who had come out to the floating shed to which the balloon was expected to return, announced personally to the people in the launches and boats swarming around the shed, that the balloon could not be expected back before tonight or tomorrow morning. It is said here that the balloon lacks gas. A special train will take three carloads of gas to Echterdingen. This is not a very large quantity, inasmuch as twenty cars are required to fill the giant balloon.

From a reliable source the information was obtained, however, that a defective motor was really responsible for the landing.

GIVES MILLIONS

For Home for the Occult Sciences

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 5.—Jessie M. Smiley, a well-known young Chicago widow, devotee of the occult and student of the higher thought, yesterday announced that she has fallen heir to a fortune of $20,000,000 by the terms of her mother's will, which provided that the property of the Scotch family should be divided only when the younger son, James, becomes of age.

The name of Mrs. Smiley's mother was Lady Catherine Laird, and the Laird estates, she declares, are well known in Kincardineshire, in the north of Scotland.

There are three sons of the family, James, George and Frederick. Mrs. Smiley's sister died recently in Cannes, France. Mr. Smiley was a shoe manufacturer at Lynn, Mass. He has been dead 10 years. "Of course, I have known for a long time that I should have plenty of money some day," said Mrs. Smiley. "I intend to use most of my money for the furtherance of occultism.

"As soon as I am in possession of my fortune I intend taking steps for the erection of an appropriate building on the West Side, in order that the occult sciences may have a proper home in Chicago."

THE KRUPP WORKS

Secure Rights of the Air Torpedo

ESSEN, Aug. 5.—Notwithstanding frequent denials the Krupp works have apparently acquired the rights to the air torpedo invented by Colonel Unge of the Swedish army under conditions that the Swedish government is free to use the device. The particulars of the weapon are a secret but it is understood that the Krupps paid a great sum for the invention after prolonged tests so it is assumed that the projectile is really effective. Report says it can be used by warships in sea fighting and also on land against fortifications, three calibres being used, one for sea fighting, a second for ordinary land fighting and a third for mountain work.

DUNSTABLE LIBRARY

WILL BE DEDICATED ONE WEEK HENCE.

The dedication of the S. R. Roby library building in Dunstable will take place Wednesday, Aug. 12, and the committee announces this will be old-home day in the town. It extends an invitation to all former residents to attend.

The new building will be used as a town hall. It is but a short distance from Dunstable Centre, on the road leading to Tyngsboro.

Arrangements have been made by the committee to furnish transportation between Tyngsboro and Dunstable at reasonable rates. Tyngsboro can be reached from Lowell by steam or electric cars. The latter cars leave Merrimack square, Lowell, and the post-office in Tyngsboro.

Selectman James Kendall will preside at the dedication of the building, which cost $13,000. The exercises will begin at 11 a. m. After a short address by Mr. Kendall, Frederick Williams of Chicago, a relative of the donor, will speak for Mrs. Sarah R. S. Roby.

The building committee, Dexter Butterfield, William P. Foster and Levi Lawrence, will present the keys and they will be accepted by E. D. Swallow, chairman of the board of selectmen.

Rev. A. M. Rice of Lawrence, a former resident of Dunstable, will deliver the address. Prof. A. D. Butterfield of Worcester, a native of Dunstable, will be president of the day.

There will be a dinner at noon. The event promises to be one of the most interesting in the town's history.

TERRIFIC STORM

Descended on City During the Night

Sometime during the still watches of the night, after the last cars had ceased to run, a rain storm that would gladden the heart of the most exacting farmer, accompanied by an electrical storm that would strike terror to the stoutest heart, descended upon Lowell and for an hour swamped the city. Many lucky ones who when they go to sleep go to sleep all over, as it were, slept blissfully on entirely ignorant and hence unmindful of the raging elements without their windows.

While the lightning was incessant and most vivid, it was apparently what is popularly called heat lightning and of a harmless nature, and as far as could be learned this forenoon no places in this vicinity were struck. The rain made huge ponds of the sewer holes and where street work is being done, while some cellars were flooded but no serious damage was done. After partly clearing away, the storm returned shortly before 8 o'clock and resumed its liquidation to the great disappointment of many excursionists and outing parties, causing them to postpone their trips until some other date.

CRUELTY ALLEGED

In Treatment of Children by Tewksbury Couple

Arrest Made Early This Morning by Order of the Mass. S. P. C. C. and Defendants Held in $200 Each Till Friday

In the police court this morning, Judge Pickman presiding, Daniel F. Donahue, aged 38 years, and his wife, Geneva Donahue, aged 37 years, both of Tewksbury, were arraigned on a complaint charging them with assault and battery on Edward Hutchins, aged 8 years and Esther Marie Hutchins, aged 6 years. They pleaded not guilty, and at the request of Lieut. Downey, the prosecuting officer, the case was continued until Friday morning to give the government an opportunity to summon the necessary witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Donahue were brought to the police station this morning by Constables Frank H. Farmer and Mason at 1.10 o'clock, the warrant for their arrest having been issued yesterday afternoon by Clerk Trull of the police court at the solicitation of an agent of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, who investigated the case as a result of a complaint made to him by neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Donahue.

Esther and Edward Hutchins are the children of Mrs. Donahue's brother, who is at present living in Chelsea. The children have been living with the Donahue's for about a year, and it is alleged that during this period they have been frequently abused by both Mr. and Mrs. Donahue. The boy, pending the outcome of the case in court is in the custody of Constable Farmer, while the agent of the society with the long name has taken charge of the girl. Mr. and Mrs. Donahue were each held in $200.

The session of court was of less than five minutes duration. Prior to the opening of court, Probation Officer Slattery released four who had quaffed from the flowing bowl not wisely but too well. Two first offenders were fined $2.00 each.

MILLS MAY CLOSE

On Firemen's Muster Day August 20

Owing to the magnitude of the coming firemen's muster and the subsequent fact that hundreds of mill operatives will remain away from work on that day to witness the sport, it has been suggested to the committee in charge of the muster that it request the mills that otherwise would be running on Aug. 20th to close in order that the operatives may be permitted to enjoy the great event.

The merchants will close their stores at noon as the date falls on Thursday, while during the morning the store clerks will have an opportunity to witness the parade which will be denied those who work in the mills. Owing to the uncertainty of business in the mills it is doubtful if the mill agents will look with favor on the proposition to close on Aug. 20th but if they do run they will undoubtedly run with short help.

The fact that several hundred dollars are being given away in "live rubber" prizes has aroused great enthusiasm among the fire companies throughout New England, and not only guarantees a large entry list but also assures a tremendous crowd. The N. E. league fixes the amounts of the league prizes by rule, but in this case Humphrey O'Sullivan has offered a large number of extra cash prizes that gives every company a chance to get something.

TWO BROTHERS

Leave Lowell for Other Fields

On Sunday morning at all the masses in the Catholic churches of the city the yearly collection for the Negro and Indian missions will be taken up.

The Xaverian Brothers of St. Patrick's Male academy are here again after spending the vacation months at Danvers, Mass.

There have been only two teachers of the teaching staff of the school changed this year, they being Brother Leo, formerly superior of the academy, who was transferred to St. Patrick's school in Baltimore, Md., and Brother Benedict, who on account of sickness was shifted down south.

Brother Osmund, the successor of Brother Leo, formerly had the supervision of the school that Brother Leo has charge of now.

The successor of Brother Benedict has not been appointed as yet.

The departure of Brother Benedict from this city was heard of with regret by the young men of St. Patrick's parish. During the years that he was in this city he spent most of his spare time amongst the members of the Sacred Heart sodality and was its spiritual director.

Brother Leo was also an untiring worker among the young men and parishioners. As he was the superior his duties sometimes brought him into the homes of the parents where he made many friends. The founding of the St. Patrick's Academy alumni was due in a measure to his efforts.

The many friends of both regret that they were called for other labors from St. Patrick's.

THE PARK BOARD

Discussed Many Important Subjects at Its Meeting

The park commission held a business meeting last evening. Matters under discussion included the coming Playground congress in New York, the Lincoln square monument and gypsy moths.

As to the Playground convention no positive action was taken. It will be remembered that Mayor Farnham appointed the members of the committee as delegates to the congress. The members, however, have not made up their minds about going. As to the Lincoln square monument question, that came up in the form of a petition asking permission to erect a monument to Father Abraham in the square that bears his name. The petition was granted. The gypsy and brown-tail moth discussion harked back to an itchy past and peered into an agitated future, then took wings and flew to Noman's land.

When a man has rocks," the street parlance for wealth, he just begins to live, so to speak, but when a tree has rocks it is loaded for the grave. Two petitioners appeared before the commission last night and there and then told the story of a tree in High street, a tree that had stood with its face to the storm for years, a tree that for generations has whistled merrily in the breezes and beneath its branches for years, greater in number than we can reckon, thousands have been sheltered from the sun. At its trunk and upon its roots, lovers' tales have been told, and now with its hollow limbs filled with rocks cast there by mischievous boys, those it has sheltered would approve of its demise. Oh, Mabel, isn't it awful? The petitioners for the destruction of this good and faithful tree were told that the matter would be taken up at once, roots and all.

Next up was the matter of the Fayette street school grounds, which were recently transferred to the park department. It was decided to put in sand boxes for the smaller children at once, and such other apparatus at a later date as the funds in the hands of the commission would permit.

Now to the Playground congress to be held in New York, Sept. 8 to 12. This congress has been widely advertised, and will undoubtedly prove helpful and important. Gov. Hughes will speak and Mayor McClellan will preside.

Judge Pickman suggested that it would be a nice trip for the commission members to go, at their own expense, by the new outside water route from Boston. No final action was taken.

Supt. Whittet stated that most of the men who had been engaged in fighting moths had been laid off and he also said that he expected a hard fight was coming against the gypsy moth this winter. Mr. Whittet said that in order to wage successful battle against the moths the committee should be supplied at the first of the year with an appropriation sufficiently large to keep the fight going all winter without a letup.

After a discussion of the plans for the improvement of Monument square, the commissioners ruminated on some bills that were before them and then adjourned.

TOWN OF AYER

In a Conflict With Electric Light Co.

The electric light controversy has brought about an unusual situation in the town of Ayer. For two nights the lights have been shut off, and as a result there is a great demand for lanterns. The fire alarm, which is located at the electric light plant, is to be removed and placed at one of the factories.

BRONSON HOWARD

Well Known Dramatist is Dead

NEW YORK, Aug. 5—Bronson Howard, dramatist and author, writer of several plays which stand as landmarks in the American dramatic field, died yesterday of heart failure at Avon-by-the-Sea, N. J., after an illness of about a year. Mr. Howard, who went to the coast resort on June 25, in the hope that the sea air might benefit him, improved in health for a time, but in the last two weeks failed rapidly. Mrs. Howard and several near relatives were with him as he died. His funeral will take place at Avon Thursday afternoon, and shortly afterward the body will be removed for interment to Detroit, where Mr. Howard was born 68 years ago.

Bronson Howard began his journalistic career in 1859, when he came to this city, where he was connected at various times with the Tribune, the Evening Mail, and the Evening Post. He practically retired from newspaper work in 1872, devoting himself largely thereafter to dramatic work. As a dramatist, Mr. Howard was best known by reason of the successes of "Saratoga," "The Banker's Daughter," "Old Love Letters," "Young Mrs. Winthrop," "The Henrietta," "Shenandoah," and Aristocracy." From 1870, the date of "Saratoga", to 1906, when he published "Kate," he was engaged primarily with characters essentially American.

STOP GAMBLING

At the American League Games

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Efforts to stamp out gambling in baseball will be made by the American league. President Johnson of the league, it is announced today, will issue a bulletin to every American league club calling attention to the prevalence of betting and asking each club owner to enforce to the letter the section in the league constitution prohibiting betting.

President Johnson figures that in order to discourage the gamblers it may be necessary to place under arrest everyone caught making bets at the ball parks.

"There is no question but that the gamblers who have been put out of business by adverse legislation against the turf have flocked to baseball," said Mr. Johnson. "It has become an evil which must be nipped now if the game is to be kept clean. Of course, I am powerless to do anything against the handbook men around town outside the ball grounds and that is up to the authorities of the different cities.

"Gambling inside the American league grounds around the circuit, however, must be stopped and at once."

300 SHOTS FIRED

Strikers and Deputies Have Battle

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 5.—At Lewisburg Mines, nine miles north of Birmingham, last night a group of strikers threw a heavy charge of dynamite against the stockade surrounding the mines. The men ran to a ridge nearly a mile from the stockade and opened fire with rifles. No less than 500 shots were fired into the stockade and the twenty or more deputies around the mines returned the fire with vigor.

So far as known no one was injured.

OILING THE STREETS

Street Committee Witnessed Demonstration of Terracolio

Made a Trip to Newton and Was Shown Around in Automobiles — The Surface Treatment is Good to Lay the Dust

The committee on streets accompanied by Supt. Morse and Councilmen McKidder, Donahue and Mahoney had a little outing yesterday at the expense of the company which manufactures and sells "terracolio" an oil for oiling streets. The bunch went to Newton to witness a practical demonstration of terracolio and they came home full; full of belief in all that the company's representative who attended a recent meeting of the street committee, told them as to the virtues of terracolio.

The visitors were used right well by the oily company and the fellow who showed them around passed out the omega in great shape and, incidentally, showed the unsophisticated Lowellians the way to a good time. They were wined and dined and swished in automobiles over oily roads for a distance of 60 miles, but in the midst of such extraordinary pleasure they did not forget that their trip was in the interest of Lowell, and it's a caution the pile of information they brought back about that slick article terracolio.

They went to Wellesley, too, and they are going again in the fall when school opens, because if there's one thing in the world that the committee on streets has an eye for that thing is feminine beauty and they do tell that Wellesley holds all records.

But away from the stock yard for a minute and let us talk terracolio. Terracolio has been used very liberally in Newton and the superintendent of that city, who is considered an authority on the matter of oiled roads, says it is all to the good. He says that the preparation is all that the company claims. The oil lays the dust and seals it down so that after several applications the road becomes so hard and the oil becomes so much a part of the road and acts as a cement, that dust does not rise. In the end the watering cart is not necessary. Terracolio would cost for the season, about four cents a square yard.

Kentucky oil is another product used on the roads, but it has an offensive odor, it was said, at least when it is first used, and the committee made no exhaustive examination of its work.

Tarvia, another preparation, used in the two cities visited created a more favorable impression. This is spread on the road like a cement, rather than sprinkled like an oil. It is adhesive in its nature, is dark colored, and is almost in the nature of a cement. It is claimed for it that it is especially valuable in making hard, dustless roads for automobiles. For this purpose, it was considered rather more valuable than the terracolio, but the latter met higher commendation when the road was for general traffic for all kinds of vehicles.

The several companies with street oil for sale will give a demonstration on the boulevard a week from tomorrow and this demonstration will govern the street committee's recommendations, if any are made, to the city council.

MAHER ARRESTED

He is Charged With Having Stolen Mail Wagon

LAWRENCE, Aug. 4.—George Maher, alias George Reynolds, was arraigned in the police court yesterday charged with the stealing of a United States mail wagon and two bags of mail matter. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $500 bonds. He will be turned over to the federal authorities. He gave several names, but later testified that his real name was George Maher and that he lived in Exeter, N. H.

He said that he was led into the theft of the mail wagon through companions, but witnesses testified that there were no persons near the scene at the time the defendant jumped into the wagon and drove off who could be connected with Maher in the larceny.

At 12.15 yesterday morning, as Frank Osgood, the regular driver of the mail wagon, was about half way down Essex street on his route, he left his wagon standing in front of a building while he went in to collect from the mail box.

When he came out with the mail in his hand he saw the wagon being driven rapidly down Essex street. He gave an alarm and started in pursuit.

Maher's capture was brought about by his asking three young men to direct him to Springfield, N. H. The young men, who had heard of the robbery, were suspicious, and two of them got into the wagon, one taking the reins and driving the horse toward the police station. On Essex street, near Amesbury street, Maher evidently suspected something, and during the absence of one of the young men sprang to the sidewalk and disappeared up Amesbury street. He was later found sleeping in a clump of bushes after policemen had scoured the city for him.

HAD A SHOCK

MRS. MARIER SENT TO THE HOSPITAL.

Mrs. Mary Marier suffered a stroke of apoplexy at her home, 50 French street, yesterday morning, following a paralytic shock in her left side Monday, which rendered her whole side powerless and which brought on spells of unconsciousness. The woman was removed to St. John's hospital. Her condition has somewhat improved.

BIG LAWN PARTY

Arranged by St. Peter's Parish

A largely attended meeting of the committee in charge of St. Peter's lawn party, which is to be held Sept. 6th, was held last evening in the Fair hall on Gorham street. Much business was transacted and the indications point to a most successful event. The sports committee after an extended discussion decided upon the following program:

Professional, 100 yards dash, open; one mile, open; sack race, open; high jump; relay race for clubs and societies; amateur 100 yards dash; relay race; 110 yards race, sack race; 100 yard hurdle race.

In connection with the report of the sports committee, Martin F. Conley reported that Frank Kennedy, Louis Guertin, Bart Sullivan, Hugh Myers, Tom Williams, well known out-of-town professionals had been interviewed by him and had agreed to enter the tournament in connection with the lawn party.

It was voted to engage the services of an old time Irish bagpiper and the committee has decided to establish a Midway. This affair is being held to observe the 25th anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Fr. Ronan, the beloved pastor, and at the latter's request the proceeds will be devoted to the church fund.

Ladd, past master, Chas. M. Gardner, lecturer, and Mrs. C. Cook of Mass. State, Hon. John N. Cole, speaker of the house, Hon. W. F. Garcelon, supt. of sports at Harvard and Delancy Corkum of Pomona grange, it will be worth while for all to attend.

PROSPERITY HERE

MERRIMACK CLOTHING COMPANY DECLARES DIVIDEND.

At the semi-annual meeting of the directors of the Merrimack Clothing company last evening, a dividend of 2½ per cent. was declared, payable from the earnings of the past six months.

The closing of the books at stock-taking showed that the six months just ended was the most prosperous period the Merrimack has had, not excepting the same period in 1907. The Merrimack takes special pride in having shown such earning capacity in the face of the general depression. It's a question if there's another clothing store in the country that can show earning power for the first six months of 1908 equal to the same period in 1907.

The management says that it was done by selling good merchandise at such close prices as to make its goods enticing to the public, getting profits out of the makers in the shape of special prices and liberal discounts for immediate cash—asking the public only a little more than the cost of handling.

It's the up-to-date merchandising. Any house can do it if it has plenty of cash to go into the market, knows its customers' needs, has the know-how to properly advertise what it buys, and stands back of every representation, even to the extent of a new garment for every one that fails to give satisfaction.

Stores like the Merrimack, that are determined to do more business in dull times than under normal conditions, find it easy to prosper in hard times. It is a matter of comment that the Merrimack has made more inroads into the buying public the past six months by offering exceptional values, than it would under ordinary conditions. In making a supreme effort to overcome dull times, the Merrimack has made new friends, and friends made under such conditions are very apt to become permanent customers.

The management is grateful to the public for the recognition of its efforts and evidences of its good will, and hopes to merit their continuance.

DIED OF INJURIES

Boy Fell From Pole of Wagon

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—George F. Gibbons, eight years old, of 1118 Tremont street, Roxbury, fell from the pole of a wagon early last evening, and sustained injuries from which he died at city hospital an hour later.

A tipcart, owned by Michael F. Gaddis, a contractor of 54 Duncan street, and driven by Frank Carroll, was passing along Tremont street, with another wagon hitched behind. Gibbons, the police say, ran out from the sidewalk and attempted to steal a ride on the pole of the rear wagon. It is supposed he lost his balance while seated on the pole, and fell off. One of the wheels of the rear wagon passed over his stomach, fracturing his spine, breaking three ribs and injuring him internally.

The accident happened but a short distance from station 10, and the ambulance was on the scene in a few minutes. The boy was hurried to the city hospital, but nothing could be done to save his life.

BOTH RESCUED

WOMAN AND HER SON CLUNG TO CANOE.

TURNERS FALLS, Aug. 5.—C. N. Elliott, aged abot 35 years, of Nutley, N. J., was drowned in the Connecticut river above Rock dam yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Elliott, his wife and son, in one canoe, and George Rea, his wife and one of the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, all on a vacation trip, started in two canoes at White River Junction, Vt.

Early yesterday afternoon the two canoes were carried by the Turners Falls dam and put into the water below the dam. Mr. and Mrs. Rea and one Elliott boy in one canoe went through the rapids successfully. While shooting the rapids, considerable water came into the Elliott canoe, and it was upset. Mrs. Elliott and the son clung to the sides of the canoe. Mr. Elliott, who was an expert swimmer, while assisting his wife and son, became exhausted and went down.

Rea, after landing his wife and the Elliott boy on the Greenfield side of the river, came back to render assistance, but was too late to save the life of Elliott.

DEFECT IN MOTOR

Caused Count Zeppelin to Make Descent This Morning

STUTTGART, Aug. 5.—Count Zeppelin's airship descended on a plateau near the village of Echterdingen five miles south of this city shortly before 8 o'clock this morning owing to a defect in one of the motors. After an examination of the machinery, Count Zeppelin decided to send to Friedrichshafen for mechanics to make the necessary repairs and for that reason the craft probably will be delayed here until six o'clock tonight. Two companies of grenadiers have been sent to picket a space around the airship to keep off the crowding villagers and country people from an excuse to obtain a close view of the novel craft.

The enthusiasm of the country people who watched the flight was indescribable.

The following message was dropped from the airship:

"From Zeppelin's airship above Stuttgart, homeward bound after an eventful trip.

"Count Zeppelin."

A BOLD ROBBERY

Committed on Train From Boston

CANTON, Aug. 5.—Chief Henry S. Galligan and the officers of Canton are searching for three men, who committed a daring hold-up and robbery on a train from Boston yesterday.

The robbery occurred on the 12.27 p. m., train out of Boston on the Providence division of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co. Three men held up one of the passengers and taking from him $140, jumped from the train as it was passing Green Lodge, a flag station.

The man who was robbed left the train at Canton Junction and reported the robbery to Chief Gilligan, who at once instituted a search for the men. Up to a late hour none of them had been apprehended.

JOSEPH BASSO

NAME OF THE MAN WHO WAS ROBBED.

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—The man who was robbed was Joseph Basso, of Orient Heights. He had been selling tickets for an outing of the Columbus Association of this city, which was on its way to Sharon. The money taken from him represented the proceeds from the sale of tickets. The robbers jostled the man in the vestibule between the cars and securing the money jumped from the train.

Three other men in charge of the picnic were also robbed of smaller amounts, it is believed by the same men who made their escape.

BILLS HELD UP

For Work Done in Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Aug. 5.—The committee on accounts, at a meeting yesterday, held up eight bills of local contractors for sidewalk repairs for July. The bills held up are as follows: Philip Holland, $666.61, $39.77 and $1,172.64 for sidewalk repairs, and $966.18 for $996.82 square feet of granolithic sidewalks at 39 cents per yard, on Common street.

The latter work was done outside the places of business of M. Carney & Co., and Curran & Joyce, wholesale liquor dealers, and it was understood was being done at the expense of the abutters.

In addition to the bills of Philip Holland, the committee also refused to approve the bills of George Horne, $2.75 and $67.05, and Smith & Bingham, $398.14 and $69.22.

CAUGHT IN GALE

Schooner Norombega Came Very Near Being Capsized

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 4.—The three-masted schooner Norombega limped into port today under a couple of patched sails, all of her other canvas being cut away by her crew to save her from capsizing in last Monday's gale o ffthe coast. The Norombega, which was bound from New Richmond, P. Q., for Philadelphia with lathes was caught thirty-five miles off here in the hurricane and for several hours ran before it under reefed lower sails.

The storm which seemed to be made up of a succession of squalls increased hourly until one gust came flying up which hove the vessel down on her beam ends and shifted the deck load. The Norombega wallowed about in the trough of the sea with the waves breaking over her and washing all light stuff from the deck and filling the cabin and forecastle.

Fearing that the schooner would not right Captain Peterson led his crew, all carrying axes and knives, along the weather bulwarks and one by one the sails were ripped off or cut away. The schooner then righted and rode out the gale under bare poles.

All the stores were ruined and nearly all the crew's clothing was washed overboard.

A couple of spare sails were bent on and the vessel worked into port today. She will receive a new suit of sails and proceed.

MURDER MYSTERY

Several Limbs of a Young Lady Found in Lake

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—A mystery confronts the Chicago police as the result of the finding of the severed limbs of a young woman in Mud lake, a part of the south branch of the Chicago river near the stock yards yesterday. Experts who have examined the grewsome evidence of murder pronounced portions of the body found to be that of a blonde woman not more than 18 years old, who has been dead not more than four days.

Dragging of the lake for other parts of the body will be started by the police today in the hope of finding the head and trunk of the body. It is thought that with the head identification of the woman can be made.

A meeting of the executive board of St. Patrick's Academy alumni was held last evening, at which three applications for membership were received. William O'Brien and Brother Superior Osmund will attend as guests, and both will deliver addresses. A novel feature of the literary program will be introduced by the graduating class. Many applications for tickets have been received and all members wishing to attend are requested to notify the financial secretary not later than Thursday noon. The banquet will start at 8 p. m., and everyone is requested to be present at that time.

HE SHOT HIMSELF

Somerville Man Dreaded Asylum

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Frederick D. Dion, 32 years old, attempted suicide yesterday morning by shooting himself over the left temple at the home of Henry R. Fisher, 25 Greene street, Somerville. He was taken to the Somerville hospital.

Several days ago Dion was declared insane by two physicians who examined him. They reported their findings to Judge Wentworth of the Somerville court, who issued examination papers and gave them to an officer to serve. The man was aware that he was to be sent away, but had eluded the officers for several days.

Yesterday morning Francis M. Dion, a brother of the patient, notified the officer that his brother was at Mr. Fisher's house. When Mr. Fisher's home was reached it was found that the patient was in bed and apparently asleep, and as the train for Danvers did not leave until 9 o'clock, it was decided not to disturb him until early in the afternoon.

The officer was just turning from the door when the report of a revolver was heard in the room occupied by the patient. Rushing to the room, they found him with a revolver clutched in his hand and blood pouring from a wound in his temple. His dread of the asylum, no doubt, was the cause of his act.

LIVELY CONTEST

Americans Are Trying to Defeat Villa

MANILA, Aug. 5.—Gov. Gen. Smith in reply to the protest made by the Spanish residents of this city against the utterances of Simon Villa, a candidate for alderman who on July 22nd declared in a speech that in case of another revolution he would advocate the killing of every Spaniard in Manila, yesterday said that the incident lacked the slightest hint of any international spect. Villa's inflammatory declarations being those of a private citizen only and not uttered by anyone in an official capacity. It is presumed that this closes the incident.

A lively municipal campaign is now in progress here and the American residents are endeavoring to defeat Villa for alderman of the city.

BRAINED HIS WIFE

Zet Says His Family Continually "Nagged" Him

ROCKVILLE, Conn., Aug. 5.—John Zet, who killed his four-year-old grandchild with a knife and brained his wife yesterday, tossed about on a cot in the lockup all night and at times talked with his guard. With two broken ribs and wounds on his head and arms inflicted by his son during the struggle to get possession of the sledge hammer, Zet appeared to be in agony. States Attorney Charles Phelps has been called here from his summer home in Magnolia, Mass., and will be here later in the day. It is believed that a special grand jury will be called to pass on Zet's case.

Zet told the police that the family were continually "nagging" him to give up the farm. He said he had stood it about all he could and had made up his mind to go to Pennsylvania where he formerly was employed around a coal pit. Yesterday morning, he says, the family had been telling him to go away and he was vexed. He had a hammer in his hand and went in the house to ask his wife to give him money enough to go away. He had words, he said, and in his rage he lifted the hammer and struck his wife. Zet goes no further than the recital.

Mrs. Zet was just alive this morning. The first report was that she had died but late last night Dr. Bean returned here and said that she was still breathing. Dr. Rothwell, the medical examiner, today will hold an autopsy on the body of the child and upon his report to the coroner will be based the complaint against Zet.

CLEARS THE COMPLEXION OVER NIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, poslam, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use poslam for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Lowell at Falls & Burkinshaw's, Carter & Sherburne's, and other leading drug stores.

Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York city.

BOYS RELEASED

They Were Accused of Stealing Peanuts

Four small boys, who, it was alleged, had stolen a quantity of peanuts from a small variety store in Dracut Centre, were brought to the police station this morning, but the authorities refused to hold them as the man on whose complaint they had been corraled could not identify positively any one of the quartet.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Yesterday, the Bungalow, our camp on Lake Nabnassett, was opened, and will be open through the week. There is still room for some girls. It is a special chance to get a week's outing cheaply and pleasantly. Any who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity, will please register at once at the association building. All will be glad to hear that Miss Bent is to be in camp this week.

The Wednesday noon meeting will be led by Miss Mildred Meader, who has lately been a delegate from the Comfort club to the Silver Bay conference for association workers. We may be sure she will have something good to say to us.

The many friends of Dr. A. E. Goddard will be deeply pained to learn that she is dangerously ill in far away India. Dr. Goddard left active work in the association about six years ago for the mission field in Nowgong, India.

"FATHER OF SENATE"

Mr. Allison Entered That Body in 1873

DUBUQUE, Ia., Aug. 5.—U. S. Senator William Boyd Allison died at his home here at 1.45 yesterday afternoon of heart failure. The end came as a result of a serious sinking spell due to prostatic enlargement complicated with kidney disease, and during a period of unconsciousness which had lasted since Saturday afternoon.

FATHER OF SENATE

ALLISON ENTERED THAT BODY IN 1873.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—To Senator Allison, more especially than to any other man who ever occupied a seat in that body, belongs the title of "Father of the Senate." He was not only one of the oldest men in that body, but he held the record beyond all others for his length of service there. More important still, his service in the senate was such that his title to position depended not at all upon his advanced age or extended service. Senator Allison was, at the time of his death, and had been for a third of a century, a leader in fact as well as in name.

Mr. Allison entered the senate March 4, 1873, and had served continuously ever since, making the longest period as a member of that body ever covered by any individual. When he died yesterday, he had just completed the fifth month of the thirty-sixth year of his occupancy of this important post, thus exceeding by almost three years and a half the thirty-one years, nine months and twenty-four days' service of the late Senator Morrill of Vermont, who held the record for continuous service previous to Senator Allison, and the thirty-one years, eleven months and fourteen days' service of Senator Sherman of Ohio, who previous to Mr. Allison had served the longest time in the senate, although not without interruption. Mr. Allison first entered the senate by appointment as the successor of Senator Harlan of Iowa. He entered upon his first elective term in 1878. His present term would have expired Mar. 4, 1909, but he had already been elected by primary for still another term. Thus if death had not interrupted, his service in the senate was assured until March 4, 1915.

In addition to his service in the senate, Mr. Allison had given eight years of his life to the house of representatives.

When he entered the house the Civil war was at its height and his service covered not only that exciting epoch, but also the scarcely less exciting time of reconstruction, and has been identified with the history of the country during the administrations of Lincoln, Johnson, Grant, Hayes, Cleveland, Harrison, McKinley and almost all that of Roosevelt.

For many years Senator Allison had been chairman of the republican caucus of the senate, of the republican steering committee and of the senate committee on appropriations. He also was and had been for more than thirty years a member of the committee on finance, and during much of that time held the second position on that committee. By virtue of his position as chairman of the republican caucus and especially of the steering committee, Mr. Allison was the technical leader of the senate, and by virtue of his abilities he shared the real leadership of that body with only one or two others. As chairman of the steering committee, he was permitted to select his own associates, and thus he became in a particular sense the arbitrator of the fortunes of legislation in the senate, for as is generally known, this committee, although not recognized by law, practically determines what important bills shall be passed and what shall be either defeated or allowed to die. It was the steering committee more than any other sub-organization of the senate which directed the legislation in connection with the Spanish-American war. Indeed, in later years there has been little, if any, legislation of moment which has not had the sanction of this organization.

As a legislator, Mr. Allison gave most of his attention to the industrial and financial interests of the country.

The senate seems to meet all of the demands of Senator Allison for public life. He appeared at all times perfectly at home in that body, and he met with a recognition there both from colleagues and employes which amounted in many cases almost to devotion. Both by many senators and many attaches of the senate he was affectionately spoken of as "Uncle Billy," but his dignity of bearing was such that few ventured to thus address him to his face. Still he was regarded by all as approachable and genial, and his kindly smile will be missed by all who were connected in any way with the senate.

Unquestionably, Senator Hale will succeed Mr. Allison as chairman of the committee on appointments if he will consent to relinquish his position at the head of the committee on naval affairs. Other republican members of that committee are in the order named: Senators Cullom, Perkins, Warren, Gallinger and Elkins. Senator Hale will also probably become chairman of the steering committee of the republican caucus.

Much interest is felt here in the possible effect of Senator Allison's death on political affairs in Iowa. The general opinion is that Governor Cummins will renew his effort to obtain a seat in the senate, in which he was recently defeated by Mr. Allison, and it is recognized that with this venerable leader no longer in a position to lead, the prospect is good for a valiant battle. Whether such a conflict will have any influence upon the presidential struggle is a subject for speculation, but all agree that it will add interest to the general campaign.

GOV. CUMMINS

IS A CANDIDATE FOR THE U. S. SENATE.

LAKE FOREST, Ill., Aug. 5—Governor Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, last night announced himself as a candidate to succeed United States Senator Allison. The governor paid a glowing tribute to his late political adversary's service to the country at large and then frankly declared his ambition to be elected to the senate by the legislature of his state. He also announced that someone will be appointed at once to occupy Sen. Allison's seat for the remainder of his unexpired term.

"I shall certainly make an effort to succeed Sen. Allison," said Governor Cummins, when asked concerning his political intentions. He refused, however, to say what he would do regarding the senatorship during the unexpired term which ends on March 4, 1909.

Gov. Cummins will cut short his vacation and return to Des Moines today. The governor stated that the legislature would be unable to elect a man for the place in time for the reassembling of congress in December and that unless an appointment be made the state would not have its full representation at Washington.

The governor made it plain that he believes that his friends regard him as the logical successor to the senatorship. He declared that Senator Allison had defeated him in the recent primary election in the state by a comparatively slender majority and for this reason he thought that his candidacy would be received with favor in his state.

PRES. FALLIERES

May Be Allowed to Enter Church

PARIS, Aug. 5.—The marriage of Anne Fallieres, daughter of the president of the republic, to J. J. E. Lanes, the presidential secretary, which is to take place in the church of the Madeline, Aug. 20, has raised the question of whether or not the president can participate in the ceremony owing to the fact that all French officials who were concerned in the adoption of the law providing for the separation of church and state have been excommunicated. According to the church organ, the Gallois, the archbishop of Paris, basing his conclusion on one of the acts of the council of Trent has decided that insomuch as the bann of excommunication was not published by Rome in the churches and not given great prominence in the religious world, the presence of President Fallieres at the church would be "tolerated."

CANAL WORK

BEING PUSHED WITH ALL POSSIBLE HASTE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Month by month the total excavation on the Isthmian canal is increasing. A cablegram received today from Col. Goethals, chief engineer on the isthmus, shows that the excavation for July was considerably greater than for June although the latter was almost a record in the canal work. The total excavation for July was 3,168,640 cubic yards, against 3,036,976 cubic yards for June and 1,077,598 cubic yards for July a year ago.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

"The Ranchman's Daughter" is proving to be a popular offering for the Adam Good company at Lakeview Theatre this week, and delighted audiences crowd the theatre at each performance. Beside the play good specialties are contributed by Bessie Overton, Eddie Poulter, and that popular Lowell boy, Jas. L. Dempsey, or "Jimmie," as all the boys call him. His songs are a strong feature of the performance. For next week the management has selected a dramatization of that charming love story by Mary J. Holmes "Lena Rivers." The play follows the story in the book very closely and those who have read the book will surely want to see the play.

THEATRE VOYONS

Commencing Thursday morning the Theatre Voyons will begin the showing of the official pictures of the three hundredth anniversary celebration in Quebec, Canada. This celebration exceeded any ever held in Canada in point of magnificence and elaborateness and the official pictures cover many of the features of interest. The final series is of the grand military review on the Plains of Abraham. These are moving pictures, not simply photographs. Every picture is clear and distinct and is an accurate reproduction of the actual ceremonies. The Prince of Wales, The Princess of Wales, Premier Laurier, Vice President Fairbanks and many other noted people are recognizable in the pictures. These pictures afford thousands of Lowell people an opportunity to see some of the ceremonies in connection without the expense of travel.

STAR THEATRE

There can be no doubt about the popularity of amateur night, for last night it was necessary to turn a great many people away.

The amateurs were very enjoyable and many new ones were seen, among them a comedy team from Nashua that were great favorites.

The little girl dancers and singers did exceptionally well, and won much applause and praise.

Bobby Mack, the author comedian, was thoroughly enjoyed and brought round after round of laughter and applause.

The songs, "What's All the Worry" sung by Miss Curry, and "I Wish I Had a Girl," sung by J. C. Bell, are having great success.

Tonight will be the last opportunity to hear them, for there is a new program of songs tomorrow.

The new pictures today are as good as can be seen anywhere and win much applause. They will be seen today and tomorrow only, for there will be another new program Friday.

The theatre is several degrees cooler than the outside atmosphere at all times.

NURSE ACCUSED

Charged With Stealing From Patients

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—One of the most remarkable of recent police cases became public when pretty Challa Cameron, 19 years old, a probationary nurse in the Lebanon hospital, was arraigned before Magistrate Breege, charged with larceny.

The complainant is Miss Mary Kilfoyle, an emergency patient in the hospital, where she was taken Monday night, suffering from severe contusions received in a fall while running to catch a street car.

The articles stolen were a diamond ring valued at $400, which has been recovered, and a watch chain, set with pearls, valued at 300, which is still missing.

In a confession to the police, after she had been subjected to the "third degree" for three hours, Challa admitted that she took the ring, but said she did so by direction of one of the doctors in the hospital.

The doctor's name is given in an affidavit by Detective Myers of the Bronx Detective Bureau, who, with Detective Dillon, made the arrest.

The nurse is a remarkably pretty girl, with black hair and big brown eyes and an innocent, girlish expression. She is from Toronto, Canada, and has been in New York only during the five months she has served as a probationary nurse.

The detectives say they suspected from the first that the little nurse was not alone to blame in the affair and that she was doing her best to shield someone. They plied her with questions and she finally said that the doctor had told her to take the ring and put it away for him.

"I hid it on top of a medicine chest in the emergency ward," she said, and the detectives went back to the hospital and found it in the exact spot she had described.

"The girl told us she would never have taken the ring if the doctor hadn't made her," said Detective Myers. "She said she had a hard time at the hospital, and that if she didn't do everything the doctors said she would lose her place."

THE LID IS ON

Saratoga is Closed up Tight

SARATOGA, Aug. 5.—The lid is on, nailed fast, and will not be pried up again this summer. Last night every club house in the village was dark and the gaming tables had been removed. Not a roulette wheel was turning and every faro dealer is out of work for the season. The village is as quiet as on an October evening.

Early in the day the proprietors received the tip that they should close. District Attorney McKnight, who has been ill for several days, was in the village yesterday, and told the officials of the village that if the reports that have been printed regarding gambling here were true the clubhouses must close. The lid was found in a hurry.

The sudden termination of gambling activities is generally accredited to the announcement of the reported intention of Gov. Hughes to make an investigation into the stories of gambling in Saratoga.

The district attorney would not say last night if he had received a communication from the governor calling his attention to the stories of gambling here. It was said that detectives employed by Gov. Hughes have been in the village for the last day or two.

Monday night after news of District Attorney Elder's interview in New York city had arrived here extra doorkeepers were put at each club house, with the result that entrance was difficult. Yesterday more stringent action was taken and the houses notified to close. The county officials will take no more chances, it is said, and if any proprietor opens again there will be a lot of trouble ahead for him.

The action of the county officials in closing the gambling houses will not affect the betting on the racetrack, it is said. Sheriff Bradley will continue to act under the advice of ex-State Senator Brackett and will permit verbal wagers. He has no intention to resign, he said last night, and any attempt to remove him will be fought.

Should Gov. Hughes make any attempt to have the sheriff removed for permitting betting it is said he would probably find as his legal antagonist ex-Senator Brackett, who, it is reported, would not be averse to fighting out the legality of the removal in the courts.

The closing of the club houses has dampened the spirits of the racegoers and many are leaving for New York. Many more have expressed their intention of going before the week ends.

MR. A. H. BUSWELL.

Dear Sir:—On the twenty-fourth day of January, 1905, I met with an accident and scraped the bone of my leg so bad that it made a running sore. I used different remedies all the time for eight months, but did not get much benefit until I began to use your Blood Remedy, and after using five bottles of the remedy my leg is all healed up and my health is a great deal better than it has been for a long time. I cannot thank you enough for the good your medicine has done me.

MR. A. H. BUSWELL:

Dear Sir:—I feel that it is my duty to write you in regard to your Blood Remedy. I got a trial bottle for a friend of mine, but had little faith in it at the time; but I must say that I have had to change my faith, for it has helped me in more than one way. I was troubled with rheumatism in the back for some time and I took doctors' and several patent remedies, but could not seem to get the right kind for my case until I got your Blood Remedy, which I am pleased to say has fixed my back and also helped my stomach which was in a poor condition; in fact, I feel better in every way, and I must say that I think it is one of the best remedies in U. S. A. I have taken nine bottles, and to compare the price of them with what I have spent for other remedies, I think it is one of the best investments that I ever made.

A. H. BUSWELL.

This is to certify that I have suffered with rheumatism for over fifteen years and at times would be confined to my bed for weeks. I suffered all kinds of tortures, unable to get an hour's sleep in a day. I have tried all kinds of remedies and have doctored with the best doctors and specialists with little or no relief. I was finally induced to take A. H. Buswell's Blood Remedy, and today I can truthfully say that I am comparatively cured. I was completely cured of a stiff leg. I cannot speak too highly of this remedy and recommend it to my friends and the public who are suffering from rheumatism.

Before I began to take your remedy, I felt all run down, appetite poor. After eating a big lump would form in my chest and cause me great pain. Your Blood Remedy being advertised for stomach troubles I thought I would give it a trial. Now my appetite is good. I can eat anything I wish, and that lump has disappeared which caused me so much pain; and I feel so thankful that I thought I would write you this testimony for the benefit of someone else who has stomach troubles.

SWORN CIRCULATION OF THE SUN

15,453

SOME BLESSINGS VOUCHSAFED THE TOILERS.

When we consider the vast patronage of the electric cars, especially on Sunday, and see the toilers going out to Nature's most beautiful retreats, we are led to reflect how different is all this from the conditions that prevailed here some twenty or twenty-five years ago.

Before the coming of the electric cars, the toilers of this city never saw Willow Dale and Lake Masceppie; never saw Nabnassett, Glen Forest, Canobie Lake or any of the other beautiful spots now easily reached by the electric cars.

Where is the mill operative in Lowell today who has not visited all or most of these?

During their leisure hours in those days the mill operatives moped around the city, many of them frequenting barrooms or engaging in some form of gambling, merely for amusement.

They had no opportunity to regale the eye with fine scenery or the mind with sweet music; no opportunity to enjoy the fresh air as it is distilled in the woods and the mountains; but now how different, how much more advanced as a result of the application of electricity to the problems of rapid transit.

At a small expense the multitude can now take a trip to the seashore, to the country, the lakes or the mountains, far from the solitude and sin of the crowded city, far from the monotony that meets the eye during the daily toil and can return at night refreshed, inspired, invigorated and hence the better able to resume the arduous duties of life on the following day.

What a blessing the people thus enjoy in comparison with what were the conditions of a quarter of a century ago.

The general effect of all this is to lessen intemperance, to lessen crime, to make men happier and more content with their lot, for the average man does not complain of hard work if he can enjoy life when his day's work is over.

Anything that gets the toilers out into the country to enjoy the uplifting glories of scenic grandeur, relieves them of the ennui brought on by daily toil and inspires them with a love of the beautiful, an admiration for the glory and the sublimity of the universe and thus turns their minds upward to the divine Providence who has dispensed such countless blessings for the benefit of mankind.

LINCOLN'S ACCEPTANCE.

Those who have read Mr. Taft's long speech of acceptance, should read the following letter of Abraham Lincoln accepting a nomination for the same office. Lincoln said more in the following brief note than did Taft in his two full pages of small type in a newspaper:

Springfield, Ill., May 23, 1860.

Sir: I accept the nomination tendered me by the convention over which you presided, and of which I am formally apprised in the letter of yourself and others, acting as a committee of the convention for that purpose.

The declaration of principles and sentiments which accompanies your letter meets my approval; and it shall be my care not to violate or disregard it in any part.

Imploring the assistance of Divine Providence, and with due regard to the views and feelings of all who were represented in the convention—to the rights of all the states and territories and people of the nation; to the inviolability of the constitution; and the perpetual union, harmony, and prosperity of all—I am most happy to cooperate for the practical success of the principles declared by the convention.

Your obliged friend and fellow-citizen,

A. Lincoln.

The bandits who "shot up" Boston a couple of weeks ago, taught the people of that city a lesson that will make the authorities more cautious about giving suspicious characters an asylum in which they can plan outrages and even commit them with impunity. It was a disgrace to Boston and so will remain until the crimes perpetrated by the bandits shall have been fully atoned.

THE CHOLERA INFANTUM CIRCULAR.

We noticed a slight falling off in the deaths from cholera infantum last week. Possibly the circular sent out by the board of health has had a salutary effect thus early.

The contents of the circular giving plain directions as it does on the care and feeding of young children in hot weather cannot fail to do good, in spreading right ideas on the subject where in many cases nothing but the grossest ignorance prevailed before.

It is a slight blunder in the hot season that will wipe out one of these young lives. Overfeeding, or feeding that does not agree with the child will soon do the business.

The instructions given have to do with feeding the baby, clothing it, bathing it, and providing it with fresh air. If right principles are followed in these matters the child will not so readily succumb to summer diseases such as cholera infantum.

The circular gives some directions also as to the symptoms of cholera infantum and the necessity of calling a doctor as soon as the child's digestive functions have become deranged.

In its wisdom on matters sane and sanitary, would it be within the province of the board of health to consider the location of sanitaries where absolutely needed at one or two points in this city? When it comes to a choice of evils, we presume the board of health, like other bodies, is willing to choose the less.

SEEN AND HEARD

I overheard a policeman say the other day that he could pick a team from among the local cops that would beat Winn's aggregation. What do you know about that?

There aren't nearly as many donkeys wearing the harness in Lowell as there are holding the reins.

A fellow ought not to undertake to punch another unless he has the price in his pocket; either the price to pay the fine in police court or to settle at the hospital for the damage done by the other fellow.

"Peace on earth, good will to man!"
Whatever does it mean
To those whose hardened hearts are set
Against the poor and lean.

What does it mean to these who try
The heart and soul of man?
Philosopher go search thy brain,
And tell me if you can.

Where widows weep and orphans cry,
Where burns the mind of man;
Proud booster of your millions great,
How dare you lay your plan?

"A person," says a correspondent, "can see many strange sights if he only keeps his eyes open, also hear many strange stories. One that caught me was in Henry Carr's poolroom, tobacco, pipe, and shower bath emporium in Gorham street. A young man called there yesterday, emptied out his pockets, and showed hundreds of what looked to me like worthless tags. I was surprised when I saw the genial Henry count the tags and give the young man tobacco enough to last a month. It seemed like getting tobacco for nothing, but it was not so as was afterward explained to me. I was told that these tags had a value, and that he had redeemed and collected over five hundred thousand of them last year, that hundreds of people bring their tobacco tags to his place and get equal to thirty cents per hundred. Henry's latest move is to give boys an opportunity to earn watches and many other useful articles by selling perfumed soaps. Scores of young boys are already engaged in this work.

The fellow who falls and doesn't try again, or, in other words, the fellow who falls down and doesn't try to get up is in a class with the old woman spoken of in simple verse, as follows: "There was an old woman lived under the hill and if she's not dead she's under there still."

Do your duty, and a little more; but fear not any man.

A woman who had a telephone in her apartment called up the telephone company and asked that the service be discontinued. The man who took her message tried to be exceedingly polite. "We are sorry to lose you," he said. "Are you dissatisfied with anything?"

"I am," said the woman, emphatically.

"I am very sorry," said the man. "Perhaps we can help you. What is it you do not like?"

"Single blessedness," said the woman. "I am going to be married tomorrow."

"Ah," said the polite clerk, "you are past our aid. Good-by."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

PAPER BAG OUTPUT.

Springfield Republican: Recent figures show that the retail grocers in the United States consume annually $12,000,000 worth of paper bags—a showing the more remarkable when it is considered that fifty years ago there was not a single paper bag factory in the land. Somebody has to pay, of course, but with modern machine methods the cost of paper bags is not much greater than that of the paper used, and the saving of time and the increase in convenience to the consumer make this development more important to the public at large than many more showy modern improvements.

FOOD, AND THAT TO EAT.

Manchester Union—"The unkindest cut of all" at the Sunday liquor business, particularly from the point of view of the consumer, appears to have been made at Chelsea, Massachusetts. The price of beer has been advanced to ten cents per glass, but that is a mere bagatelle in comparison with another startling innovation which, if generally adopted, seems destined to create a race of Sunday teetotalers or to make the practice of over-eating far more common than it is at present on the first day of the week. The edict has gone forth in Chelsea that food ordered with Sunday drinks must be in quantities commensurate with the amount of liquor purchased; and not only that, but the food must actually be eaten.

SECOND STANDARD OIL TRIAL.

Boston Advertiser:—The retrial of the Standard Oil company of Indiana upon the charge of rebating, in violation of the Elkins act, has proceeded with extraordinary swiftness and dispatch.

Judge Roosevelt then took the bench and considered the action with characteristic speed and directness of decision.

As chief counsel for the federal government, Mr. Roosevelt declared to the court that the United States court of appeals' reversal of the decision of the lower court does not in any shape way touch the merits of the case, excepting so far as the size of the fine.

In delivering the charge to the jury, Mr. Roosevelt declared it would be regarded as a gross miscarriage of justice if through any technicalities of any kind the defendants escaped.

In bringing in the verdict, which followed immediately, Mr. Roosevelt found unanimously that there is absolutely no question of the guilt of the defendants or of the exceptionally grave character of the offence.

Sentence reserved by Judge Roosevelt, but expected, from the arguments of the prosecuting attorney, not to be over five million dollars.

BOTH FEET ON THE PLATFORM.

New York World: The World does not consider the democratic platform perfect. Far from it. But Mr. Bryan will be wise indeed if he carries out his announced purpose of "standing squarely on the platform" and on the platform alone, subordinating everything else to the issues of the campaign as officially defined by the Chicago and Denver conventions.

Mr. Bryan will be wiser still if he sticks to half a dozen vitally democratic planks in preference to the Denver platform as a whole.

1. Jingoism, with its bigger armies, bigger navies, crazy war scares and reckless expenditures—an issue on which the democratic party is sane and sound, as proved by the overwhelming refusal of the Denver convention to tolerate the insensate war shrieks of Hobson.
2. Philippinism.
3. Publicity of campaign funds.
4. Roosevelt extravagance.
5. Tariff reform.
6. Centralization.

These issues represent fundamental democratic principles—historic democracy—things about which democrats who are democrats from principle are substantially agreed.

Let Mr. Bryan stick to them. The closer he sticks to them, the more firmly he plants both feet on these planks of the Denver platform, the more votes he will poll in November.

WHERE'S THE WATERED STOCK?

San Francisco Star: It is to be feared that the Turkish government is without real financial wisdom when it comes to building railroads. It has built 932 miles of the Hedjaz railway at a cost of $15,400,000, which includes the cost of workshops and stone stations. But that is only $16,523.61 a mile for the 932 miles, and some of the money has been spent for the additional mileage now under construction. Any of our common garden variety of railroad financiers could have done the work for $50,000 a mile and got rich in the process. Wall street should open a branch office in Constantinople.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

The socialist labor party received from Martin R. Preston, the Nevada convict, an open letter giving at some length his reasons for declining the nomination of the party as its candidate for president. Preston has also sent copies of his letter to the different S. L. P. organs and to the official organ of the Western Federation of Miners, of which he is a member.

Preston thanks the members of the party for their support at his trial. When he was first nominated, he said, he declined the nomination on his own responsibility. After consulting with his lawyer he was confirmed in his resolution that it would be better not to accept.

In declining he was "looking out for his own neck, in one sense of the word," and had a duty to fulfil to those who have faith in his innocence. Then he says:

"After a thorough consideration, in which I have tried to analyze and give thought to all points, my obligations, the demands made of me and my position, I am convinced that my only proper move is to decline, which I have tried to do as gracefully as possible and with as much consideration for and protection to my benefactors as I may give."

The oldest postmaster in point of service in New York state and in the United States is Milo F. Winchester of South Amenia. Way back in 1848 Mr. Winchester was one of the partisans of "Old Rough and Ready," as Zachary Taylor was nicknamed. He used to sound the slogan:

Clear the track if your toes are tender,
For honest Zash can never surrender.

Mr. Winchester received his appointment, signed by Jacob Collamer, postmaster-general under President Taylor, on July 1, 1849, and he has filled the office during the intervening sixty years without a break.

Although he has white hair, Mr. Winchester is an exceedingly well preserved man. In addition to being postmaster he was justice of the peace at South Amenia for forty-one years.

The Rev. Sidney Herbert Cox, pastor of the Congregational church of the Evangel in Flatbush, New York, was taken suddenly ill in the county court house in Brooklyn while waiting to take out his citizen papers. He has been in ill health for some time and it was only his eagerness to get his naturalization papers that induced him to leave his home yesterday. After receiving medical attention in the lawyers' room he was taken home by two friends.

SOME NEW PLAYS

Ready for Opening of Theatrical Season

"The Girls of Gottenberg," which Charles Frohman will produce for the first time in America with a cast from the London Gaiety company at the Knickerbocker theatre, New York, Aug. 31st, has just been revived at the Apollo theatre, London.

With characteristic Teutonic thoroughness, Gustav von Seyffertitz, stage director of Miss Maude Adams, and remembered last season for his picturesque "Vulcano" in Miss Adams' production of "The Jesters," has enrolled himself for the summer at Cambridge university, England, there to study English and master it in all its intricacies at a very fountain head of English undefiled. Before joining Miss Adams' forces, Mr. von Seyffertitz was stage director at the Burg theatre, Vienna, and later director at the Irving Place theatre, New York.

Miss Ethel Barrymore is still in Paris with her brother Lionel. Her season's tour in W. Somerset Maugham's comedy "Lady Frederick" will open at Albany, Sept. 17th. Every home-coming American who has seen it in London speaks enthusiastically of "Lady Frederick" as nothing short of another "Cousin Kate" for Miss Barrymore, so snugly is the role of the care-free, witty-minded, chivalrous-hearted Irish noblewoman said to suit her. A description of the character would answer very well as a description of Miss Ethel Barrymore in propria persona. Bruce McRae returns to Miss Barrymore's company to resume his place as leading man.

"There are works of knowledge and works of power," says Walter Pater in his Style, borrowing but bettering the thought of another, "in the first of which the plain, unadorned facts are stated, whereas in the second is given the writer's sense of facts." So, too, there are plays of plain fact and plays of the writer's sense of fact, and the first we call melodrama, the second drama. Thus "The Thief" is a play of great power because Bernstein not only states his facts—the extreme lengths to which a woman will go to keep the love of the man she loves—but he makes clear as well the significance of these facts in current life—his sense of the facts.

When Charles Frohman brings to America M. Coquelin and Madam le Bargy in Rostand's newest play, "Chanticlair," extreme interest will be taken in the performances, principally because they will be the farewell American appearances of the great Coquelin, always to be remembered for his wonderful "Scarpia," and his more wonderful "Cyrano." But Madame le Bargy, the resourceful, dazzling le Bargy, as easily capable one evening of a fascinating, playful, naive "Trixie" in "My Wife," as on the next of a worldly, scheming, depraved "Flora" in "The Honor of the Family,"—will amply repay every playgoer's attention.

The only uninterviewed actress of her rank in the world—Miss Maude Adams—has by now quietly slipped out, accompanied only by a maid, unsung, unfeted and even unnoticed, just as she would like to travel always. But before she left London, the interpreter of "Lady Babbie," "Phoebe Throssel" and "Peter Pan," shook hands with him whom she fondly calls her "fairy prince," J. M. Barrie, the creator of these characters. They met for the first time in years and fancy the delight to both of them in this long postponed meeting between the famous writer of famous characters and the famous interpreter of them. Barrie has never seen Miss Adams act "Lady Babbie" nor has he seen anything more than photographs of her "Peter Pan." But he has written that "when Peter Pan took flight from my fancy he flew into the soul of Maude Adams." In the queer looking loft that serves Barrie as a workshop in London hangs the little green jacket that Miss Adams wore when Peter eloped with Wendy, worsted the pirates, and then flew to his home in the tree tops.

Miss Billie Burke, leading lady with John Drew last season in the comedy "My Wife," has arrived from abroad on the Baltic with her mother, after a stay of two months in London. Miss Burke returns to America to begin rehearsals for her first starring tour in a new comedy, "Love Watches," in which she will play a role similar to her delightful "Trixie" in "My Wife." Upon her arrival Miss Burke said: "When I reached London I met Mr. Frohman and said to him, I am going to take a place up the Thames for the summer to study my part in 'Love Watches' during my vacation; I think it is very pretty up the Thames, and it's nice to live so near that toy river, I hope this is agreeable to you; but Mr. Frohman said, 'Yes I think that is very fine indeed, and you will do it, only there will be one slight change; instead of studying your part in 'Love Watches' up the Thames by that toy river, you will get some nice, cool, shady place, but it will be near New York city in America, by the Bronx river, which is more of a toy river, and perhaps you will remember it was there the British fleet over a hundred years ago was instructed to come down and take New York.' So here I am, and I am more excited than I have ever been before. Think of it, I am to begin right here in New York as a star, isn't it wonderful? I am more delighted than I can say to play here again.

William Collier kept his word and delivered the promised manuscript of a new play called "The Patriot" to Charles Frohman lately. At least, it bore, all the outward signs of being a play. It was bound in an easily handled manuscript cover. On the outside was printed "The Patriot, a comedy by William Collier." But inside these very nice leather covers all else was written in Mr. Collier's private hieroglyphics, inscribed, superscribed, and circumscribed with dialogue, stage business, happy thoughts, and diagrams of the scenes. "I am sorry," said Mr. Frohman, after staring fixedly at the manuscript for some time, "but English, German, and enough French to save me from starving in Paris, are the only languages I know. This doesn't look to me like any of these." "Oh, yes it is," replied Mr. Collier, "and I'll prove it by your own stenographer." And he must have succeeded, because "The Patriot" is Mr. Collier's play for the coming season.

SUCH A TROUNCING

Haverhill Clouted Two Lowell Pitchers

There were about 700 fans at Washington park yesterday to witness the game between Lowell and Haverhill. Manager Winn's new outfielder, Whelan, was in the game and got a hit the first inning. Umpire Lanigan, the best little decision maker who ever donned a mask and breast protector, was doing the honors. He called the game at 3.15 o'clock.

FIRST INNING.

Neither side scored in the first inning, the visitors going out in one, two, three order. Courtney hit to Vandergrift and died at first, Poland struck out and Hamilton hit to Vandergrift and failed to reach the initial base.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergrift hit to Boardman and was retired at first and Connors hit along the first base line to Templin and was second out. Whelan sent a grounder to short stop and beat the ball to first, but he got nailed while trying to steal second.

Score—Lowell 0, Haverhill 0.

SECOND INNING.

Hamilton's sluggers didn't do a thing to the home team in the first half of the inning and when the smoke of the battle had cleared away eight men had crossed the plate. Of the eight scored, three were home runs, and of the three runs, two were made inside the grounds. Reilly who was the fourth batter up sent up the ball to the trees in deep left field and Magee could not get it quick enough to stop him from scoring. This was the first home run ever made at the local park where the ball did not go outside the grounds. A little later Courtney sent the ball to almost exactly the same place as did Reilly and another homer resulted. Boardman's homer was over the right field fence.

Boardman started the agony with a single. McInness bunted to Vandergrift who threw the ball to second, but he was rather slow and both men were safe. Templin bunted to Rivard who threw Boardman out at third. Reilly then sent the ball to deep left field for a home run scoring himself. McInness and Templin. Perkins hit to Vandergrift and was out at first. Freil singled. Courtney then sent the ball to deep left for a home run and scored himself and Freil. Poland singled and stole second. Hamilton hit through Beard and Poland scored.

At this point Rivard was taken out of the box and Warner sent in to pitch Boardman was up and the first ball that Warner pitched he sent over the right field fence for a home run scoring Hamilton and himself. McInness singled by Vandergrift. Templin ended the agony. He hit to Wolfe forcing McInness at second.

In Lowell's half Magee filed to Reilly, Howard hit to McInness and was out at first, while Beard hit to Freil and died at first.

Score—Haverhill 8, Lowell 0.

THIRD INNING.

In the third inning Reilly filed to Howard. Perkins filed to Magee and Freil hit to Beard and was out at first.

In Lowell's half Wolfe struck out. Doran hit to Reilly and was out at first and Warner hit to Boardman and died at first.

Score—Haverhill 8, Lowell 0.

FOURTH INNING.

Haverhill added two more in the fourth inning. Courtney opened with a single and stole second. Poland scored him on a single to right field. Hamilton hit to Beard and was out at first, advancing Poland. Boardman singled to right field. McInness filed to Magee and Poland scored on the out out. Templin hit to Wolfe and was out at first.

Vandergrift hit to McInness and was out at first. Connors filed to Courtney. Whelan was third out on strikes.

Score—Haverhill 10, Lowell 0.

FIFTH INNING.

Reilly hit a gounder to Wolfe and the runner got on first owing to Wolfe's error. Perkins bunted to Warner who threw to first getting the batter. Reilly tried to make third on the play and was thrown out. Freil singled, but Courtney hit to Warner and was out at first.

Score, Haverhill 10, Lowell 0:

SIXTH INNING.

Poland hit to Beard and was retired at first. Hamilton filed out to Howard. Boardman drove one over Howard's head that was good for two bases. McInness hit to Wolfe and died at first.

Lowell broke the ice in the latter half of the inning, scoring one run. Doran got hit by a pitched ball and walked to first. Warner hit to Freil forcing Doran at second. Vandergrift then drew a base on balls and Connors hit to Templin who fumbled and the bases were filed. Whelan hit to McInness who threw to Reilly to get Connors, but Reilly dropped the ball and Warner scored. Magee hit to McInness who threw to second getting Whelan and the ball was sent to first for a double play.

Score: Haverhill 10, Lowell 1.

SEVENTH INNING.

Templin opened the seventh with a single to centre field and he went to second on Reilly's sacrifice. Perkins hit one which nearly knocked Warner over and reached first while Templin scored. Freil hit to Connors and was out. Courtney knocked out a two bagger scoring Perkins. Poland singled to left field but Freil was nailed at the plate while trying to score.

Howard singed to the right field fence. Beard singled to left centre field and Lemieux, who was running for Howard tried to make third and was nailed while Beard in trying to make second met with a similar fate. Wolfe filed to Hamilton.

Score—Haverhill 12, Lowell 1.

EIGHTH INNING.

Hamilton hit to Beard and went out at first and Boardman hit to Wolfe and failed to reach first. McInness got a single. Templin filed to Magee. Doran drew a base on balls. Warner struck out. Vandergrift filed out to Hamilton. Connors hit to Boardman who threw bad to second to get Greenwell who was running for Doran. Whelan got a single filling the bases. Magee got a single to centre field scoring Greenwell and Connors. Howard hit to Freil and was out at first.

Score—Haverhill 12, Lowell 3.

NINTH INNING.

Reilly struck out. Perkins did likewise. Freil got a single to left field. Courtney hit to Wolfe forcing Freil at second.

Beard hit to McInness and was out at first. Wolfe hit to McInness and was out at first. Doran got a base on balls. Warner struck out.

DIAMOND NOTES

Lynn today, weather permitting.

Three home runs in one inning, and two of them inside the grounds, was going some.

Warner ought to try a diet of that famous product of Jamaica—not rum, but ginger.

Lowell has only two pitchers who can be depended on to finish a game. Greenwell and Duval, and until the number is increased to four it is useless to expect to win. The team has been batting and fielding well but the pitchers have gone bad.

Freil pitched a fine game for Haverhill. He belongs to the Boston Americans, and is loaned to Haverhill. Whenever good players are being farmed out, all the other teams except Lowell get in.

Nobody thinks of kicking when Lanigan is officiating.

"Cut that, or I'll O-o-o-h you," quickly responded Lanigan, and Hamilton hid behind a tree.

"Mr. Lanigan, have you a picture of yourself that I could run in the paper?" asked a reporter of the little umpire, before the game.

Lanigan turned on him a smile, and Lanigan's smile is like Belinda's, for when Lanigan smiles all the world seems gay, and said: "Ah, now, stop your kiddin'."

Lawrence is back again in first place and the race with Worcester is decidedly interesting.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The postponed rival game between the Mathews and the St Patrick's Sanctuary choir team will take place next Saturday afternoon at Washington park, weather permitting.

The postponement of this game a week ago last Saturday did not tend to put a damper on the enthusiasm displayed by the followers of each team, but helped to strengthen it so that now the feeling between the supporters is at blood heat.

There will be no changes in the lineups next Saturday. The same lineups that would have played a week ago Saturday, had the game taken place, will be presented on next Saturday.

When you take into consideration the rivalry, and the expense that the managers have taken upon their shoulders, the game is bound to be the best fought of any that has taken place in this city so far this season.

Both teams next Saturday will be composed of the best material that constitutes the semi-professial baseball ranks of the city.

As previously stated, "Hughie" Thomas will make the decisions and he will have ground privileges, that is he can order a player of either team off the grounds in case he has reasons for doing so, and if the player does not leave the grounds he will be shown the exit by the "strong arm of the law."

The Belvidere Juniors of this city would like to arrange a game for Saturday, Aug. 8, with any team under 16 years of age. Send challenges through this paper.

The Emerald baseball team will play the Warrenville team Saturday afternoon.

The Crimson baseball club would like to arrange a game with any strong amateur team in or outside of this city for August 8. Send all challenges to Manager J. McGarr, Centralville sub post office, Lowell. Average 19 years.

The Red Sox have an open date for Aug. 15, and would like to challenge any strong team under 15 years of age. Send all challenges to John Hayden, 137 Gorham street, city.

UNHOLZ BEATEN

Dick Hyland Was an Easy Winner

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Dick Hyland, of California, out-pointed Rudolph Unholz, the Boer champion, in their six round fight at the Navarre A. C., in Elmer park last night. Hyland outfought his opponent in every round and in the last round dropped Unholz to the floor with a right hook to the jaw. The Boer managed to arise, but Hyland beat him all over the ring and at the end Unholz was almost out.

WORLD'S RECORD

New Mark Set for 100 Yards

ABERGAVENNY, Eng., Aug. 5.—R. E. Walker, the South African sprinter who won the final of the 100-meter dash at the recent Olympic games, yesterday broke the world's record for 100 yards, his time being 9 2-5 seconds, 1-5 of a second less than the record made by Dan J. Kelly at Spokane, Wash., June 23, 1906.

MARATHON RACE

Fairly Won by Hayes Says Longboat

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—"The Marathon was a grand race truly run and truly won. Hayes won the race fairly and squarely, and in doing so gave one of the finest exhibition of running that I have ever witnessed." So said Tom Longboat, the Indian Marathon runner of Toronto, one of the men whom John J. Hayes of the Irish-American A. C. defeated in the Marathon race at the olympic games in London last month. Longboat returned here from England on the Kronprinz Wilhelm yesterday. Longboat dropped out of the Marathon race after running 20 miles.

"Hayes ran a truly remarkable race," he said yesterday. "He was going smoothly when he passed me just before I was forced to quit. I don't know what hurt me, unless it was the sunlight and the pounding that my feet received over the hard pavements.

"The Indian, Dorando, deserves a lot of credit for the gameness he showed, but Hayes' work in overcoming a handicap of nearly two miles in less than seven was a wonderful performance and worthy of the greatest praise."

When the athletes return they will be accorded a royal reception. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt has been chosen to head the committee of citizens who will receive the victorious team. The date set for the demonstration is Aug. 29, as all of the athletes will be in the city by that time. There will be a parade and speech-making, a theatre party and other features.

TRACK WAS FAST

Events Were Decided in Straight Heats

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 5.—The second day of Kalamazoo's first grand circuit meeting was favored with a fast track, but a stiff breeze was blowing from the southeast and a shower in the late afternoon marred the day somewhat. The rain was not heavy enough, however, to make any material change in the track conditions. All of the events of the day's program were decided in straight heats. The 2.07 trot saw the horses finishing in the same order in each heat, but in the 2.10 pace and 2.13 trot there was more of a contest for second and third places. Major Brino was second in the first two heats of the pace, but dropped back to fourth in the last heat, while Leslie Waterman and William C., finished second and third respectively.

Fred D., got third in the first heat of the pace and Dr. Fox got third place in the second heat.

In the 2.13 trot, Carlokin and Teasel took second and third respectively in the first and third heats, but in the second heat, Carlokin dropped back to sixth, allowing Teasel and Alice Edgar to take second and third.

Results:

2.07 TROT, PURSE $1500.

Wilkes Heart won 3 straight heats, Daniel, second; Watson, third. Early Alice started. Best time 2.05¼.

2.10 PACE, PURSE $1000.

Major Brino won 3 straight heats; Charley Hal, second; Leslie Waterman third. Best time 2.07.

2.13 TROT, PURSE $800.

Dewitt won 3 straight heats; Carlokin second; Teasel third. Best time 2.09¼.

N. J. CARTMELL

WON 100 YARDS AND 220 YARDS SPRINTS.

STOKE-UPON-TRENT, Eng., Aug. 5.—In the athletic games here yesterday, N. J. Cartmell, University of Pennsylvania, won the 100 yards and 220 yards scratch races respectively in 10 1-5 seconds and 22 4-5 seconds.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

The members of the Toledo Automobile club have shown their interest in good roads in a practical manner by appropriating money with which to pay for sprinkling a one mile section of the Maumee belt road with crude oil. If the experiment proves successful it is likely that the sprinkling will be continued over the road to Maumee and Perrysburg, at an estimated cost of $1500. The club officials had all of the ruts and bad places fixed before the road was sprinkled. The organization is making preparations to erect a number of direction and danger signs on the roads in the vicinity of the northern Ohio city.

Col. W. C. Hayes is pushing a project for the improvement of the old Harrison military trail from Columbus to the shores of Lake Erie, the plan being to construct a fine modern highway along the route. He advocates that the income from the sale of the state automobile licenses should be utilized in the maintenance of good roads and that its first use should be in perpetuation of this historic trail. He estimates that the funds so received would more than equip the road. The state has purchased more than 500 acres of land on the lake west of Fort Clinton, at the end of the Harrison trail, for a rifle range and with the appropriation of the federal government more than half a million dollars will soon be expended in improving the site. The Hayes plan is to construct a road from the capital over the trail to the point on the lake made historic by Gen. Harrison in 1813. The road would pass through the country seat towns of Delaware, Marion, Upper Sandusky, Tiffin, Fremont and Port Clinton. The plan is meeting with the approval of the state authorities and the good roads societies, and it seems probable that the work will soon be in progress.

Experienced drivers generally make it a point to carry a small extra pan of gasoline with them so as to have some fuel in case the regular supply becomes exhausted sooner than was expected. It is always a good plan to change the spare tin for a new one every month or so in case the spare one should happen to be a slightly leaky tin. A most convenient way to carry it is in a box specially made for the purpose under the footboards in the back seats. If it does not fill the box tightly it should be packed firmly with some rags or cotton waste so that it cannot move about in the box. Another good plan for carrying it if the car has a very high back seat is to have a box made for it in the form of a footstool. On small two seated cars there is no need to carry a two gallon can. In fact there is not often room for it, and the steps are not wide enough to take it comfortably. One careful owner of a small two seater has adopted the excellent plan of fitting a box upon the right hand step which is just large enough to take a special one gallon can which he has had made for him. This can is really a tank, as it is made of sheet steel, and is an altogether better thing than the ordinary gasoline tin. In the comparatively small running tank of a two seated car a gallon is at least equal to two in the tank of a larger car, and is therefore quite enough to carry as a standby.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

At the meeting last night of Garfield Colony, United Order of Pilgrim Fathers, an invitation was accepted to attend the memorial exercises of Bay State Colony on Wednesday evening, August 26. There was one application for membership.

Notwithstanding the fact that many of the members are in Boston attending the supreme lodge convention the regular meeting last night of Samuel H. Hines lodge No. 56 Knights of Pythias was well attended. One of the most interesting features of the meeting was an account of the parade of the uniform rank in Boston yesterday by Past Chancellor H. V. Kittredge. Past Chancellor Kittredge acted as an aid to Marshal Forbes of the fourth division in the subordinate lodge parade today.

Interesting remarks were made by Past Chancellor Trask of Wamesit lodge, No. 25, and Past Chancellor Jay Boise. Much interest was evinced in the outing to be held at Mountain Rock August 29.

LAWYER WANDELL

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The will of Townsend Wandell, a lawyer of this city, who was killed by a train at Bologna, Italy, was filed for probate yesterday. Josephine Wandell and Francis Livingston Wandell, sister and brother of the testator, are named as executors. The will disposes of an estate estimated conservatively at $60,000, the bulk of which goes to the brother and two sisters of the testator.

The specific bequests include $50 each to St. Christopher's Home at Dobbs Ferry, the Methodist Episcopal Church Home, the Five Points Mission and the Methodist Episcopal Church Hospital. He also left $250 each to the New York Free Kindergarten School and the Charity Organization Society and $50 each to the S. P. C. A. and the Home for the Friendless.

Mr. Wandell directed that all moneys loaned by him to the estate of his brother, Benjamin Coe Wandell, should be wiped off by the executors, and so should the bonds for $9,000 each given by Josephine and Caroline, the sisters of the testator, to secure advances. Mr. Wandell directed also the cancellation of any loans to the Rev. George Mooney and the Misses Eva M. Davidson, Helen M. Bell and Adeline V. Sutton.

To the Holland Society of New York the will leaves $500 to be spent on the erection of a statue of "William the Silent" in this city. The St. Nicholas Society receives $100 for a memorial to Washington Irving, and $100 each is left to the Sons of the Revolution, the Associate Alumni of the College of the City of New York, the Dwight Alumni Association, to establish an annual prize for the student of the New York Law School most proficient in real estate law and to the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society.

Martha W. Sulwell, a sister of the testator is to receive $25,000 if the notes and books kept by Mr. Wandell are approved by her. "If not so accepted by her," reads the will, "or if she shall in any way bring these accounts into court, or contest the will, or interpose any objection to its probate as may obstruct the executors in carrying the provisions into effect all legacies and bequests in her favor are revoked and the claims for money advanced for the erection of the Vendel building are to be enforced and all gifts intended for her to become part of the residuary estate."

The personal property of the testator is to go in equal shares to the brother, Francis, and the sister, Josephine. Of the real estate and all residue he left three-fifths to Josephine and directed the executors to hold the other two-fifths in trust for Francis until Francis is either divorced or his wife is dead. While his wife shall live and not be divorced Francis is to receive only the income of the trust fund, and none of it is to be considered as liable to execution on account of any debts which the wife may contract.

"My brother is not now in debt," reads the will, "nor is he likely to be involved in any financial difficulty, but I make these provisions chiefly for his protection against his wife. If he survive his present wife or become absolutely divorced from her then he may receive the capital of the trust created."

"It is especially my will," wrote the testator, "that none of my estate shall in any event go to my brother's said wife, or benefit her in any way in her own right, or through her daughter, and if any provision shall be construed to have that effect the gift thereby shall be held to pass to my sister Josephine instead."

"Should Francis die before coming into the capital of the trust fund it is to go to Josephine, and not to the wife or children of Francis, because of their conduct and attitude toward my brother and myself."

The will was executed on May 9, 1905.

HE WILL RECOVER

Bernard Doherty's Condition More Hopeful

It was stated at St. John's hospital this morning that Bernard Doherty, who was found lying near the railroad tracks in Western avenue early Tuesday morning had shown signs of improvement during the past twenty-four hours, and that his recovery is expected. An examination yesterday disclosed the fact that Doherty's spine had been severely injured.

MONSTER PARADE

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—The principal event of the Knights of Pythias today was the great parade of the subordinate lodges and Pythian Sisters and while not such a military spectacle as was presented by the uniform rank in their parade yesterday the numerous floats and other features were expected to lend color to today's pageant and make it more interesting to the general public. Lieut. George E. Wragg, chief marshal of the parade announced that about 18,000 people would be in line, formed in ten divisions.

Up to fifteen minutes of the starting hour of the parade this morning Boston was expecting a severe thunder shower. It was dark and dismal and the rain was pouring down in torrents. A few minutes before ten o'clock, however, the rain stopped, the clouds began to break away and when the bells in the church steeples chimed forth the hour of ten o'clock the sun shone down upon the some 15,000 Pythians and Pythian Sisters who were gathered together at the corner of Beacon and Arlington streets, the starting point of the parade.

A word from Chief Marshal George E. Wragg of Mystic lodge, Chelsea, Mass., and the big assemblage of knights from all Pythian lodges from all over the United States and Canada slowly began to move. Bands began to play lively march music and the people of Greater Boston were again given a chance to witness a spectacular event in the history of the old city.

A variety of especial interest was lent to today's parade by the appearance of 25 emblematic floats and other features. Many of the floats were elaborately constructed and represented historic as well as Pythian ideas. Besides the floats and marching lodgemen there were decorated tally horses, big drags, large automobile carriages and other means of conveyance.

The contest for offices in the supreme lodge was expected to be settled today. Henry P. Brown of Texas is a strong favorite for supreme chancellor, succeeding Charles A. Barnes of Jacksonville, Fl. who will retire.

Maine and Massachusetts have each a candidate in the field for the vice chancellorship and a sharp contest was predicted between George M. Hanson of Maine and D. Sidney Woodworth of this state.

The members of the uniform rank encamped on Franklin field had little to do but enjoy themselves today after their busy day yesterday. Prize drill competitions at the camp were scheduled for the afternoon to provide the only work of the day.

Valuable prizes have been offered for the drills and there was a large entry list.

A band concert in the afternoon and a vaudeville entertainment this evening were arranged to afford entertainment for the knights.

Of the receptions and social gatherings of the week in connection with the Pythian convention the most important was the reception to all the members of the order, including the Pythian Sisters by the supreme lodge on the program for tonight. A large detachment of the uniform rank were expected to be present.

This morning's parade was witnessed by even a larger crowd of people than came to Boston yesterday to see the uniform rank of the Order of Knights of Pythias march.

Chief Marshal Wragg and his staff was escorted by Boston lodge number 3 who were in full dress. Officers of the grand lodge followed in carriages. Then the officers of the grand lodge of Pythian Sisters, all clad in white dresses, were in line.

A feature of the parade was the float of the Scandia lodge number 6 of this city which represented a Viking ship of old. A float by Solomon lodge of Boston representing King Solomon and his three wise-men also attracted considerable attention. All along the line the Pythian colors, red blue and orange, blended with the red, white bule, predominated. The marching order today rivalled the evolutions performed by the Sir Knights during yesterday's pageant.

There were six divisions. Most of the marchers were from the New England states. A prize for the best appearing lodge was awarded by Lieut. Gov. Eben S. Draper, Mayor Hibbard of Boston and others at the reviewing stand on Boston common.

Those on Chief Marshal Wragg's staff were:

Past Commanders J. E. Sims, chief of staff; R. L. Wood, mayor of Haverhill, Mass, T. M. Porter, mayor of Lynn; J. N. Hurley, mayor of Salem; Senator Frank Sieberlich; John Beck; S. H. Thurber and others.

FOOTBALL RULES

Few Changes Were Made This Year

With very few changes, the football rules for the coming year, as set forth by the American Intercollegiate rules committee, have just appeared in print.

In its new form the game will appear little different from that witnessed last season and the modifications will affect the players very little. Possibly the changes will have a tendency to eliminate roughness a little, particularly in open plays.

One of the strongest points advocated by the committee is the use of four officials in all games.

Rules 24 and 25 have been made to read "Loss of 15 yards, point to be gained and number of down to remain unchanged."

It has also been determined that all penalties for fouls except penalties under forward pass may be declined by the offended side. For disqualification, however, the player must be removed from the game. The field judge is made time-keeper and he is also given jurisdiction over the penalty for batting the ball forward, which penalty means no loss of ball to offended side. The score in forfeited games hereafter will be 1 to 0 to distinguish it from other possible scores.

The forward pass has also come in for a few changes. First, when the forward pass is legally touched, only the man of the passer's side who thus first legally touched it shall be entitled to recover the ball until it has been touched by an opponent. Secondly, if a forward pass is thus legally touched, fumbled and touched again by another player of the passer's side before the ball has touched an opponent, the ball shall go to the opponents on the side where it was first legally touched.

With the ball in the air in a forward pass players of the defensive side may not use their arms or hands on opponents except to get them out of the way in order ot get at the ball themselves. Players of the side making the pass who are eligible to receive the pass may use the hands and arms, as in the case of players going down the field under a kick.

Neither side, however, may hold or tackle a player who has not the ball.

Finally, in case a forward pass is illegally touched outside of these provisions named the penalty shall be that the ball shall go to the opponents on the spot where the pass was made.

Time must be taken out during enforcement of penalty for incompleted forward pass. The 10 minutes intermission between halves has been increased to 15. If the ball accidentally strikes an official, play begins over again. If the ball on a forward pass or a kicked ball, except a try at goal, strikes the uprights or crossbars, it shall be considered as having crossed the goal line.

The other alterations are practically only changes in the wording.

GOING TO REVERE

SOME OF BIGELOW CO.'S EMPLOYES TO HAVE OUTING.

There'll be nothing doing in the threading and warping departments of the Bigelow carpet mills in this city next Saturday because the threaders and warpers are all going to Revere beach and ex-Alderman James H. Walker, the boss of these two departments, will probably go along, too. This outing is somewhat of an annual affair and is always looked forward to with happy anticipation. The difference in the mill atmosphere and that of Revere beach is too great not to be appreciated.

SULTAN OF TURKEY

Was Stabbed by Minor Official of the Palace

LONDON, Aug. 5.—A special despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Geneva says:

"The sultan of Turkey was stabbed in the breast on Monday night by a minor palace official. The coat of mail which the sultan always wears deflected the blow. The would-be assassin was arrested. Apparently he had been bribed to commit the act as he had a large sum of gold in his pockets and his baggage was packed ready for flight."

BOARD OF POLICE

Tells How Police Officers Should Conduct Themselves

The annual report of the board of police neatly bound with a flexible card board cover made its appearance this morning, and while it contains much information of a general nature that is interesting is by no means a bulky volume.

Referring to the management of the police department the report says:

The present board has realized the necessity of working with the superintendent in every important move and, in conjunction with him, it has striven towards one aim, the attainment of a more perfect discipline in the police force. With this idea in mind it has held conferences with him once a week or oftener during its entire term of administration. It has adopted his suggestions regarding the transferring of officers and patrolmen,

BARNS DESTROYED

Electrical Storm Played Great Pranks in Connecticut

PUTNAM, Conn., Aug. 5.—An electrical storm which for spectacular accompaniments has not been equalled in many years, passed over Northeastern Connecticut today. The lightning flashes for three hours were weird, vivid and incessant and in Windham county it is estimated that bolts set fire to and destroyed fully twenty barns with contents. Many cattle were killed. The torrential rain bore down crops, crippled wire service and made highways impassable. At Jewett City the Lester homestead, 125 years old, owned by Mrs. Andrew Lester of New York city, was burned, the loss being $5000. The chief places at which there were fire losses were Columbia, Lebanon, the Windahms and Cards mills.

STRUCK BY BOLTS

Lightning Caused Damage in Newport and Vicinity

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 5.—For more than an hour today, Newport, Jamestown, Middleton and Portsmouth formed the center of the most severe electrical storm that has visited this vicinity in many years. From three to four o'clock this morning the lightning was incessant and bolt after bolt struck.

In this city the flagpole on the Rogers high school was ripped to pieces by lightning and a portion of the roof of the building was damaged. On Weaver avenue a bay window was almost torn from the house by a bolt. In Middleton the home of J. T. Barker was struck, the bolt entering the house near the chimney and passing through the cellar. Telephone, telegraph and electric light services were seriously hampered by the storm. As the steamer Priscilla of the Fall River line was passing by Beavertail on her trip from New York her wireless apparatus was struck and rendered useless. Few passengers were aware of the trouble, however, except those who were unable to sleep on account of the storm.

Some of the roadbeds of this city were washed out but the heavy downpour of rain saved crops and flowers from burning up.

LOWELL'S TAX RATE

For 1908 Announced by Assessors to be $20.40

One Dollar Advance Over Last Year's Rate and the Highest in History of the City, Except in 1903 When the Rate Was the Same

Lowell's tax rate per $1000 for 1908 is $20.40, an increase of one dollar over last year.

The tax rate for the current year was announced by the assessors at a few minutes before the noon hour today.

The new tax rate has never been exceeded in the history of the city and only once was it equaled and that was in 1903. But even at that it is not as high as the assessors anticipated. They were of the opinion that it would reach the $20.50 mark, though weeks ago Chief Clerk Reardon gave as his opinion that the increase would be about $1.

The increased tax rate is almost wholly due to increased appropriations a large state tax. The total gain for personal and real estate for 1908 is $970,053.64. The total personal property for 1908 was $15,827,691.65 and for 1907, $15,763,128.21. Total value of real estate for 1908 was $60,588,100 and for 1907, $59,682,610.

The total valuation of personal and real estate for 1908 was $76,415,791, and for 1907, $75, 445, 738.21. The gain in new buildings for 1908 was not as great as for 1907.

The tax rate for the past 20 years has been as follows:

1888	$15.70	1898	$18.00
1889	16.10	1899	15.60
1890	17.00	1900	18.80
1891	15.60	1901	18.00
1892	16.80	1902	19.60
1893	16.40	1903	20.40
1894	17.40	1904	20.00
1895	18.00	1905	20.20
1896	15.00	1906	19.80
1897	17.40	1907	19.40

On Firemen's Muster Day August 20

Owing to the magnitude of the coming firemen's muster and the subsequent fact that hundreds of mill operatives will remain away from work on that day to witness the sport, it has been suggested to the committee in charge of the muster that it request the mills that otherwise would be running on Aug. 20th to close in order that the operatives may be permitted to enjoy the great event.

The merchants will close their stores at noon as the date falls on Thursday, while during the morning the store clerks will have an opportunity to witness the parade which will be denied those who work in the mills. Owing to the uncertainty of business in the mills it is doubtful if the mill agents will look with favor on the proposition to close on Aug. 20th but if they do run they will undoubtedly run with short help.

The fact that several hundred dollars are being given away in "live rubber" prizes has aroused great enthusiasm among the fire companies throughout New England, and not only guarantees a large entry list but also assures a tremendous crowd. The N. E. league fixes the amounts of the league prizes by rule, but in this case Humphrey O'Sullivan has offered a large number of extra cash prizes that gives every company a chance to get something.

BUILDINGS BURNED

Lightning Caused a Fire at New Boston, N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 5.—The farm buildings of Charles W. Tucker at New Boston were totally destroyed by fire caused by lightning during a heavy thunderstorm this morning. Six cows, two horses, a lot of poultry and three pigs perished in the flames. The buildings were a house, ell and barn. Loss $7000, insured.

Fire caused by lightning damaged the roof and upper story of the house of J. Benton Osborne at South Weare at 8:30 o'clock this morning to the extent of $500, insured.

THAW IS SUED

By Doctor Who Served as Expert Witness

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Harry Thaw today was taken from his quarters in the Dutchess county jail to Fishkill to appear before a referee as a defendant in a suit brought against him by Dr. John P. Wilson, who asks $500 for services as an expert witness in the late habeas corpus proceedings. Thaw disputes the amount of the bill but is willing to pay about $200. On his way to Fishkill Thaw was accompanied by an undersheriff, a deputy sheriff and his counsel, Charles Morschauser.

Thaw appeared to be in good spirits.

DECLARED A DIVIDEND.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The American Smelting and Refining Co. today declared a quarterly dividend of 1 1-2 per cent on preferred "A" stock and 1 1-4 per cent on preferred "B" stock. These dividends are unchanged from the last previous quarter.

NATIVE PEACHES

First of Season Picked in Tyngsboro

Native peaches are few enough to be worthy of mention for seldom does a Massachusetts peach orchard produce more than a baker's dozen. But Walter Farwell, of Tyngsboro, has a little peach orchard that is an exception to the general rule and this morning he picked two ripe peaches from one of the trees on his farm in that town, perhaps the first native peaches to become ripe this season. Mr. Farwell's peach trees yield him about 10 bushels annually.

FATHER'S PLEA

Does Not Want State to Take Children

"Please do not turn my children over to the care of the state. I may never see them again," pleaded a man whose three children are now at the city farm.

The man was pleading with Mayor Farnham. He said he had looked in vain for work and he told the mayor that he understood his children were to be turned over to the state, that Supt. Courtney of the farm had decided that that was the best way to dispose of them. The father of the children said that he had made an earnest search for work, but there are others who say that if he ever went looking for work he was praying all the time that he wouldn't find it."

CARD OF THANKS.

The undersigned wish to extend thanks to the many relatives and friends who so kindly lent their assistance in our hour of trouble and bereavement, and for the beautiful floral offerings.

BURNS ARRESTED

Is Charged With Larceny of Cigars

Timothy F. Burns, a painter by trade, residing in Cambridge, was locked up at the police station this afternoon by Constable Ephraim Livingston of Billerica on a warrant charging him with larceny. It is alleged that he stole a box of Quincy cigars from a team of Simpson & Rowland in Billerica Centre yesterday afternoon.

PURE FICTION

Walker Has Not Told Where Loot is

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Aug. 5.—Officials of the savings bank of New Britain from which William F. Walker stole half a million dollars' worth of securities today decided that the report that the former treasurer had suggested through counsel that he would like to compromise by telling where a part of the loot is, is pure fiction. They say that Walker has not given one particle of information as to the manner of his loss of the securities or the present whereabouts of the bonds. Treasurer Stanley of the bank who is away on a vacation announced before leaving that President Corbin, who stepped into the breach during the trying days immediately following the disappearance of Walker, has declared repeatedly that he will not compromise with Walker. The bank officials say that they have had nothing to do with Walker since his return home. It is not known that Walker had counsel. Judge Coats of the common pleas court he did not intervene as counsel and no lawyer appeared for the prisoner.

GONE FISHING

MAYOR'S SECRETARY IS ENJOYING A VACATION.

Col. Edwards Cheney, Mayor Farnham's private secretary, has gone a-fishing and, like all good fishermen, he did not tell where he was going. Edwards is a wise old owl, and the chances are that he will go to New Hampshire and catch more in a frog pond than Joe Patten or Billy Delmage could find in Squash lake, where Joe says the pickerel are so large that every time one is taken out the water in the lake drops several inches.

EXTRA

ZEPPELIN'S AIRSHIP

Struck by Lightning and Burst Into Flames

STUTTGART, Aug. 5.—It now appears that Count Zeppelin's airship exploded during a thunder storm at three o'clock this afternoon. Previous to expleding it burst into flames. It is supposed to have been struck by lightning. The latest report from Echterdingen says it is completely ruined.

The storm came unexpectedly. A fierce gust of wind tore the balloon from its anchorage and drove it southwest for some fifty yards. Here the rear end of the great fabric dropped and smoke and flames burst out from end to end. Then in a few seconds came the explosion and a great column of flame shot into the air. This was followed by the crashing down to the earth of the motors and frames that had been attached to the underside of the airship. Several bystanders were knocked down.

Count Zeppelin has devoted his lifetime to the development of his airships. The vessel that was lost today was the fourth he has constructed. When his own money had become exhausted the German reichstag voted him $125,000 to conduct further experiments and number four was the result. The German government agreed to purchase this ship should it fulfil certain requirements, the principal one being that it remain in the air twenty-four hours and land on terra firma. This stipulation was not fulfilled.

The airship was 443 feet long and about 45 feet in diameter. It tapered to a blunt point at the bow while at the stern were rudders and frames used in steering. It was fitted underneath with two independent platforms each carrying a motor capable of developing 140 horsepower. Sixteen passengers had been taken aloft at one time. The inflating gas was distributed among sixteen separate interior compartments which were contained within the outer rigid envelope of aluminum.

CHURCHES DAMAGED

Four in Rhode Island Struck by Lightning

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 5.—Four churches were struck by lightning during the storm which visited Rhode Island early today. In one instance at least the property is a total loss. This was at Usquepaugh where the Queens river Baptist church was levelled to the ground with a loss of about $5000 upon which there is no insurance. This church was organized in 1819. At Arctic in the Pawtucket valley St. James' Catholic church was damaged to the extent of $1000 and at Quidnick the Polish church was also struck but escaped with slight loss.

It is stated that the Mapleroot Baptist church, several miles west of the valley was also struck and badly damaged.

At Narragansett Pier the station of the Seaview railroad was damaged to the extent of $500 while hay ricks were burned and other small damage was done in the southern part of the state.

RALPH F. BRAZER

Lost Property in Fire at Bank Village, N. H.

The terrific lightning and thunder storm that seemed to be general throughout this section of the state and the greater part of New Hampshire made itself felt at Bank Village, N. H., where is located the family of Ralph F. Brazer of this city.

Bank Village is a small manufacturing place and is situated not many miles from Greenville, N. H. The storm in that section was at its worst about 5 o'clock this morning when a barn near the cottage occupied by the Brazer family was struck by lightning.

The barn, like the cottage, was rented by Mr. Brazer and a pet pony was stabled there. The pony perished in the fire as did other property belonging to Mr. Brazer and several tons of hay belonging to the owner of the place, S. W. Ely, formerly of Lawrence.

The fire found its way to the cottage but was extinguished before it had accomplished anything very material in the line of damage. The barn, quite a large one, was in ashes in less than an hour after the fire started.

SEVERE STORM IN WESTFORD ST.

Did Heavy Damage in Haverhill

HAVERHILL, Aug. 5.—This city early this morning was visited by the heaviest downpour of rain recorded at city hall in eight years. From 2:30 a. m. to 2:35 the rain fell at the rate of six inches per hour. Streets were washed out and the electric wires. The steeple of St. Joseph's French Catholic church was struck and several dwellings sustained damage from the lightning.

MEN QUIT WORK

Strike on Canadain Pacific Road is in Force

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 5.—The biggest labor dispute which the industrial history of Canada has known culminated today in the form of a general strike when employes of mechanical departments of the Canadian Pacific railroad from the Atlantic to the Pacific, some eight thousand in number, laid down their tools and quit work because the decision of the conciliation board which was appointed under the Lemieux act of the Canadian parliament was not in accord with what they wanted.

Not merely in the number of men involved is the magnitude of the walk-out indicated but in the fact that it involves greater financial interests and covers more territory than any strike which has heretofore been recorded in railroad circles.

The local end of the event is represented by the cessation from work of some one thousand men who were employed in the Winnipeg shops.

The total number of men on the western lines is 3500. The total number on the eastern lines is 4500.

200 STOPPED WORK.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 5.—Upwards of 200 men employed in the car shops of the Atlantic division of the Canadian Pacific railroad put on their coats and quit work at ten o'clock today. There was no excitement and the closing down of the shops resembled an early dinner hour.

At McAdam Junction, the divisional point at which the principal shops are situated, 100 men struck. The men at the Bay Shore round house and yards and other gangs employed at points beyond McAdam also went out.

100 MEN OUT.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 5.—In response to the strike call over 100 mechanics of the C. P. R. struck here this morning.

NO DEMONSTRATION.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 5.—Without any demonstration eight hundred employes of the Canadian Pacific shops here walked out this morning, the signal to lay down tools being the blowing of the shop's whistle.

A large number of draymen carried away boxes of tools, the men evidently believing that the strike would be prolonged. One hundred men, mostly firemen and apprentices, remained in the shops.

Second Vice President White who has been to Skagway will be at Vancouver today. The management of the company's side of the strike is now in the hands of Gen. Manager Burry who claims he can pull out successfully. Eighty men went out at Kenora, 40 at Ignac, 60 at Moosejaw and 40 at Calgary. Four hundred men went out of the Canadian Pacific shops in British Columbia at 10 o'clock this morning, seventy-five in Vancouver and others went out at Laggan, Revelstoke, Nelson and Cranbrook. All of the men are shop hands such as machinists, boilermakers and the allied trades.

REPORT DENIED

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Reports were circulated in the financial district today that James McCrea, president of the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., is to retire from that position within a short time and that he will be succeeded by Samuel Rea, now vice president of the company. No official statement of the subject was available but the rumor was widely prevalent and occasioned much comment.

The Evening World has the following on the subject:

"The trouble in the Pennsylvania has apparently been brewing for a long while. It came to a head a week ago at a meeting of the board of directors when President McCrea is said to have been taken sharply to account for making a freight contract with the New York Central by which the Pennsylvania is claimed to be losing at the rate of a million and a half a year.

"It is also said that Mr. McCrea in the term of his presidency has failed to show the borrowing abilities of his predecessor, the late A. H. Cassat, who had a marvellous knack for putting his hand on money whenever it might be required."

Mr. McCrea was elected president of the Pennsylvania system in 1907. He started in the company's service as a surveyor's rodman and worked his way up step by step to the presidency.

CALLED RIDICULOUS.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—At the office of the Pennsylvania road the report of President McCrea's resignation was declared to be ridiculous. Any changes would necessarily come before the board of directors and no meeting of that body is scheduled until September.

REPORT DENIED.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Prompt denial was made at the Pennsylvania R. R. Co.'s offices today of the intended resignation of President McCrea, which had gained circulation in railroad circles. No change in the company's management is contemplated.

BRYAN'S SPEECH

FAIRVIEW, LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 5.—W. J. Bryan today outlined the subjects which he will discuss in his forthcoming speech of acceptance. The speech will be confined practically to the questions:

"Shall the people rule" and "The measure of rewards."

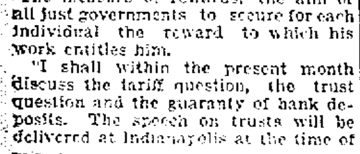
The other issues of the campaign, such as guaranty of bank deposits, the tariff, the trusts, etc., will be treated in the several speeches he will make in the next thirty days.

"The notification speech," said Mr. Bryan, "will deal with but few questions. Having a letter of acceptance to write later and several speeches to make on important topics, such as the tariffs and the trusts, the banking question, the labor question, imperialism, etc., it was not necessary to include them in this speech and I could not have done justice to any one question if I treat of a number. Our platform declared the overshadowing question to be 'Shall the people rule,' and in this speech I take up the conditions and endeavor to show what has produced these conditions and how they can be remedied and how the people can be put into control of their own government.

"The only other question discussed is 'The measure of rewards,' the aim of all just governments to secure for each individual the reward to which his work entitles him.

"I shall within the present month discuss the tariff question, the trust question and the guaranty of bank deposits. The speech on trusts will be delivered at Indianapolis at the time of Mr. Kern's notification, Aug. 25. The one on guaranty of bank deposits will be delivered at Topeka a few days after. The day and place for the one on the tariff question have not been fixed. At Chicago on Labor day I shall discuss the labor question and at Peoria on the ninth of September the subject will be 'The state and the nation.'"

The speech of acceptance of Mr. Bryan will be given to the press associations this afternoon for distribution among their members in order that it may be in type ready for publication as soon as delivered.



PREPARED INSTANTLY. Simply add boiling water, cool and serve. 10c. per package at all grocers. 7 flavors. Refuse all substitutes.

PAINFUL INJURY

Man Fell in Bigelow Carpet Co.'s Mill

While at work at the Bigelow Carpet Co.'s mills this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Alphonse Manelin, residing at 141 Aiken street, was the victim of a painful accident. In some unaccountable manner he fell from one floor to another while engaged in doing some mason work. The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the Lowell hospital where it was found that he was suffering from a fracture of the left wrist. It was feared that he had received internal injuries, but the doctors by whom he was examined said that this did not appear to be so.

CITY IS BURNING

Train Was Hemmed in by Wall of Flame — Wind Turned to a Gale and in a Moment the City Was Doomed — 100,000 Feet of Lumber Were Burned

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 5.—For three days the people of Michel have fought for their homes with death at the door. Yesterday afternoon they were beaten at the game. The city, the second in size in the devastated district of East Kootenay, started to burn in real earnest at dusk. Nothing can save it from being a heap of ruins even more complete than Fernie.

From a light eastern breeze the wind turned to a gale from the west at three o'clock in the afternoon and the city in a moment was doomed. The blaze came sweeping down the hill. At the edge of the town one hundred thousand feet of mine timber owned by the coal company caught fire and four loaded railroad cars standing on a side track were consumed. Two Canadian Pacific locomotives were hitched on to a train to carry the fire fighters away to the west to safety. By the time the train left to the west the fire was spreading all over the yards. The train got only half a mile on its journey when it encountered a wall of flames. There was danger of its being hemmed in and being burned with everybody aboard, so the locomotives were reversed and run back with all speed. By the time the train returned all the houses on the flat district back of the Northern depot were burning and the main town was likely to catch at any moment. At five o'clock a lone newspaperman and the telegraph operator still stuck to the telegraph instruments. The last message the newspaperman sent:

"Many houses are burning. Trains cannot get west of here. Railway service west of this town will be blocked indefinitely. To the east the line is clear. Will try to reach Crows Nest before morning and forward news from there."

WORST IS OVER

PROPERTY LOSS IS PLACED AT $7,000,000.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 5.—The terribly destructive forest fires which have swept through the Crows Nest district of the Elk River valley in British Columbia since last Saturday, devastating a vast stretch of territory, destroying many lives and millions of dollars worth of property, wiping out entire towns and rendering thousands of persons homeless, are still raging, but are now sweeping a wild and sparsely settled country and it is believed the worst is over.

It is impossible at this time to arrive at a summary of the situation as regards loss of life and property with even approximate correctness. So widespread has been the destruction and so scattered are the people who lived in the burned area of more than 50 miles in length and 3 miles in width that any estimate of the number who met death in the flames is nothing more than guess work.

The property loss has been very great, but this, too, is difficult to estimate correctly.

A conservative valuation would probably place the amount between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000. Several thousand persons have been rendered homeless, principally residents of Fernie, which according to all accounts is almost completely wiped out, scarcely more than a score of buildings being left where once a prosperous town of 5000 inhabitants stood.

There has been suffering among the homeless, owing to lack of food and shelter, but this has been alleviated or partly relieved by the prompt action of the people of every city in British Columbia as well as many of these on border states, in sending money and supplies to the burned districts. This aid has been most generous and the temporarily destitute people will be adequately and promptly provided for.

A summary of the results of the fires has been prepared here which is believed to be a conservative estimate as to loss of life and property destroyed. It is as follows:

Town of Fernie, about 5000 inhabitants, practically wiped out, loss of 20 lives and $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 in property. Insurance about 50 per cent.

Town of Hosmer, about 800 inhabitants, partially burned, with loss of 1 life and $250,000 in property. Three hundred persons homeless.

Town of Michel; four persons reported killed and property destroyed in vicinity estimated at $1,000,000. Details unobtainable, owing to lack of communication.

Town of Sparwood; saw mill, village, two killed and large mills destroyed, damage estimated at $250,000.

Damage to standing timber throughout the burned area estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

Supt. Hussey, of the Provincial police, has been sent by the government of British Columbia to the fire-swept region, and he is now in charge of the relief work in East Kootenai, acting with the local authorities. The Dominion authorities have offered to send a detachment of Northwest mounted police into the devastated region to preserve order, but thus far the Provincial authorities have had the situation well in hand.

PART OF FERNIE

HAS NOT BEEN DISTURBED BUT IS THREATENED.

FERNIE, B. C., Aug. 5.—A part of Fernie is not yet burned, but is not out of danger. The fire is still burning in the park. At Ferguson's camp three miles west of Fernie which escaped Saturday six hundred cords of cedar posts and a large number of telegraph poles and ties are now ablaze. Ties along the main line of the Canadian Pacific are burning in many places and large bridge gangs and others are working to keep the line open. A number of people have moved their belongings to the river bank for safety.

A Japanese named A. Hayamara, arrested for pilfering, pleaded guilty to carrying a concealed weapon, (a revolver) and was sentenced to six months in jail at Nelson. The court proceedings occupied but ten minutes.

NEGRO LYNCHED

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 5.—William Miller, colored, charged with complicity in the dynamiting of a house Monday night, was taken out of jail at Brighton last night and lynched.

The greatest excitement prevails around Brighton which is ten miles from here and further trouble at the mines is imminent. The government may call out more troops.

the disciplining of patrolmen, the appointment of liquor inspectors and officials in the detective bureau and many others referring to minor changes. All complaints with regard to violations of law which the members of the board have received personally have been promptly reported to the superintendent for investigation and correction. Together with him they have held conferences with the superior officers aiming to inspire them with the recognition of the urgent need of discipline. The board has offered them as it were, an unwritten code of very simple rules for the patrolman to follow to make his authority surer. First, he should maintain a semi-military bearing while on duty, avoiding familiarity with the people. This is somewhat difficult for an officer in a city like ours where acquaintance is widely extended, but it is the most important rule of all and on its being followed depends the welfare and peace of the city. Second, he should keep his mind on the alert for all misdemeanors and assert his authority immediately, particularly in case of the two most flagrant violations, larceny and assault. In securing all evidence with reference to these offences, even to the smallest detail, he materially aids the court and conserves the ends of justice. Third, he should be courteous to all inquirers, especially to strangers, and should give directions clearly and answer questions simply and briefly.

The board and superintendent have worked hard to gain the serious attention of the force to these simple rules which they have in mind, and they have partially attained the ideal condition which they desire. The force is working today in harmony and the individual members with faithfulness.

Reference is also made to promotion in which it is pointed that "the board has observed strict adherence to the civil service law, realizing that a successful organization cannot be developed unless founded on the merit system."

During the year, the report says, ten complaints have been entered against members of the police force and after hearing the charges the following action was taken: One officer discharged; seven fined; and two complaints dismissed.

Sincere regret is expressed by the board in the following manner in speaking of the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Wallace, the matron:

"With counsel, with the comforting word, and with material aid she has striven to smooth the thorny pathway of the fallen. The influence of such a woman never dies and in accepting her resignation the board feels that during all the years to come Mrs. Wallace will enjoy the satisfaction in the reflection of a duty well done, a trust faithfully performed."

"Regarding this grave subject," says the report, referring to the sale of intoxicating liquor "much is said and written both with reference to its extermination and its regulation. The local option law which applies to our city permits the granting of one license to sell intoxicating liquors for every thousand population. Agreeably to the census of 1905 Lowell is allowed ninety-four licenses. Although it is not mandatory upon the board to grant this number, yet finding it to be the usual custom and believing regulation rather than extermination to be wisdom in the present state of affairs, and after thorough examination of all the licensed premises from attic to cellar, it deemed it injudicious to make any reduction. The board in its judgment did, however, deprive the hotels or innholders of the fourth class retail dealers license which allows the sale of liquors in small packages not to be drunk on the premises, a privilege hitherto enjoyed for many years. The request that innholders refrain from selling intoxicating liquors on Sundays between the hours of ten and twelve a. m. has proved another element bringing about order and sobriety.

"The old law requisite for the tavern or innkeeper namely, that regarding the necessary facilities for cooking and serving food, is still on our statute books. In order that this law should not be disregarded and that a stricter surveillance should be exercised, the number of liquor inspectors was early in the year increased to four. Among other duties they are required to thoroughly inspect all licensed places at least once a month and report in writing to the board the result of their observations. They are also required to notice all violations of the screen law and to make weekly reports in writing of their visits to the hotels on Sundays. These reports have received close attention by the board. The board has indulged in what might be called a work of supererogation, namely, that of making frequent visits to all licensed premises, including private clubs, in order to have a more acute personal knowledge of conditions. From the attitude of the proprietors and their readiness to comply at all times with the wishes of the board it has reason to feel that all engaged in the liquor business appreciate the fair treatment accorded them."

During the year $169,238.91 has been collected for liquor license fees. Of this amount $42,309.73 was forwarded to the state treasurer and the remaining $126,929.18 added to the revenues of the city.

The total number of minor licenses and permits granted was 1316. The amount of money collected therefore and turned into the city treasury was $3626. Altogether there were 28 licenses revoked, including one druggist's.

A page is given up to a necrology in which three officers who have passed away during the year are remembered kindly. They are Anthony Murphy, Michael Counihan and Thomas H. Fitzgerald.

The number of arrests for the year amounted to 4839. Of this number 3576 were for drunkenness. The men numbered 3983; women 471; minors 385. In the distribution of offences, according to nationality, the United States is at the top of the list. Under the head of professions "Laborers" are in the majority.

The activity of the detective bureau is indicated by the fact that during the year property valued at $5,697.81 was restored. Property valued at $3,340.18 is still missing.

NEW "MASHEEN"

Has Been Bought by Butler Vets

The Butler Veteran Firemen of Lowell have purchased a new "masheen" that will be entered in the big muster in this city, Aug. 29. It is a ten inch button tub and was discovered in the town of Medina, N. Y., three years ago. It was taken to Goffstown, N. H., and the Goffstown stalwarts made a play of 195 feet on the first trial last season. The Goffstown firemen thought they had the tub cinched but woke up a few days ago only to learn that the Butler Vets had grabbed it.

It was shipped from Manchester, N. H., to this city this week and will take the place of the General Butler machine in the New England muster, Aug. 29, the muster destined to make Lowell famous.

The Medina machine is lighter and quicker than the old machine and the Lowell experts who looked it over believed it is good for the squirt that brings prize money.

REPUBLICANS NAME STUBBS.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 5.—While the results of yesterday's primaries in Kansas cannot be stated positively, today's early returns tended to confirm former reports showing the probable nomination of William R. Stubbs for governor on the republican ticket over Cyrus Leland, Jr., and the naming of James L. Bristow, editor of the Salina Journal, and formerly first assistant postmaster general, for United States senator to succeed Chester I. Long.

The returns indicate that it has been something of a landslide for Bristow, and that Stubbs is the nominee by a safe majority. Few democratic votes appear to have been cast but returns indicate that W. H. Ryan will be that party's nominee for governor and Hugh P. Farrell the senatorial nominee.

GUSTAV FOSBERG

Knocked Down and Injured by Runaway

Gustav Fosberg, a fish dealer, residing at 29 Bowden street, was taken to St. John's hospital last night suffering from painful though not serious injuries. Mr. Fosberg was driving through Tewksbury Centre yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock when the horse took fright at a passing object, and ran away throwing Mr. Fosberg to the ground in such a manner that the wheels of the vehicle passed over his body. He was removed to the residence of Jeremiah Lynch nearby, and after an examination by a local physician he was taken to the hospital. It was stated at the hospital this morning that Fosberg was resting comfortably, and apparently had suffered no internal injuries.

The Cat is Out of the Bag

The Secret of Giving Presents With Tea Exposed

Our Prices Sustained by Figures

How you can save 35c on every dollar's worth of Tea you buy of us EXPLAINED, and the quality of the Tea verified by customers

How it's done. The so-called "Retail Traveling Tea Salesman," or in other words, the Tea Peddler, gets 20c on every dollar's worth of Tea he sells for the gift-enterprise Tea dealer, and if the customer does not take a present, he will be allowed on 60c Teas 10c, or about 15 per cent; other Teas proportionately. Consequently, 20 per cent of 60c is 12c; adding the 10c for not taking a present makes 22c; deduct that from 60c, the dealer's original price of the Tea, leaves just 38c, which is our asking price for all 60c Tea, so you can see you save just 22c on every pound of 60c Tea you buy of us, or 35c on every dollar's worth you buy. WE DO NOT HAVE ANY TEA PEDDLERS OUT FOR US.

WHAT OUR OUT-OF TOWN-CUSTOMERS TELL ABOUT THE QUALITY OF TEAS AND COFFEES

What Several of Our Lawrence Customers Have to Say: "We can't buy Teas for 60c in Lawrence equal to yours at 38c, or Coffee for 35c equal to your Capital Coffee at 28c."

What They Say in Haverhill: "We are obliged to send to you for all our Teas and Coffee, simply because we can't buy for 70c as good Teas as yours at 38c."

A Lady from Bath says: "We are obliged to pay 70c for a Tea not as good as your 38c Tea, in Bath." She took five pounds and will send for more later.

A TEA PEDDLER told a customer that we couldn't afford to sell the quality of Tea and Coffee we were selling at the price we did—that we were only doing it to spite other dealers.

A Lady in Fitchburg Wrote her daughter: "Be sure and send me some more of Nichols' India Ceylon Tea at 38c, as I can't find anything here as good at 60c."

A Man Who Lives in West Virginia Sent word to his folks here to be sure and send him 10 lbs. Nichols' Tea, 38c kind, as he was unable to get such Tea there at 70c.

A Lady from Providence, R. I., Who formerly lived in Lowell, always sends or gets her Tea of us, as she says she doesn't like the 60c Tea she gets there, and can't use it after using our 38c Tea.

WE CAN PROVE THE ABOVE STATEMENTS ARE TRUE ANDAS STATED, A TRIAL WILL CONVINCE YOU WHAT WE SAY IS SO

And that is we are selling Sixty Cent Teas at 38c a lb

CRUELTY ALLEGED

In Treatment of Children by Tewksbury Couple

Arrest Made Early This Morning by Order of the Mass. S. P. C. C. and Defendants Held in $200 Each Till Friday

In the police court this morning, Judge Pickman presiding, Daniel F. Donahue, aged 38 years, and his wife, Geneva Donahue, aged 37 years, both of Tewksbury, were arraigned on a complaint charging them with assault and battery on Edward Hutchins, aged 8 years and Esther Marie Hutchins, aged 6 years. They pleaded not guilty, and at the request of Lieut. Downey, the prosecuting officer, the case was continued until Friday morning to give the government an opportunity of summon the necessary witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Donahue were brought to the police station this morning by Constables Frank H. Farmer and Mason at 1.10 o'clock, the warrant for their arrest having been issued yesterday afternoon by Clerk Trull of the police court at the solicitation of an agent of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, who investigated the case as a result of a complaint made to him by neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Donahue.

Esther and Edward Hutchins are the children of Mrs. Donahue's brother, who is at present living in Chelsea. The children have been living with the Donahue's for about a year, and it is alleged that during this period they have been frequently abused by both Mr. and Mrs. Donahue. The boy, pending the outcome of the case in court is in the custody of Constable Farmer, while the agent of the society with the long name has taken charge of the girl. Mr. and Mrs. Donahue were each held in $200.

The session of court was of less than five minutes duration. Prior to the opening of court, Probation Officer Slattery released four who had quaffed from the flowing bowl not wisely but too well. Two first offenders were fined $2.00 each.

BRONSON HOWARD

Well Known Dramatist is Dead

NEW YORK, Aug. 5—Bronson Howard, dramatist and author, writer of several plays which stand as landmarks in the American dramatic field, died yesterday of heart failure at Avon-by-the-Sea, N. J., after an illness of about a year. Mr. Howard, who went to the coast resort on June 25, in the hope that the sea air might benefit him, improved in health for a time, but in the last two weeks failed rapidly. Mrs. Howard and several near relatives were with him as he died. His funeral will take place at Avon Thursday afternoon, and shortly afterward the body will be removed for interment to Detroit, where Mr. Howard was born 68 years ago.

Bronson Howard began his journalistic career in 1859, when he came to this city, where he was connected at various times with the Tribune, the Evening Mail, and the Evening Post. He practically retired from newspaper work in 1872, devoting himself largely thereafter to dramatic work. As a dramatist, Mr. Howard was best known by reason of the successes of "Saratoga," "The Banker's Daughter," "Old Love Letters," "Young Mrs. Winthrop," "The Henrietta," "Shenandoah," and Aristocracy." From 1870, the date of "Saratoga" to 1906, when he published "Kate," he was engaged primarily with characters essentially American.

300 SHOTS FIRED

Strikers and Deputies Have Battle

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 5.—At Lewisburg Mines, nine miles north of Birmingham, last night a group of strikers threw a heavy charge of dynamite against the stockade surrounding the mines. The men ran to a ridge nearly a mile from the stockade and opened fire with rifles. No less than 300 shots were fired into the stockade and the twenty or more deputies around the mines returned the fire with vigor.

So far as known no one was injured.

At the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. I., last evening, two new members were admitted. Rev. Fr. Reynolds, O. M. I., who recently returned from Plattsburg, N. Y., gave an interesting account of his trip. The dance committee made a report of progress.

TOWN OF AYER

In a Conflict With Electric Light Co.

The electric light controversy has brought about an unusual situation in the town of Ayer. For two nights the lights have been shut off, and as a result there is a great demand for lanterns. It is expected that 100 gasoline lamps will be ready for use within three weeks. This, it is said, will relieve the trouble to some extent. The fire alarm, which is located at the electric light plant, is to be removed and placed at one of the factories.

THE KING

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Aug. 5.—The many thousand people who had waited since daybreak for the return of Count Zeppelin's airship from its record-breaking voyage were greatly disappointed when it became known shortly after ten o'clock that the airship had been compelled to come down at Echterdingen. The king of Wurtemburg, who was one of those who had come out to the floating shed to which the balloon was expected to return, announced personally to the people in the launches and boats swarming around the shed, that the balloon could not be expected back before tonight or tomorrow morning. It is said here that the balloon lacks gas. A special train will take three carloads of gas to Echterdingen. This is not a very large quantity, inasmuch as twenty cars are required to fill the giant balloon.

From a reliable source the information was obtained, however, that a defective motor was really responsible for the landing.

BRYAN TO SPEAK

Will Make Tour of All Parts of Country

BUFFALO, Aug. 5.—William J. Bryan will make several campaign tours which will embrace nearly all parts of the country, speaking in practically all of the principal cities between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. The itinerary is now under preparation by Norman Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee who made known today the general plan for the speech-making trip for the democratic candidate and will likely accompany Mr. Bryan on part of the trip. Mr. Mack said:

"While the present plans are tentative and subject to change, Mr. Bryan will make several tours which will take in practically the whole United States. He will speak only in the large cities and will not attempt to make the exhaustive speaking campaign that he has made in other years. Soon after the notification of Mr. Bryan in Lincoln he will speak in the middle section of the country, visiting Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati, St. Louis and other cities. Later Mr. Bryan will go east and on this trip I am planning to have Mr. Kern make a joint speaking tour with him.

"The Pacific coast states also will be visited by Mr. Bryan, probably after the trip in the east. No definite dates for any of the cities have been set and will not be for some little time. Mr. Kern will be actively engaged during the campaign with speech making trips through the principal parts of the country."

Chairman Mack is still engaged with the selection of the sub-committee of the national committee which will have the direction of the campaign in the Atlantic coast states.

GIVES MILLIONS

For Home for the Occult Sciences

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 5.—Jessie M. Smiley, a well-known young Chicago widow, devotee of the occult and student of the higher thought, yesterday announced that she has fallen heir to a fortune of $20,000,000 by the terms of her mother's will, which provided that the property of the Scotch family should be divided only when the younger son, James, becomes of age.

The name of Mrs. Smiley's mother was Lady Catherine Laird, and the Laird estates, she declares, are well known in Kincardineshire, in the north of Scotland.

There are three sons of the family, James, George and Frederick. Mrs. Smiley's sister died recently in Cannes, France. Mr. Smiley was a shoe manufacturer at Lynn, Mass. He has been dead 10 years. "Of course, I have known for a long time that I should have plenty of money some day," said Mrs. Smiley. "I intend to use most of my money for the furtherance of occultism.

"As soon as I am in possession of my fortune I intend taking steps for the erection of an appropriate building on the West Side, in order that the occult sciences may have a proper home in Chicago."

DUNSTABLE LIBRARY

WILL BE DEDICATED ONE WEEK HENCE.

The dedication of the S. R. Roby library building in Dunstable will take place Wednesday, Aug. 12, and the committee announces this will be old-home day in the town. It extends an invitation to all former residents to attend.

The new building will be used as a town hall. It is but a short distance from Dunstable Centre, on the road leading to Tyngsboro.

Arrangements have been made by the committee to furnish transportation between Tyngsboro and Dunstable at reasonable rates. Tyngsboro can be reached from Lowell by steam or electric cars. The latter cars leave Merrimack square, Lowell, and the post-office in Tyngsboro.

Selectman James Kendall will preside at the dedication of the building, which cost $13,000. The exercises will begin at 11 a. m. After a short address by Mr. Kendall, Frederick Williams of Chicago, a relative of the donor, will speak for Mrs. Sarah R. S. Roby.

The building committee, Dexter Butterfield, William P. Foster and Levi Lawrence, will present the keys and they will be accepted by E. D. Swallow, chairman of the board of selectmen.

Rev. A. M. Rice of Lawrence, a former resident of Dunstable, will deliver the address. Prof. A. D. Butterfield of Worcester, a native of Dunstable, will be president of the day.

There will be a dinner at noon. The event promises to be one of the most interesting in the town's history.

TERRIFIC STORM

Descended on City During the Night

Sometime during the still watches of the night, after the last cars had ceased to run, a rain storm that would gladden the heart of the most exacting farmer, accompanied by an electrical storm that would strike terror to the stoutest heart, descended upon Lowell and for an hour swamped the city. Many lucky ones who when they go to sleep go to sleep all over, as it were, slept blissfully on entirely ignorant and hence unmindful of the raging elements without their windows.

While the lightning was incessant and most vivid, it was apparently what is popularly called heat lightning and of a harmless nature, and as far as could be learned this forenoon no places in this vicinity were struck. The rain made huge ponds of the sewer holes and where street work is being done, while some cellars were flooded but no serious damage was done. After partly clearing away, the storm returned shortly before 8 o'clock and resumed its liquidation to the great disappointment of many excursionists and outing parties, causing them to postpone their trips until some other date.

OLD RESIDENT

Michael Tighe Passed Away Today

Michael Tighe, aged 76 years, one of the original members of the Immaculate Conception parish, died this morning at his home, 38 Wall street. He had been a resident of Lowell for 54 years. He leaves one son, Rev. Lawrence J. Tighe, O. M. I., pastor of St. Andrew's church, North Billerica, and one daughter, Miss Mary A. Tighe. The funeral will take place on Friday morning at 9.15 o'clock from the house. Solemn high mass of requiem at the Immaculate Conception church at 10 o'clock. Friends are requested not to send flowers. Funeral in charge of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

TWO BROTHERS

Leave Lowell for Other Fields

On Sunday morning at all the masses in the Catholic churches of the city the yearly collection for the Negro and Indian missions will be taken up.

The Xaverian Brothers of St. Patrick's Male academy are home again after spending the vacation months at Danvers, Mass.

There have been only two teachers of the teaching staff of the school changed this year, they being Brother Leo, formerly superior of the academy, who was transferred to St. Patrick's school in Baltimore, Md., and Brother Benedict, who on account of sickness was shifted down south.

Brother Osmond, the successor of Brother Leo, formerly had the supervision of the school that Brother Leo has charge of now.

The successor of Brother Benedict has not been appointed as yet.

The departure of Brother Benedict from this city was heard of with regret by the young men of St. Patrick's parish. During the years that he was in this city he spent most of his spare time amongst the members of the Sacred Heart sodality and was its spiritual director.

Brother Leo was also an untiring worker among the young men and parishioners. As he was the superior his duties sometimes brought him into the homes of the parents where he made many friends. The founding of the St. Patrick's Academy alumni was due in a measure to his efforts.

MAHER ARRESTED

He is Charged With Having Stolen Mail Wagon

LAWRENCE, Aug. 4—George Maher, alias George Reynolds, was arraigned in the police court yesterday charged with the stealing of a United States mail wagon and two bags of mail matter. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $500 bonds. He will be turned over to the federal authorities. He gave several names, but later testified that his real name was George Maher and that he lived in Exeter, N. H.

He said that he was led into the theft of the mail wagon through companions, but witnesses testified that there were no persons near the scene at the time the defendant jumped into the wagon and drove off who could be connected with Maher in the larceny.

At 12.15 yesterday morning, as Frank Osgood, the regular driver of the mail wagon, was about half way down Essex street on his route, he left his wagon standing in front of a building while he went in to collect from the mail box.

When he came out with the mail in his hand he saw the wagon being driven rapidly down Essex street. He gave an alarm and started in pursuit.

Maher's capture was brought about by his asking three young men to direct him to Springfield, N. H. The young men, who had heard of the robbery, were suspicious, and two of them got into the wagon, one taking the reins and driving the horse toward the police station. On Essex street, near Amesbury street, Maher evidently suspected something, and during the absence of one of the young men sprang to the sidewalk and disappeared up Amesbury street. He was later found sleeping in a clump of bushes after policemen had scoured the city for him.

THE LOSS IS $100,000

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 5.—Fire destroyed the plant of the Monarch Vinegar Co. in the east bottoms district of this city last night, causing a loss estimated at $100,000.

KILLED A WOMAN

Negro Gave Himself up to the Police

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—Walking up to a policeman late last night, a young negro said:

"Reckon you better lock me up, boss. I killed a woman, but I did it in self-defense and I want to be locked up. I had to to save myself."

The policeman accommodated the man, who gave his name as Robert Barring, and his story was then investigated. In a house in the southern section of the city the police found Maggie Albert, a young negress, dead with five bullet holes in her head. The revolver with which the murder had been committed had been held so close to the woman's face that the powder had badly scorched the flesh. Jealousy is believed to have been the motive for the crime.

The many friends of both regret that they were called for other labors from St. Patrick's.

THE KRUPP WORKS

Secure Rights of the Air Torpedo

ESSEN, Aug. 5.—Notwithstanding frequent denials the Krupp works have apparently acquired the rights to the air torpedo invented by Colonel Unge of the Swedish army under conditions that the Swedish government is free to use the device. The particulars of the weapon are a secret but it is understood that the Krupps paid a great sum for the invention after prolonged tests so it is assumed that the projectile is really effective. Report says it can be used by warships in sea fighting and also on land against fortifications, three calibres being used, one for sea fighting, a second for ordinary land fighting and a third for mountain work.

BRAINED HIS WIFE

Zet Says His Family Continually "Nagged" Him

ROCKVILLE, Conn., Aug. 5.—John Zet, who killed his four-year-old grandchild with a knife and brained his wife yesterday, tossed about on a cot in the lockup all night and at times talked with his guard. With two broken ribs and wounds on his head and arms inflicted by his son during the struggle to get possession of the sledge hammer, Zet appeared to be in agony. States Attorney Charles Phelps has been called here from his summer home in Magnolia, Mass., and will be here later in the day. It is believed that a special grand jury will be called to pass on Zet's case.

Zet told the police that the family were continually "nagging" him to give up the farm. He said he had stood it about all he could and had made up his mind to go to Pennsylvania where he formerly was employed around a coal pit. Yesterday morning, he says, the family had been telling him to go away and he was vexed. He had a hammer in his hand and went in the house to ask his wife to give him money enough to go away. He had words, he said, and in his rage he lifted the hammer and struck his wife. Zet goes no further than the recital.

Mrs. Zet was just alive this morning. The first report was that she had died but late last night Dr. Bean returned here and said that she was still breathing. Dr. Rothwell, the medical examiner, today will hold an autopsy on the body of the child and upon his report to the coroner will be based the complaint against Zet.

CLEARS THE COMPLEXION OVER NIGHT

Since its discovery one year ago, poslam, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use poslam for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Lowell at Falls & Burkinshaw's, Carter & Sherburne's, and other leading drug stores.

Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York city.

BOYS RELEASED

They Were Accused of Stealing Peanuts

Four small boys, who, it was alleged, had stolen a quantity of peanuts from a small variety store in Dracut Centre, were brought to the police station this morning, but the authorities refused to hold them as the man on whose complaint they had been coraled could not identify positively any one of the quartet.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Yesterday, the Bungalow, our camp on Lake Nabnassett, was opened, and will be open through the week. There is still room for some girls. It is a special chance to get a week's outing cheaply and pleasantly. Any who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity, will please register at once at the association building. All will be glad to hear that Miss Bent is to be in camp this week.

The Wednesday noon meeting will be led by Miss Mildred Meader, who has lately been a delegate from the Comfort club to the Silver Bay conference for association workers. We may be sure she will have something good to say to us.

The many friends of Dr. A. E. Goddard will be deeply pained to learn that she is dangerously ill in far away India. Dr. Goddard left active work in the association about six years ago for the mission field in Nowgong, India.

Mr. Allison Entered That Body in 1873

DUBUQUE, Ia., Aug. 5.—U. S. Senator William Boyd Allison died at his home here at 1.45 yesterday afternoon of heart failure. The end came as a result of a serious sinking spell due to prostatic enlargement complicated with kidney disease, and during a period of unconsciousness which had lasted since Saturday afternoon.

FATHER OF SENATE

ALLISON ENTERED THAT BODY IN 1873.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—To Senator Allison, more especially than to any other man who ever occupied a seat in that body, belongs the title of "Father of the Senate." He was not only one of the oldest men in that body, but he held the record beyond all others for his length of service there. More important still, his service in the senate was such that his title to position depended not at all upon his advanced age or extended service. Senator Allison was, at the time of his death, and had been for a third of a century, a leader in fact as well as in name.

Mr. Allison entered the senate March 4, 1873, and had served continuously ever since, making the longest period as a member of that body ever covered by any individual. When he died yesterday, he had just completed the fifth month of the thirty-sixth year of his occupancy of this important post, thus exceeding by almost three years and a half the thirty-one years, nine months and twenty-four days' serivice of the late Senator Morrill of Vermont, who held the record for continuous service previous to Senator Allison, and the thirty-one years, eleven months and fourteen days' service of Senator Sherman of Ohio, who previous to Mr. Allison had served the longest time in the senate, although not without interruption. Mr. Allison first entered the senate by appointment as the successor of Senator Harlan of Iowa. He entered upon his first elective term in 1878. His present term would have expired Mar. 4, 1909, but he had already been elected by primary for still another term. Thus if death had not interrupted, his service in the senate was assured until March 4, 1915.

In addition to his service in the senate, Mr. Allison had given eight years of his life to the house of representatives.

When he entered the house the Civil war was at its height and his service covered not only that exciting epoch, but also the scarcely less exciting time of reconstruction, and has been identified with the history of the country during the administrations of Lincoln, Johnson, Grant, Hayes, Cleveland, Harrison, McKinley and almost all that of Roosevelt.

For many years Senator Allison had been chairman of the republican caucus of the senate, of the republican steering committee and of the senate committee on appropriations. He also was and had been for more than thirty years a member of the committee on finance, and during much of that time held the second position on that committee. By virtue of his position as chairman of the republican caucus and especially of the steering committee, Mr. Allison was the technical leader of the senate, and by virtue of his abilities he shared the real leadership of that body with only one or two others. As chairman of the steering committee, he was permitted to select his own associates, and thus he became in a particular sense the arbitrator of the fortunes of legislation in the senate, for as is generally known, this committee, although not recognized by law, practically determines what important bills shall be passed and what shall be either defeated or allowed to die. It was the steering committee more than any other sub-organization of the senate which directed the legislation in connection with the Spanish-American war. Indeed, in later years there has been little, if any, legislation of moment which has not had the sanction of this organization.

As a legislator, Mr. Allison gave most of his attention to the industrial and financial interests of the country.

The senate seems to meet all of the demands of Senator Allison for public life. He appeared at all times perfectly at home in that body, and he met with a recognition there both from colleagues and employes which amounted in many cases almost to devotion. Both by many senators and many attaches of the senate he was affectionately spoken of as "Uncle Billy," but his dignity of bearing was such that few ventured to thus address him to his face. Still he was regarded by all as approachable and genial, and his kindly smile will be missed by all who were connected in any way with the senate.

Unquestionably, Senator Hale will succeed Mr. Allison as chairman of the committee on appointments if he will consent to relinquish his position at the head of the committee on naval affairs. Other republican members of that committee are in the order named: Senators Dillon, Perkins, Warren, Gallinger and Elkins. Senator Hale will also probably become chairman of the steering committee of the republican caucus.

Much interest is felt here in the possible effect of Senator Allison's death on political affairs in Iowa. The general opinion is that Governor Cummins will renew his effort to obtain a seat in the senate, in which he was recently defeated by Mr. Allison, and it is recognized that with this venerable leader no longer in a position to lead, the prospect is good for a valiant battle. Whether such a conflict will have any influence upon the presidential struggle is a subject for speculation, but all agree that it will add interest to the general campaign.

GOV. CUMMINS

IS A CANDIDATE FOR THE U. S. SENATE.

LAKE FOREST, Ill., Aug. 5.—Governor Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, last night announced himself as a candidate to succeed United States Senator Allison. The governor paid a glowing tribute to his late political adversary's service to the country at large and then frankly declared his ambition to be elected to the senate by the legislature of his state. He also announced that someone will be appointed at once to occupy Sen. Allison's seat for the remainder of his unexpired term.

"I shall certainly make an effort to succeed Sen. Allison," said Governor Cummins, when asked concerning his political intentions. He refused, however, to say what he would do regarding the senatorship during the unexpired term which ends on March 4, 1909.

Gov Cummins will cut short his vacation and return to Des Moines today. The governor stated that the legislature would be unable to elect a man for the place in time for the reassembling of congress in December and that unless an appointment be made the state would not have its full representation at Washington.

The governor made it plain that he believes that his friends regard him as the logical successor to the senatorship. He declared that Senator Allison had defeated him in the recent primary election in the state by a comparatively slender majority and for this reason he thought that his candidacy would be received with favor in his state.

PRES. FALLIERES

May Be Allowed to Enter Church

PARIS, Aug. 5.—The marriage of Anne Fallieres, daughter of the president of the republic, to J. J. E. Lanes, the presidential secretary, which is to take place in the church of the Madeline, Aug. 20, has raised the question of whether or not the president can participate in the ceremony owing to the fact that all French officials who were concerned in the adoption of the law providing for the separation of church and state have been excommunicated. According to the church organ, the Gaillois, the archbishop of Paris, basing his conclusion on one of the acts of the council of Trent has decided that insomuch as the bann of excommunication was not published by Rome in the churches and not given great prominence in the religious world, the presence of President Fallieres at the church would be "tolerated."

CANAL WORK

BEING PUSHED WITH ALL POSSIBLE HASTE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Month by month the total excavation on the Isthmian canal is increasing. A cablegram received today from Col. Goethals, chief engineer on the isthmus, shows that the excavation for July was considerably greater than for June although the latter was almost a record in the canal work. The total excavation for July was 3,168,640 cubic yards, against 3,036,976 cubic yards for June and 1,077,598 cubic yards for July a year ago.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

"The Ranchman's Daughter" is proving to be a popular offering for the Adam Good company at Lakeview Theatre this week, and delighted audiences crowd the theatre at each performance. Beside the play good specialties are contributed by Bessie Overton, Eddie Poulter, and that popular Lowell boy, Jas. L. Dempsey, or "Jimmie," as all the boys call him. His songs are a strong feature of the performance. For next week the management has selected a dramatization of that charming love story by Mary J. Holmes "Lena Rivers." The play follows the story in the book very closely and those who have read the book will surely want to see the play.

THEATRE VOYONS

Commencing Thursday morning the Theatre Voyons will begin the showing of the official pictures of the three hundredth anniversary celebration in Quebec, Canada. This celebration exceeded any ever held in Canada in point of magnificence and elaborateness and the official pictures cover many of the features of interest. The final scene is of the grand military review on the Plains of Abraham. These are moving pictures, not simply photographs. Every picture is clear and distinct and is an accurate reproduction of the actual ceremonies. The Prince of Wales, The Princess of Wales, Premier Laurier, Vice President Fairbanks and many other noted people are recognizable in the pictures. These pictures afford thousands of Lowell people an opportunity to see some of the ceremonies in connection without the expense of travel.

STAR THEATRE

There can be no doubt about the popularity of amateur night, for last night it was necessary to turn a great many people away.

The amateurs were very enjoyable and many new ones were seen, among them a comedy team from Nashua that were great favorites.

The little girl dancers and singers did exceptionally well, and won much applause and praise.

Bobby Mack, the author comedian, was thoroughly enjoyed and brought round after round of laughter and applause.

The songs, "What's All the Worry" sung by Miss Curry, and "I Wish I Had a Girl," sung by J. C. Bell, are having great success.

Tonight will be the last opportunity to hear them, for there is a new program of songs tomorrow.

The new pictures today are as good as can be seen anywhere and win much applause. They will be seen today and tomorrow only, for there will be another new program Friday.

The theatre is several degrees cooler than the outside atmosphere at all times.

NURSE ACCUSED

Charged With Stealing From Patients

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—One of the most remarkable of recent police cases became public when pretty Chalta Cameron, 19 years old, a probationary nurse in the Lebanon hospital, was arraigned before Magistrate Droege, charged with larceny.

The complainant is Miss Mary Kilfoyle, an emergency patient in the hospital, where she was taken Monday night, suffering from severe contusions received in a fall while running to catch a street car.

The articles stolen were a diamond ring valued at $400, which has been recovered, and a watch chain, set with pearls, valued at $60, which is still missing.

In a confession to the police, after she had been subjected to the "third degree" for three hours, Chalta admitted that she took the ring, but said she did so by direction of one of the doctors in the hospital.

The doctor's name is given in an affidavit by Detective Myers of the Bronx Detective Bureau, who, with Detective Dillon, made the arrest.

The nurse is a remarkably pretty girl, with black hair and big brown eyes and an innocent, girlish expression. She is from Toronto, Canada, and has been in New York only during the five months she has served as a probationary nurse.

The detectives say they suspected from the first that the little nurse was not alone to blame in the affair and that she was doing her best to shield someone. They plied her with questions and she finally said that the doctor had told her to take the ring and put it away for him.

"I hid it on top of a medicine chest in the emergency ward," she said, and the detectives went back to the hospital and found it in the exact spot she had described.

"The girl told us she would never have taken the ring if the doctor hadn't made her," said Detective Myers. "She said she had a hard time at the hospital, and that if she didn't do everything the doctors said she would lose her place."

THE LID IS ON

Saratoga is Closed up Tight

SARATOGA, Aug. 5.—The lid is on, nailed fast, and will not be pried up again this summer. Last night every club house in the village was dark and the gaming tables had been removed. Not a roulette wheel was turning and every faro dealer is out of work for the season. The village is as quiet as on an October evening.

Early in the day the proprietors received the tip that they should close. District Attorney McKnight, who has been ill for several days, was in the village yesterday, and told the officials of the village that if the reports that have been printed regarding gambling here were true the clubhouses must close. The lid was found in a hurry.

The sudden termination of gambling activities is generally accredited to the announcement of the reported intention of Gov. Hughes to make an investigation into the stories of gambling in Saratoga.

The district attorney would not say last night if he had received a communication from the governor calling his attention to the stories of gambling here. It was said that detectives employed by Gov. Hughes have been in the village for the last day or two.

Monday night after news of District Attorney Elder's interview in New York city had arrived here extra doorkeepers were put at each club house, with the result that entrance was difficult. Yesterday more stringent action was taken and the houses notified to close. The county officials will take no more chances, it is said, and if any proprietor opens again there will be a lot of trouble ahead for him.

The action of the county officials in closing the gambling houses will not affect the betting on the racetrack, it is said. Sheriff Bradley will continue to act under the advice of ex-State Senator Brackett and will permit verbal wagers. He has no intention to resign, he said last night, and any attempt to remove him will be fought.

Should Gov. Hughes make any attempt to have the sheriff removed for permitting betting it is said he would probably find as his legal antagonist ex-Senator Brackett, who, it is reported, would not be averse to fighting out the legality of the removal in the courts.

The closing of the club houses has dampened the spirits of the racegoers and many are leaving for New York. Many more have expressed their intention of going before the week ends.

MR. A. H. BUSWELL. Nashua, N. H., Sept. 19, 1905.

Dear Sir:—On the twenty-fourth day of January, 1905, I met with an accident and scraped the bone of my leg so bad that it made a running sore. I used different remedies all the time for eight months, but did not get much benefit until I began to use your Blood Remedy, and after using five bottles of the remedy my leg is all healed up and my health is a great deal better than it has been for a long time. I cannot thank you enough for the good your medicine has done me.

Yours very truly,

MR. A. H. BUSWELL:

Dear Sir:—I feel that it is my duty to write you in regard to your Blood Remedy. I got a trial bottle for a friend of mine, but had little faith in it at the time; but I must say that I have had to change my faith, for it has helped me in more than one way. I was troubled with rheumatism in the back for some time and I took doctors' and several patent remedies, but could not seem to get the right kind for my case until I got your Blood Remedy, which I am pleased to say has fixed my back and also helped my stomach which was in a poor condition; in fact, I feel better in every way, and I must say that I think it is one of the best remedies in U. S. A. I have taken nine bottles, and to compare the price of them with what I have spent for other remedies, I think it is one of the best investments that I ever made.

Yours respectfully,

A. H. BUSWELL.

This is to certify that I have suffered with rheumatism for over fifteen years and at times would be confined to my bed for weeks. I suffered all kinds of tortures, unable to get an hour's sleep in a day. I have tried all kinds of remedies and have doctored with the best doctors and specialists with little or no relief. I was finally induced to take A. H. Buswell's Blood Remedy, and today I can truthfully say that I am comparatively cured. I was completely cured of a stiff leg. I cannot speak too highly of this remedy and recommend it to my friends and the public who are suffering from rheumatism.

Before I began to take your remedy, I felt all run down, appetite poor. After eating a big lump would form in my chest and cause me great pain. Your Blood Remedy being advertised for stomach troubles I thought I would give it a trial. Now my appetite is good. I can eat anything I wish, and that lump has disappeared which caused me so much pain; and I feel so thankful that I thought I would write you this testimony for the benefit of someone else who has stomach troubles.

I must in the least speak a word of praise for the good your medicine has done for me. My blood was in such a condition that a running sore came on my leg, which laid me up for six weeks, but after using a few bottles of your remedy my leg is all healed up and I feel very much better than I have for a long time. Your valuable remedy should be in every home, and may success follow you in your business.

Gentlemen:—When I began to take your Blood Remedy I was what one might call in bad shape. My stomach was all out of order. I had what the doctors called tumors on my eyes; but your remedy hit my case. I can eat what I desire, and the tumors are all gone, and I feel like a new man, and I want to do what I can to help suffering people who are troubled as I was.

SWORN CIRCULATION OF THE SUN

15,453

SOME BLESSINGS VOUCHSAFED THE TOILERS.

When we consider the vast patronage of the electric cars, especially on Sunday, and see the toilers going out to Nature's most beautiful retreats, we are led to reflect how different is all this from the conditions that prevailed here some twenty or twenty-five years ago.

Before the coming of the electric cars, the toilers of this city never saw Willow Dale and Lake Maseuppic; never saw Nabnassett, Glen Forest, Canobie Lake or any of the other beautiful spots now easily reached by the electric cars.

Where is the mill operative in Lowell today who has not visited all or most of these?

During their leisure hours in those days the mill operatives moped around the city, many of them frequenting barrooms or engaging in some form of gambling, merely for amusement.

They had no opportunity to regale the eye with fine scenery or the mind with sweet music; no opportunity to enjoy the fresh air as it is distilled in the woods and the mountains; but now how different, how much more advanced as a result of the appliention of electricity to the problems of rapid transit.

At a small expense the multitude can now take a trip to the seashore, to the country, the lakes or the mountains, far from the solitude and sin of the crowded city, far from the monotony that meets the eye during the daily toil and can return at night refreshed, inspired, invigorated and hence the better able to resume the arduous duties of life on the following day.

What a blessing the people thus enjoy in comparison with what were the conditions of a quarter of a century ago.

The general effect of all this is to lesson intemperance, to lessen crime, to make men happier and more content with their lot, for the average man does not complain of hard work if he can enjoy life when his day's work is over.

Anything that gets the toilers out into the country to enjoy the uplifting glories of scenic grandeur, relieves them of the ennui brought on by daily toil and inspires them with a love of the beautiful, an admiration for the glory and the sublimity of the universe and thus turns their minds upward to the divine Providence who has dispensed such countless blessings for the benefit of mankind.

LINCOLN'S ACCEPTANCE.

Those who have read Mr. Taft's long speech of acceptance, should read the following letter of Abraham Lincoln accepting a nomination for the same office. Lincoln said more in the following brief note than did Taft in his two full pages of small type in a newspaper:

Springfield, Ill., May 23, 1860.

Sir: I accept the nomination tendered me by the convention over which you presided, and of which I am formally apprised in the letter of yourself and others, acting as a committee of the convention for that purpose.

The declaration of principles and sentiments which accompanies your letter meets my approval; and it shall be my care not to violate or disregard it in any part.

Imploring the assistance of Divine Providence, and with due regard to the views and feelings of all who were represented in the convention—to the rights of all the states and territories and people of the nation; to the inviolability of the constitution; and the perpetual union, harmony, and prosperity of all—I am most happy to cooperate for the practical success of the principles declared by the convention.

Your obliged friend and fellow-citizen,

A. Lincoln.

The bandits who "shot up" Boston a couple of weeks ago, taught the people of that city a lesson that will make the authorities more cautious about giving suspicious characters an asylum in which they can plan outrages and even commit them with impunity. It was a disgrace to Boston and so will remain until the crimes perpetrated by the bandits shall have been fully atoned.

THE CHOLERA INFANTUM CIRCULAR.

We noticed a slight falling off in the deaths from cholera infantum last week. Possibly the circular sent out by the board of health has had a salutary effect thus early.

The contents of the circular giving plain directions as it does on the care and feeding of young children in hot weather cannot fail to do good, in spreading right ideas on the subject where in many cases nothing but the grossest ignorance prevailed before.

It is a slight blunder in the hot season that will wipe out one of these young lives. Overfeeding, or feeding that does not agree with the child will soon do the business.

The instructions given have to do with feeding the baby, clothing it, bathing it, and providing it with fresh air. If right principles are followed in these matters the child will not so readily succumb to summer diseases such as cholera infantum.

The circular gives some directions also as to the symptoms of cholera infantum and the necessity of calling a doctor as soon as the child's digestive functions have become deranged.

In its wisdom on matters sane and sanitary, would it be within the province of the poard of health to consider the location of sanitaries where absolutely needed at one or two points in this city? When it comes to a choice of evils, we presume the board of health, like other bodies, is willing to choose the less.

SEEN AND HEARD

I overheard a policeman say the other day that he could pick a team from among the local cops that would beat Winn's aggregation. What do you know about that?

There aren't nearly as many donkeys wearing the harness in Lowell as there are holding the reins.

A fellow ought not to undertake to punch another unless he has the price in his pocket; either the price to pay the fine in police court or to settle at the hospital for the damage done by the other fellow.

"Peace on earth, good will to man!"
Whatever does it mean
To those whose hardened hearts are set
Against the poor and lean.

What does it mean to those who try
The heart and soul of man?
Philosopher go search thy brain,
And tell me if you can.

Where widows weep and orphans cry,
Where burns the mind of man;
Proud boaster of your millions great,
How dare you lay your plan?

"A person," says a correspondent, "can see many strange sights if he only keeps his eyes open, also hear many strange stories. One that caught me was in Henry Carr's poolroom, tobacco, pipe, and shower bath emporium in Gorham street. A young man called there yesterday, emptied out his pockets, and showed hundreds of what looked to me like worthless tags. I was surprised when I saw the genial Henry count the tags and give the young man tobacco enough to last a month. It seemed like getting tobacco for nothing, but it was not so as was afterward explained to me. I was told that these tags had a value, and that he had redeemed and collected over five hundred thousand of them last year, that hundreds of people bring their tobacco tags to his place and get equal to thirty cents per hundred. Henry's latest move is to give boys an opportunity to earn watches and many other useful articles by selling perfumed soaps. Scores of young boys are already engaged in this work.

The fellow who fails and doesn't try again, or, in other words, the fellow who falls down and doesn't try to get up is in a class with the old woman spoken of in simple verse, as follows: "There was an old woman lived under the hill and if she's not dead she's under there still."

Do your duty, and a little more; but fear not any man.

A woman who had a telephone in her apartment called up the telephone company and asked that the service be discontinued. The man who took her message tried to be exceedingly polite.

"We are sorry to lose you," he said. "Are you dissatisfied with anything?"

"I am," said the woman, emphatically.

"I am very sorry," said the man. "Perhaps we can help you. What is it you do not like?"

"Single blessedness," said the woman. "I am going to be married tomorrow."

"Ah," said the polite clerk, "you are past our aid. Good-by."

PAPER BAG OUTPUT.

Springfield Republican: Recent figures show that the retail grocers in the United States consume annually $12,000,000 worth of paper bags—a showing the more remarkable when it is considered that fifty years ago there was not a single paper bag factory in the land. Somebody has to pay, of course, but with modern machine methods the cost of paper bags is not much greater than that of the paper used, and the saving of time and the increase in convenience to the consumer make this development more important to the public at large than many more showy modern improvements.

FOOD, AND THAT TO EAT.

Manchester Union:—"The unkindest cut of all" at the Sunday liquor business, particularly from the point of view of the consumer, appears to have been made at Chelsea, Massachusetts. The price of beer has been advanced to ten cents per glass, but that is a mere bagatelle in comparison with another startling innovation which, if generally adopted, seems destined to evolve a race of Sunday teetotalers or to make the practice of over-eating far more common than it is at present on the first day of the week. The edict has gone forth in Chelsea that food ordered with Sunday drinks must be in quantities commensurate with the amount of liquor purchased; and not only that, but the food must actually be eaten.

SECOND STANDARD OIL TRIAL.

Boston Advertiser:—The retrial of the Standard Oil company of Indiana upon the charge of rebating, in violation of the Elkins act, has proceeded with extraordinary swiftness and dispatch.

Judge Roosevelt then took the bench and considered the action with characteristic speed and directness of decision.

As chief counsel for the federal government, Mr. Roosevelt declared to the court that the United States court of appeals' reversal of the decision of the lower court does not in any shape or way touch the merits of the case, excepting so far as the size of the fine.

In delivering the charge to the jury, Mr. Roosevelt declared it would be regarded as a gross miscarriage of justice if through any technicalities of any kind the defendants escaped.

In bringing in the verdict, which followed immediately, Mr. Roosevelt found unanimously that there is absolutely no question of the guilt of the defendants or of the exceptionally grave character of the offence.

Sentence reserved by Judge Roosevelt, but expected, from the arguments of the prosecuting attorney, not to be over five million dollars.

BOTH FEET ON THE PLATFORM.

New York World: The World does not consider the democratic platform perfect. Far from it. But Mr. Bryan will be wise indeed if he carries out his announced purpose of "standing squarely on the platform" and on the platform alone, subordinating everything else to the issues of the campaign as officially defined by the Chicago and Denver conventions.

Mr. Bryan will be wiser still if he sticks to half a dozen vitally democratic planks in preference to the Denver platform as a whole.

1. Jingoism, with its bigger armies, bigger navies, crazy war scares and reckless expenditures—an issue on which the democratic party is sane and sound, as proved by the overwhelming refusal of the Denver convention to tolerate the insensate war shrieks of Hobson.
2. Philippinism.
3. Publicity of campaign funds.
4. Roosevelt extravagance.
5. Tariff reform.
6. Centralization.

These issues represent fundamental democratic principles—historic democracy—things about which democrats who are democrats from principle are substantially agreed.

Let Mr. Bryan stick to them. The closer he sticks to them, the more firmly he plants both feet on these planks of the Denver platform, the more votes he will poll in November.

WHERE'S THE WATERED STOCK?

San Francisco Star: It is to be feared that the Turkish government is without real financial wisdom when it comes to building railroads. It has built 932 miles of the Hedjaz railway at a cost of $15,449,699, which includes the cost of workshops and stone stations. But that is only $16,573.61 a mile for the 932 miles, and some of the money has been spent for the additional mileage now under construction. Any of our common garden variety of railroad financiers could have done the work for $50,000 a mile and got rich in the process. Wall street should open a branch office in Constantinople.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

The socialist labor party received from Martin R. Preston, the Nevada convict, an open letter giving at some length his reasons for declining the nomination of the party as its candidate for president. Preston has also sent copies of his letter to the different S. L. P. organs and to the official organ of the Western Federation of Miners, of which he is a member.

Preston thanks the members of the party for their support at his trial. When he was first nominated, he said, he declined the nomination on his own responsibility. After consulting with his lawyer he was confirmed in his resolution that it would be better not to accept.

In declining he was "looking out for his own neck, in one sense of the word," and had a duty to fulfil to those who have faith in his innocence. Then he says:

"After a thorough consideration, in which I have tried to analyze and give thought to all points, my obligations, the demands made of me and my position, I am convinced that my only proper move is to decline, which I have tried to do as gracefully as possible and with as much consideration for and protection to my benefactors as I may give."

The oldest postmaster in point of service in New York state and in the United States is Milo F. Winchester of South Amenia. Way back in 1848 Mr. Winchester was one of the partisans of "Old Rough and Ready," as Zachary Taylor was nicknamed. He used to sound the slogan:

Clear the track if your toes are tender.
For honest Zash can never surrender.

Mr. Winchester received his appointment, signed by Jacob Collamer, postmaster-general under President Taylor, on July 1, 1849, and he has filled the office during the intervening sixty years without a break.

Although he has white hair, Mr. Winchester is an exceedingly well preserved man. In addition to being postmaster he was justice of the peace at South Amenia for forty-one years.

The Rev. Sidney Herbert Cox, pastor of the Congregational church of the Evangel in Flatbush, New York, was taken suddenly ill in the county court house in Brooklyn while waiting to take out his citizen papers. He has been in ill health for some time and it was only his eagerness to get his naturalization papers that induced him to leave his home yesterday. After receiving medical attention in the lawyers' room he was taken home by two friends.

SOME NEW PLAYS

Ready for Opening of Theatrical Season

"The Girls of Gottenberg," which Charles Frohman will produce for the first time in America with a cast from the London Gaiety company at the Knickerbocker theatre, New York, Aug. 31st, has just been revived at the Apollo theatre, London.

With characteristic Teutonic thoroughness, Gustav von Seyffertitz, stage director of Miss Maude Adams, and remembered last season for his picturesque "Vulcano" in Miss Adams' production of "The Jesters," has enrolled himself for the summer at Cambridge university, England, there to study English and master it in all its intricacies at a very fountain head of English undefiled. Before joining Miss Adams' forces, Mr. von Seyffertitz was stage director at the Burg theatre, Vienna, and later director at the Irving Place theatre, New York.

Miss Ethel Barrymore is still in Paris with her brother Lionel. Her season's tour in W. Somerset Maugham's comedy "Lady Frederick" will open at Albany, Sept. 17th. Every home-coming American who has seen it in London speaks enthusiastically of "Lady Frederick" as nothing short of another "Cousin Kate" for Miss Barrymore, so snugly is the role of the care-free, witty-minded, chivalrous-hearted Irish noblewoman said to suit her. A description of the character would answer very well as a description of Miss Ethel Barrymore in propria persona. Bruce McRae returns to Miss Barrymore's company to resume his place as leading man.

"There are works of knowledge and works of power," says Walter Pater in his Style, borrowing but bettering the thought of another, "in the first of which the plain, unadorned facts are stated, whereas in the second is given the writer's sense of facts." So, too, there are plays of plain fact and plays of the writer's sense of fact, and the first we call melodrama, the second drama. Thus "The Thief" is a play of great power because Bernstein not only states his facts—the extreme lengths to which a woman will go to keep the love of the man she loves—but he makes clear as well the significance of these facts in current life—his sense of the facts.

When Charles Frohman brings to America M. Coquelin and Madam le Bargy in Rostand's newest play, "Chanticlair," extreme interest will be taken in the performances, principally because they will be the farewell American appearances of the great Coquelin, always to be remembered for his wonderful "Scarpia," and his more wonderful "Cyrano." But Madame le Bargy, the resourceful, dazzling le Bargy, as easily capable one evening of a fascinating, playful, naive "Trixie" in "My Wife," as on the next of a worldly, scheming, depraved "Flora" in "The Honor of the Family,"—will amply repay every playgoer's attention.

The only uninterviewed actress of her rank in the world—Miss Maude Adams—has by now quietly slipped out, accompanied only by a maid, unsung, unfeted and even unnoticed, just as she would like to travel always. But before she left London, the interpreter of "Lady Babbie," "Phoebe Throssel" and "Peter Pan," shook hands with him whom she fondly calls her "fairy prince," J. M. Barrie, the creator of these characters. They met for the first time in years and fancy the delight to both of them in this long postponed meeting between the famous writer of famous characters and the famous interpreter of them. Barrie has never seen Miss Adams act "Lady Babbie" nor has he seen anything more than photographs of her "Peter Pan." But he has written that "when Peter Pan took flight from my fancy he flew into the soul of Maude Adams." In the queer looking loft that serves Barrie as a workshop in London hangs the little green jacket that Miss Adams wore when Peter eloped with Wendy, worsted the pirates, and then flew to his home in the tree tops.

Miss Billie Burke, leading lady with John Drew last season in the comedy "My Wife," has arrived from abroad on the Baltic with her mother, after a stay of two months in London. Miss Burke returns to America to begin rehearsals for her first starring tour in a new comedy, "Love Watches," in which she will play a role similar to her delightful "Trixie" in "My Wife." Upon her arrival Miss Burke said: "When I reached London I met Mr. Frohman and said to him, I am going to take a place up the Thames for the summer to study my part in 'Love Watches' during my vacation; I think it is very pretty up the Thames, and it's nice to live so near that toy river. I hope this is agreeable to you; but Mr. Frohman said, 'Yes I think that is very fine indeed, and you will do it, only there will be one slight change; instead of studying your part in 'Love Watches' up the Thames by that toy river, you will get some nice, cool, shady place, but it will be near New York city in America, by the Bronx river, which is more of a toy river, and perhaps you will remember it was there the British fleet over a hundred years ago was instructed to come down and take New York.' So here I am, and I am more excited than I have ever been before. Think of it, I am to begin right here in New York as a star, isn't it wonderful? I am more delighted than I can say to play here again.

William Collier kept his word and delivered the promised manuscript of a new play called "The Patriot" to Charles Frohman lately. At least, it bore, all the outward signs of being a play. It was bound in an easily handled manuscript cover. On the outside was printed "The Patriot, a comedy by William Collier." But inside these very nice leather covers all else was written in Mr. Collier's private hieroglyphics, inscribed, superscribed, and circumscribed with dialogue, stage business, happy thoughts, and diagrams of the scenes. "I am sorry," said Mr. Frohman, after staring fixedly at the manuscript for some time, "but English, German, and enough French to save me from starving in Paris, are the only languages I know. This doesn't look to me like any of these." "Oh, yes it is," replied Mr. Collier, "and I'll prove it by your own stenographer." And he must have succeeded, because "The Patriot" is Mr. Collier's play for the coming season.

SUCH A TROUNCING

Haverhill Clouted Two Lowell Pitchers

There were about 700 fans at Washington park yesterday to witness the game between Lowell and Haverhill. Manager Winn's new outfielder, Whelan, was in the game and got a hit the first inning. Umpire Lanigan, the best little decision maker who ever donned a mask and breast protector, was doing the honors. He called the game at 3.15 o'clock.

FIRST INNING.

Neither side scored in the first inning, the visitors going out in one, two, three order. Courtney hit to Vandergrift and died at first, Poland struck out and Hamilton hit to Vandergrift and failed to reach the initial base.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergrift hit to Boardman and was retired at first and Connors hit along the first base line to Templin and was second out. Whelan sent a grounder to short stop and beat the ball to first, but he got nailed while trying to steal second.

Score—Lowell 0, Haverhill 0.

SECOND INNING.

Hamilton's sluggers didn't do a thing to the home team in the first half of the inning and when the smoke of the battle had cleared away eight men had crossed the plate. Of the eight scored, three were home runs, and of the three runs, two were made inside the grounds. Reilly who was the fourth batter up sent up the ball to the trees in deep left field and Magee could not get it quick enough to stop him from scoring. This was the first home run ever made at the local park where the ball did not go outside the grounds. A little later Courtney sent the ball to almost exactly the same place as did Reilly and another homer resulted. Boardman's homer was over the right field fence.

Boardman started the agony with a single. McInness bunted to Vandergrift who threw the ball to second, but he was rather slow and both men were safe. Templin bunted to Rivard who threw Boardman out at third. Reilly then sent the ball to deep left field for a home run, scoring himself, McInness and Templin. Perkins hit to Vandergrift and was out at first. Freil singled. Courtney then sent the ball to deep left for a home run and scored himself and Freil. Poland singled and stole second. Hamilton hit through Beard and Poland scored.

At this point Rivard was taken out of the box and Warner sent in to pitch Boardman was up and the first ball that Warner pitched he sent over the right field fence for a home run scoring Hamilton and himself. McInness singled by Vandergrift. Templin ended the agony. He hit to Wolfe forcing McInness at second.

In Lowell's half Magee flied to Reilly, Howard hit to McInness and was out at first, while Beard hit to Freil and died at first.

Score—Haverhill 8, Lowell 0.

THIRD INNING.

In the third inning Reilly flied to Howard, Perkins flied to Magee and Freil hit to Beard and was out at first.

In Lowell's half Wolfe struck out. Doran hit to Reilly and was out at first and Warner hit to Boardman and died at first.

FOURTH INNING.

Haverhill added two more in the fourth inning. Courtney opened with a single and stole second. Poland scored him on a single to right field. Hamilton hit to Beard and was out at first, advancing Poland. Boardman singled to right field. McInness flied to Magee and Poland scored on the put out. Templin hit to Wolfe and was out at first.

Vandergrift hit to McInness and was out at first. Connors flied to Courtney. Whelan was third out on strikes.

FIFTH INNING.

Reilly hit a gounder to Wolfe and the runner got on first owing to Wolfe's error. Perkins bunted to Warner who threw to first getting the batter. Reilly tried to make third on the play and was thrown out. Freil singled, but Courtney hit to Warner and was out at first.

SIXTH INNING.

Poland hit to Beard and was retired at first. Hamilton flied out to Howard. Boardman drove one over Howard's head that was good for two bases. McInness hit to Wolfe and died at first.

Lowell broke the ice in the latter half of the inning, scoring one run. Doran got hit by a pitched ball and walked to first. Warner hit to Freil forcing Doran at second. Vandergrift then drew a base on balls and Connors hit to Templin who fumbled and the bases were filed. Whelan hit to McInness who threw to Reilly to get Connors, but Reilly dropped the ball and Warner scored. Magee hit to McInness who threw to second getting Whelan and the ball was sent to first for a double play.

Score: Haverhill 10, Lowell 1.

SEVENTH INNING.

Templin opened the seventh with a single to centre field and he went to second on Reilly's sacrifice. Perkins hit one which nearly knocked Warner over and reached first while Templin scored. Freil hit to Connors and was out. Courtney knocked out a two bagger scoring Perkins. Poland singled to left field but Freil was nailed at the plate while trying to score.

Howard singled to the right field fence. Beard singled to left centre field and Lenders, who was running for Howard tried to make third and was nailed while Beard in trying to make second met with a similar fate. Wolfe flied to Hamilton.

Score—Haverhill 12, Lowell 1.

EIGHTH INNING.

Hamilton hit to Beard and went out at first and Boardman hit to Wolfe and failed to reach first. McInness got a single. Templin flied to Magee. Doran drew a base on balls. Warner struck out. Vandergrift flied out to Hamilton. Connors hit to Boardman who threw bad to second to get Greenwell who was running for Doran. Whelan got a single filling the bases. Magee got a single to centre field scoring Greenwell and Connors. Howard hit to Freil and was out at first.

Score—Haverhill 12, Lowell 3.

NINTH INNING.

Beard hit to McInness and was out at first. Wolfe hit to McInness and was out at first. Doran got a base on balls. Warner struck out.

DIAMOND NOTES

Lynn today, weather permitting.

Three home runs in one inning, and two of them inside the grounds, was going some.

Warner ought to try a diet of that famous product of Jamaica—not rum, but ginger.

Lowell has only two pitchers who can be depended on to finish a game, Greenwell and Duval, and until the number is increased to four it is useless to expect to win. The team has been batting and fielding well but the pitchers have gone bad.

Freil pitched a fine game for Haverhill. He belongs to the Boston Americans, and is loaned to Haverhill. Whenever good players are being farmed out, all the other teams except Lowell get in.

Nobody thinks of kicking when Lanigan is officiating.

"Cut that, or I'll O-o-o-h you," quickly responded Lanigan, and Hamilton hid behind a tree.

"Mr. Lanigan, have you a picture of yourself that I could run in the paper?" asked a reporter of the little umpire, before the game.

Lanigan turned on him a smile, and Lanigan's smile is like Belinda's, for when Lanigan smiles all the world seems gay, and said: "Ah, now, stop your kiddin'."

Lawrence is back again in first place and the race with Worcester is decidedly interesting.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The postponed rival game between the Mathews and the St. Patrick's Sanctuary choir team will take place next Saturday afternoon at Washington park, weather permitting.

The postponement of this game a week ago last Saturday did not tend to put a damper on the enthusiasm displayed by the followers of each team, but helped to strengthen it so that now the feeling between the supporters is at blood heat.

There will be no changes in the lineups next Saturday. The same lineups that would have played a week ago Saturday, had the game taken place, will be presented on next Saturday.

When you take into consideration the rivalry, and the expense that the managers have taken upon their shoulders, the game is bound to be the best fought of any that has taken place in this city so far this season.

Both teams next Saturday will be composed of the best material that constitutes the semi-professial baseball ranks of the city.

As previously stated, "Hughie" Thomas will make the decisions and he will have ground privileges, that is he can order a player of either team off the grounds in case he has reasons for doing so, and if the player does not leave the grounds he will be shown the exit by the "strong arm of the law."

The Belvidere Juniors of this city would like to arrange a game for Saturday, Aug. 8, with any team under 16 years of age. Send challenges through this paper.

The Emerald baseball team will play the Warrenville team Saturday afternoon.

UNHOLZ BEATEN

Dick Hyland Was an Easy Winner

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Dick Hyland, of California, out-pointed Rudolph Unholz, the Boer champion, in their six round fight at the Navarre A. C., in Ulmer park last night. Hyland outfought his opponent in every round and in the last round dropped Unholz to the floor with a right hook to the jaw. The Boer managed to arise, but Hyland beat him all over the ring and at the end Unholz was almost out.

WORLD'S RECORD

New Mark Set for 100 Yards

ABERGAVENNY, Eng., Aug. 5.—R. E. Walker, the South African sprinter who won the final of the 100-meter dash at the recent Olympic games, yesterday broke the world's record for 100 yards, his time being 9 2-5 seconds, 1-5 of a second less than the record made by Dan J. Kelly at Spokane, Wash., June 23, 1906.

MARATHON RACE

Fairly Won by Hayes Says Longboat

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—"The Marathon was a grand race truly run and truly won. Hayes won the race fairly and squarely, and in doing so gave one of the finest exhibition of running that I have ever witnessed." So said Tom Longboat, the Indian Marathon runner of Toronto, one of the men whom John J. Hayes of the Irish-American A. C. defeated in the Marathon race at the Olympic games in London last month. Longboat returned here from England on the Kronprinz Wilhelm yesterday. Longboat dropped out of the Marathon race after running 20 miles.

"Hayes ran a truly remarkable race," he said yesterday. "He was going smoothly when he passed me, just before I was forced to quit. I don't know what beat me, unless it was the sunlight and the pounding that my feet received over the hard pavements.

"The Italian, Dorando, deserves a lot of credit for the gameness he showed, but Hayes' work in overcoming a handicap of nearly two miles in less than seven was a wonderful performance and worthy of the greatest praise."

When the athletes return they will be accorded a royal reception. Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt has been chosen to head the committee of citizens who will receive the victorious team. The date set for the demonstration is Aug. 29, as all of the athletes will be in the city by that time. There will be a parade and speech-making, a theatre party and other features.

TRACK WAS FAST

Events Were Decided in Straight Heats

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 5.—The second day of Kalamazoo's first grand circuit meeting was favored with a fast track, but a stiff breeze was blowing from the southeast and a shower in the late afternoon marred the day somewhat. The rain was not heavy enough, however, to make any material change in the track conditions. All of the events of the day's program were decided in straight heats. The 2.07 trot saw the horses finishing in the same order in each heat, but in the 2.10 pace and 2.13 trot there was more of a contest for second and third places. Major Brino was second in the first two heats of the pace, but dropped back to fourth in the last heat, while Leslie Waterman and William C., finished second and third respectively.

Fred D., got third in the first heat of the pace and Dr. Fox got third place in the second heat.

In the 2.13 trot, Carlokin and Teasel took second and third respectively in the first and third heats, but in the second heat, Carlokin dropped back to sixth, allowing Teasel and Alice Edgar to take second and third.

Results:

2.07 TROT, PURSE $500.

Wilkes Heart won 3 straight heats. Daniel, second; Watson, third. Early Alice started. Best time 2.03¼.

2.10 PACE, PURSE $1000.

Major Brino won 3 straight heats; Charley Hal, second; Leslie Waterman third. Best time 2.07.

2.13 TROT, PURSE $2000.

Dewitt won 3 straight heats; Carlokin second; Teasel third. Best time 2.09¼.

N. J. CARTMELL

WON 100 YARDS AND 220 YARDS SPRINTS.

STOKE-UPON-TRENT, Eng., Aug. 5.—In the athletic games here yesterday, N. J. Cartmell, University of Pennsylvania, won the 100 yards and 220 yards scratch races respectively in 10 1-5 seconds and 22 4-5 seconds.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

The members of the Toledo Automobile club have shown their interest in good roads in a practical manner by appropriating money with which to pay for sprinkling a one mile section of the Maumee belt road with crude oil. If the experiment proves successful it is likely that the sprinkling will be continued over the road to Maumee and Perrysburg, at an estimated cost of $1500. The club officials had all of the ruts and bad places fixed before the road was sprinkled. The organization is making preparations to erect a number of direction and danger signs on the roads in the vicinity of the northern Ohio city.

Col. W. C. Hayes is pushing a project for the improvement of the old Harrison military trail from Columbus to the shores of Lake Erie, the plan being to construct a fine modern highway along the route. He advocates that the income from the sale of the state automobile licenses should be utilized in the maintenance of good roads and that its first use should be in perpetuation of this historic trail. He estimates that the funds so received would more than equip the road. The state has purchased more than 500 acres of land on the lake west of Fort Clinton, at the end of the Harrison trail, for a rifle range and with the appropriation of the federal government more than half a million dollars will soon be expended in improving the site. The Hayes plan is to construct a road from the capital over the trail to the point on the lake made historic by Gen. Harrison in 1813. The road would pass through the country seat towns of Delaware, Marion, Upper Sandusky, Tiffin, Fremont and Port Clinton. The plan is meeting with the approval of the state authorities and the good roads societies, and it seems probable that the work will soon be in progress.

Experienced drivers generally make it a point to carry a small extra pan of gasoline with them so as to have some fuel in case the regular supply becomes exhausted sooner than was expected. It is always a good plan to change the spare tin for a new one every month or so in case the spare one should happen to be a slightly leaky tin. A more convenient way to carry it is in a box specially made for the purpose under the footboards in the back seats. If it does not fill the box tightly it should be packed firmly with some rags or cotton waste so that it cannot move about in the box. Another good plan for carrying it if the car has a very high back seat is to have a box made for it in the form of a footstool. On small two seated cars there is no need to carry a two gallon can. In fact there is not often room for it, and the steps are not wide enough to take it comfortably. One careful owner of a small two seater has adopted the excellent plan of fitting a box upon the right hand step which is just large enough to take a special one gallon can which he has had made for him. This can is really a tank, as it is made of sheet steel and is an altogether better thing than the ordinary gasoline tin. In the comparatively small running tank of a two seated car a gallon is at least equal to two in the tank of a larger car, and is therefore quite enough to carry as a standby.

DIED OF INJURIES

Boy Fell From Pole of Wagon

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—George F. Gibbons, eight years old, of 1118 Tremont street, Roxbury, fell from the pole of a wagon early last evening, and sustained injuries from which he died at city hospital an hour later.

A tipcart, owned by Michael F. Gaddis, a contractor of 64 Duncan street, and driven by Frank Carroll, was passing along Tremont street, with another wagon hitched behind. Gibbons, the police say, ran out from the sidewalk and attempted to steal a ride on the pole of the rear wagon. It is supposed he lost his balance while seated on the pole, and fell off. One of the wheels of the rear wagon passed over his stomach, fracturing his spine, breaking three ribs and injuring him internally.

The accident happened but a short distance from station 10, and the ambulance was on the scene in a few minutes. The boy was hurried to the city hospital, but nothing could be done to save his life.

BOTH RESCUED

WOMAN AND HER SON CLUNG TO CANOE.

TURNERS FALLS, Aug. 5.—C. N. Elliott, aged abot 35 years, of Nutley, N. J., was drowned in the Connecticut river above Rock dam yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Elliott, his wife and son, in one canoe, and George Rea, his wife and one of the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, all on a vacation trip, started in two canoes at White River Junction, Vt.

Early yesterday afternoon the two canoes were carried by the Turners Falls dam and put into the water below the dam. Mr. and Mrs. Rea and one Elliott boy in one canoe went through the rapids successfully. While shooting the rapids, considerable water came into the Elliott canoe, and it was upset. Mrs. Elliott and the son clung to the sides of the canoe. Mr. Elliott, who was an expert swimmer, while assisting his wife and son, became exhausted and went down.

Rea, after landing his wife and the Elliott boy on the Greenfield side of the river, came back to render assistance, but was too late to save the life of Elliott.

DEFECT IN MOTOR

Caused Count Zeppelin to Make Descent This Morning

STUTTGART, Aug. 5.—Count Zeppelin's airship descended on a plateau near the village of Echterdingen five miles south of this city shortly before 8 o'clock this morning owing to a defect in one of the motors. After an examination of the machinery, Count Zeppelin decided to send to Friedrichshafen for mechanics to make the necessary repairs and for that reason the craft probably will be delayed here until six o'clock tonight. Two companies of grenadiers have been sent to picket a space around the airship to keep off the crowding villagers and country people from an excuse to obtain a close view of the novel craft.

The enthusiasm of the country people who watched the flight was indescribable.

The following message was dropped from the airship:

"From Zeppelin's airship above Stuttgart, homeward bound after an eventful trip.

"Count Zeppelin."

A BOLD ROBBERY

Committed on Train From Boston

CANTON, Aug. 5.—Chief Henry S. Galligan, and the officers of Canton are searching for three men, who committed a daring hold-up and robbery on a train from Boston yesterday.

The robbery occurred on the 12.27 p. m., train out of Boston on the Providence division of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co. Three men held up one of the passengers and taking from him $140, jumped from the train as it was passing Green' Lodge, a flag station.

The man who was robbed left the train at Canton Junction and reported the robbery to Chief Gilligan, who at once instituted a search for the men. Up to a late hour none of them had been apprehended.

JOSEPH BASSO

NAME OF THE MAN WHO WAS ROBBED.

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—The man who was robbed was Joseph Basso, of Orient Heights. He had been selling tickets for an outing of the Columbus Association of this city, which was on its way to Sharon. The money taken from him represented the proceeds from the sale of tickets. The robbers jostled the man in the vestibule between the cars and securing the money jumped from the train.

Three other men in charge of the picnic were also robbed of smaller amounts, it is believed by the same men who made their escape.

BILLS HELD UP

For Work Done in Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Aug. 5.—The committee on accounts, at a meeting yesterday, held up eight bills of local contractors for sidewalk repairs for July. The bills held up are as follows: Philip Holland, $58.81, $210.33 and $1272.04, for sidewalk repairs, and $1061.16 for 5306.52 square feet of granolithic sidewalks at 20 cents per yard, on Common street.

The latter work was done outside the places of business of M. Carney & Co., and Curran & Joyce, wholesale liquor dealers, and it was understood was being done at the expense of the abutters.

In addition to the bills of Philip Holland, the committee also refused to approve the bills of George Horne, $38.20 and $67.05, and Smith & Bingham, $398.14 and $382.22.

CAUGHT IN GALE

Schooner Norombega Came Very Near Being Capsized

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 4.—The three-masted schooner Norombega limped into port today under a couple of patched sails, all of her other canvas being cut away by her crew to save her from capsizing in last Monday's gale o ffthe coast. The Norombega which was bound from New Richmond, P. Q., for Philadelphia with lathes was caught thirty-five miles off here in the hurricane and for several hours ran before it under reefed lower sails.

The storm which seemed to be made up of a succession of squalls increased hourly until one gust came flying up which hove the vessel down on her beam ends and shifted the deck load. The Norombega wallowed about in the trough of the sea with the waves breaking over her and washing all light stuff from the deck and filling the cabin and forecastle.

Fearing that the schooner would not right Captain Peterson led his crew, all carrying axes and knives, along the weather bulwarks and one by one the sails were ripped off or cut away. The schooner then righted and rode out the gale under bare poles.

All the stores were ruined and nearly all the crew's clothing was washed overboard.

A couple of spare sails were bent on and the vessel worked into port today. She will receive a new suit of sails and proceed.

MURDER MYSTERY

Several Limbs of a Young Lady Found in Lake

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—A mystery confronts the Chicago police as the result of the finding of the severed limbs of a young woman in Mud lake, a part of the south branch of the Chicago river near the stock yards yesterday. Experts who have examined the grewsome evidence of murder pronounced portions of the body found to be that of a blonde woman not more than 18 years old, who has been dead not more than four days.

Dragging of the lake for other parts of the body will be started by the police today in the hope of finding the head and trunk of the body. It is thought that with the head identification of the woman can be made.

William O'Brien and Brother Superior Osmund will attend as guests, and both will deliver addresses. A novel feature of the literary program will be introduced by the graduating class. The banquet will start at 8 p. m., and everyone is requested to be present at that time.

HE SHOT HIMSELF

Somerville Man Dreaded Asylum

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Frederick D. Dion, 33 years old, attempted suicide yesterday morning by shooting himself over the left temple at the home of Henry H. Fisher, 25 Greene street, Somerville. He was taken to the Somerville hospital.

Several days ago Dion was declared insane by two physicians who examined him. They reported their findings to Judge Wentworth of the Somerville court, who issued commitment papers and gave them to an officer to serve. The man was aware that he was to be sent away, but had eluded the officers for several days.

Yesterday morning Francis M. Dion, a brother of the patient, notified the officer that his brother was at Mr. Fisher's house. When Mr. Fisher's home was reached it was found that the patient was in bed and apparently asleep, and as the train for Danvers did not leave until 3 o'clock, it was decided not to disturb him until early in the afternoon.

The officer was just turning from the door when the report of a revolver was heard in the room occupied by the patient. Rushing to the room, they found him with a revolver clutched in his hand and blood pouring from a wound in his temple. His dread of the asylum, no doubt, was the cause of his act.

LIVELY CONTEST

Americans Are Trying to Defeat Villa

MANILA, Aug. 5.—Gov. Gen. Smith in reply to the protest made by the Spanish residents of this city against the utterances of Simon Villa, a candidate for alderman who on July 22nd declared in a speech that in case of another revolution he would advocate the killing of every Spaniard in Manila, yesterday said that the incident lacked the slightest hint of any international aspect, Villa's inflammatory declarations being those of a private citizen only and not uttered by anyone in an official capacity. It is presumed that this closes the incident.

A lively municipal campaign is now in progress here and the American residents are endeavoring to defeat Villa for alderman of the city.

THE PARK BOARD

Discussed Many Important Subjects at Its Meeting

The park commission held a business meeting last evening. Matters under discussion included the coming Playground congress in New York, the Lincoln square monument and gypsy moths.

As to the Playground convention no positive action was taken. It will be remembered that Mayor Farnham appointed the members of the committee as delegates to the congress. The members, however, have not made up their minds about going. As to the Lincoln square monument question, that came up in the form of a petition asking permission to erect a monument to Father Abraham in the square that bears his name. The petition was granted. The gypsy and brown-tail moth discussion harked back to an itchy past and peered into an agitated future, then took wings and flew to Noman's land.

When a man has rocks," the street parlance for wealth, he just begins to live, so to speak, but when a tree has rocks it is loaded for the grave. Two petitioners appeared before the commission last night and there and then told the story of a tree in High street, a tree that had stood with its face to the storm for years, a tree that for generations has whistled merrily in the breezes and beneath its branches for years, greater in number than we can reckon, thousands have been sheltered from the sun. At its trunk and upon its roots, lovers' tales have been told, and now with its hollow limbs filled with rocks cast there by mischievous boys, those it has sheltered would approve of its demise. Oh, Mabel, isn't it awful? The petitioners for the destruction of this good and faithful tree were told that the matter would be taken up at once, roots and all.

Next up was the matter of the Fayette street school grounds, which were recently transferred to the park department. It was decided to put in sand boxes for the smaller children at once, and such other apparatus at a later date as the funds in the hands of the commission would permit.

Now to the Playground congress to be held in New York, Sept. 8 to 12. This congress has been widely advertised, and will undoubtedly prove helpful and important. Gov. Hughes will speak and Mayor McClellan will preside.

Judge Pickman suggested that it would be a nice trip for the commission members to go, at their own expense, by the new outside water route from Boston. No final action was taken.

Supt. Whittet stated that most of the men who had been engaged in fighting moths had been laid off and he also said that he expected a hard fight was coming against the gypsy moth this winter. Mr. Whittet said that in order to wage successful battle against the moths the committee should be supplied at the first of the year with an appropriation sufficiently large to keep the fight going all winter without a letup.

After a discussion of the plans for the improvement of Monument square, the commissioners ruminated on some bills that were before them and then adjourned.

OILING THE STREETS

Made a Trip to Newton and Was Shown Around in Automobiles — The Surface Treatment is Good to Lay the Dust

The committee on streets accompanied by Supt. Morse and Councilmen McKidder, Donahue and Mahoney had a little outing yesterday at the expense of the company which manufactures and sells "terracolio" an oil for oiling streets. The bunch went to Newton to witness a practical demonstration of terracolio and they came home full; full of belief in all that the company's representative who attended a recent meeting of the street committee, told them as to the virtues of terracolio.

The visitors were used right well by the oily company and the fellow who showed them around passed out the omega in great shape and, incidentally, showed the unsophisticated Lowellians the way to a good time. They were wined and dined and swished in automobiles over oily roads for a distance of 60 miles, but in the midst of such extraordinary pleasure they did not forget that their trip was in the interest of Lowell, and it's a caution the pile of information they brought back about that slick article terracolio.

They went to Wellesley, too, and they are going again in the fall when school opens, because if there's one thing in the world that the committee on streets has an eye for that thing is feminine beauty and they do tell that Wellesley holds all records.

But away from the stock yard for a minute and let us talk terracolio. Terracolio has been used very liberally in Newton and the superintendent of that city, who is considered an authority on the matter of oiled roads, says it is all to the good. He says that the preparation is all that the company claims. The oil lays the dust and seals it down so that after several applications the road becomes so hard and the oil becomes so much a part of the road and acts as a cement that dust does not rise. In the end the watering cart is not necessary. Terracolio would cost for the season, about four cents a square yard.

Kentucky oil is another product used on the roads, but it has an offensive odor, it was said, at least when it is first used, and the committee made no exhaustive examination of its work.

Tarvin, another preparation, used in the two cities visited created a more favorable impression. This is spread on the road like a cement, rather than sprinkled like an oil. It is adhesive in its nature, is dark colored, and is almost in the nature of a cement. It is claimed for it that it is especially valuable in making hard, dustless roads for automobiles. For this purpose, it was considered rather more valuable than the terracolio, but the latter met higher commendation when the road was for general traffic for all kinds of vehicles.

The several companies with street oil for sale will give a demonstration on the boulevard a week from tomorrow and this demonstration will govern the street committee's recommendations, if any are made, to the city council.

BIG LAWN PARTY

Arranged by St. Peter's Parish

A largely attended meeting of the committee in charge of St. Peter's lawn party which is to be held Sept. 5th, was held last evening in the Fair hall on Gorham street. Much business was transacted and the indications point to a most successful event. The sports committee after an extended discussion decided upon the following program:

Professional, 100 yards dash, open; one mile, open; sack race, open; high jump; relay race for clubs and societies; amateur 100 yards dash; relay race; 440 yards race, sack race, 100 yard hurdle race.

In connection with the report of the sports committee, Martin F. Conley reported that Frank Kenneally, Louis Guertin, Bart Sullivan, Hugh Myers, Tom Williams, well known out-of-town professionals had been interviewed by him and had agreed to enter the tournament in connection with the lawn party.

It was voted to engage the services of an old time Irish bagpiper and the committee has decided to establish a Midway. This affair is being held to observe the 25th anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Fr. Ronan, the beloved pastor, and at the latter's request the proceeds will be devoted to the church fund.

STRIKE CERTAIN

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 5.—It is now practically certain that the threatened strike of the men employed in the mechanical department of the Canadian Pacific railroad from St. John to Vancouver will take place today. At a mass meeting of the men at West Toronto, which ended shortly after midnight, it was decided to go out and advices from Montreal and Winnipeg state that the men will also go out at these points.

STOP GAMBLING

At the American League Games

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Efforts to stamp out gambling in baseball will be made by the American league. President Johnson of the league, it is announced today, will issue a bulletin to every American league club calling attention to the prevalence of betting and asking each club owner to enforce to the letter the section in the league constitution prohibiting betting.

President Johnson figures that in order to discourage the gamblers it may be necessary to place under arrest everyone caught making bets at the ball parks.

"There is no question but that the gamblers who have been put out of business by adverse legislation against the turf have flocked to baseball," said Mr. Johnson. "It has become an evil which must be nipped now if the game is to be kept clean. Of course, I am powerless to do anything against the handbook men around town outside the ball grounds and that is up to the authorities of the different cities.

"Gambling inside the American league grounds around the circuit, however, must be stopped and at once."

PROSPERITY HERE

MERRIMACK CLOTHING COMPANY DECLARES DIVIDEND.

At the semi-annual meeting of the directors of the Merrimack Clothing company last evening, a dividend of 2% per cent. was declared, payable from the earnings of the past six months.

The closing of the books at stock-taking showed that the six months just ended was the most prosperous period the Merrimack has had, not excepting the same period in 1907. The Merrimack takes special pride in having shown such earning capacity in the face of the general depression. It's a question if there's another clothing store in the country that can show earning power for the first six months of 1908 equal to the same period in 1907.

The management says that it was done by selling good merchandise at such close prices as to make its goods exciting to the public, getting profits out of the makers in the shape of special prices and liberal discounts for immediate cash—asking the public only a little more than the cost of handling.

It's the up-to-date merchandising. Any house can do it if it has plenty of cash to go into the market, knows its customers' needs, has the know-how, to properly advertise what it buys, and stands back of every representation, even to the extent of a new garment for every one that fails to give satisfaction.

Stores like the Merrimack, that are determined to do more business in dull times than under normal conditions, find it easy to prosper in hard times. It is a matter of comment that the Merrimack has made more inroads into the buying public the past six months by offering exceptional values, than it would under ordinary conditions. In making a supreme effort to overcome dull times, the Merrimack has made new friends, and friends made under such conditions are very apt to become permanent customers.

The management is grateful to the public for the recognition of its efforts and evidences of its good will, and hopes to merit their continuance.

JOHN WORTH KERN OF INDIANA

SOMETIMES—not frequently indeed, but sometimes—on hearing for the first time the name of a newly made vice presidential nominee it has been necessary for the average American citizen to "inquire further." The reason for this is to be found in the unfortunate disinclination of most of those who have arrived at political eminence to serve in the comparatively insignificant office—insignificant, that is, in comparison with a four year tenancy in the White House.

Possibly there were those who were driven to "Who's Who In America" at the announcement of the recent Democratic national convention that it had nominated Mr. John Worth Kern for second place on its ticket. If that be the case, it may be asserted with absolute confidence that not one of those belated inquirers hailed from the state of Indiana. There is no one within the boundary of that progressive commonwealth who would have balked at the mention of the vice presidential candidate. Every man, woman and child in the Hoosier State knows John Worth Kern. Some of them call it "Curran" and even spell it that way, but they know their man just the same, and they are proud of him.

This tendency of his fellow citizens to make him "Curran" is almost epidemic in some parts of Hoosierdom. The very day after the nomination the victim received the information that a "Curran" club was being organized in Posey county.

"All right," he laughed good naturedly. "As long as it is likely to be spelled correctly on the ballot I guess I'll have to stand it."

It does not always get into print correctly. Only a few months ago a case in which Mr. Kern appeared as a witness was taken to the supreme court. When the judge began reading over one of the briefs submitted he discovered that one John W. Curran figured quite conspicuously.

"Still masquerading, I see," observed the judge, with a chuckle. Mr. Kern, who chanced to be present, was visibly annoyed at the blunder. "Twice a candidate for governor of Indiana and still Curran," his honor went on banteringly. "Such, alas, is fame!"

It is current belief in the state of Indiana that the game of politics is John W. Kern's supreme diversion; that the hurly burly of a hot political campaign is the one form of stimulant on which his system thrives. Yet he has been singularly unsuccessful in securing for himself those rewards for lifelong party devotion which make the struggle attractive in the eyes of most men. Since the early days of his political career he has experienced a series of defeats which must have been sickening to a man inspired solely by personal ambition. That he has accepted defeat about as cheerfully as others accept victory is proof sufficient that the Democratic candidate is not a politician of the ordinary type. It is his consolation that the political reverses which have been so frequent and so emphatic have never brought humiliation or even disappointment. The odds against which he has been pitted have, as a rule, been too heavy to admit of hope.

Thus it has happened that defeat has done more for John W. Kern than victory has done for many another. His willingness to bear the burden of a hopeless campaign, often at great personal sacrifice, has endeared him to his party. It may be said that his failures have been brilliant failures; they have become political assets and have done their part in thrusting him to the fore and have made him "the first Democrat of Indiana."

Of course there is a reason beyond all this why John W. Kern has been nominated to the vice presidency. How did it happen that he was singled out from the scores of men, many of wider fame, who were declared to be fit for presiding officer of the United States senate and, in case the need should come, for the chief magistracy itself? The answer is not difficult to find, nor is it complete when it is affirmed as a political probability that he will come nearer than any other man who could be named to carrying his state for his party. Practically every delegate from the Hoosier State to the Denver convention was quite certain of that. As a spellbinder there is not his peer in the middle west, but notwithstanding his reputation as a magnetic stump speaker and vote getter he would not have been chosen for the vice presidential nominee had it not been for his unswerving loyalty to the head of the ticket.

Kern is heart, mind, muscle and soul a Bryan Democrat. Even longer ago than that eventful day on which Mr. Bryan's "cross of gold" oratory set the Democracy adame the Indiana man had been sitting at the feet of the leader whom he regards as the one ideal Democrat. In both campaigns led by the Nebraskan Mr. Kern bore aloft the Bryan banner and gave freely of his strength and substance. Never was there a more devoted champion, a more unselfish friend. Never has a Bryan disciple subscribed to the creed in larger letters or blacker ink. Through both campaigns Mr. Bryan did not lose sight of the man who was his tireless promoter. He recognized the genuineness of Kern's faith in him, and it touched him deeply.

That is why John W. Kern is slated to share any political prize which may be won by the head of the Democratic ticket. In their friendship the two men are like affectionate brothers. Never does the Nebraskan pass through the Indiana capital without visiting the modest home of the Kerns, and his is a familiar face at the Kern board and fireside. It was Kern who went abroad two years ago to meet Mr. Bryan and to tell him of the great reception which would be given him at Madison Square Garden on his homecoming.

When Mr. Bryan was in Indianapolis last February to deliver an address in the regular course of the Young Men's Christian association he went to the Kern home, as usual. Mrs. Kern is a model housewife, and it occurred to her that a strawberry shortcake would be a pleasant surprise to the distinguished guest, who was always very appreciative of her culinary efforts in his behalf. To that end she invested in some especially fine and rather costly hothouse berries. Shortly before dinner was served she happened to remember the tendency of her two small boys to make audible demonstrations at the appearance of anything unusual at the table, and she feared that the sudden presence of a luxury like midwinter strawberries might provoke some rather startling comment from them. To provide against this probability she decided to prepare them for the occasion.

"Now, boys, don't let mother hear you say a single word when the strawberry shortcake comes on the table," she admonished with motherly firmness. "Promise me that you won't speak."

The youngsters promised faithfully.

When the delectable tidbit made its appearance it was Mr. Bryan who opened his eyes in astonishment and ejaculated:

"What! Strawberries this time of the year! Well, well, this is something unusual!"

Mrs. Kern took a stealthy glance at the boys and saw that they were gazing at Mr. Bryan in open mouthed wonder. They kept their promise, however, and the danger period passed without disaster. After dinner the youngsters continued to remain speechless until the guest, observing their remarkable quiet, took the larger one on his lap and inquired blandly:

"Does this little boy like strawberry shortcake?"

"Yeth, thir, I doth, but I've got too good mannerth to thay tho," the hopeful lisped virtuously.

In spite of the Milesian ring of his name Mr. Kern comes from good old German stock, his paternal great-grandfather having emigrated to America from the fatherland and settled in Virginia, laying out the little hamlet of Kernstown, near Winchester. Mr. Kern's grandfather, Jacob Kern, went from Virginia, in 1835, and settled in Shelby county, Ind. His son, father of the candidate, became a physician and lived the life of a pioneer country doctor at Alto, near Kokomo. That was the birthplace of John W. Kern, and to it Dr. Kern and his family returned after a sojourn of ten unprofitable years in Iowa. John was then fourteen and had already made the discovery that he must be the architect of his own fortunes.

He accepted the duty manfully, in time receiving the baccalaureate in arts at the University of Michigan and later being licensed to practice law. He opened an office in Kokomo, served as city attorney for ten years and in 1885 took office as recorder of the state supreme court. During his incumbency he published seventeen volumes of reports, which speaks well for his industry.

Then he removed to Indianapolis and served as state senator four years and as city solicitor for six. In 1900 he was nominated for governor and defeated. Four years later he repeated the venture, again unsuccessfully. Two years ago he was Senator Beveridge's defeated opponent, and that brings his political record up to date. Of the two children of his first marriage only one, Julia, is living. The son, Frederick Richmond Kern, died of fever contracted in Cuba during the Spanish war. The present Mrs. Kern is the mother of two very interesting little boys—John W., Jr., aged eight, and William Cooper, aged five. The family, including Miss Julia, lives at 1525 North Pennsylvania street in a modest frame house, and all attend the Tabernacle Presbyterian church, although Mr. Kern is a Methodist.

GEORGE H. PICARD.

A WONDERFUL RECORD.

A woman of Boston has been celebrating her golden anniversary as a cook. During forty years out of the fifty she has been employed at one restaurant, for which she has baked no fewer than 300,000 pies. A local statistician has estimated that these pies if laid out in a row would cover seventy miles. She confesses also to the manufacture of 750,000 puddings and 2,000,000 doughnuts.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

At the meeting last night of Garfield Colony, United Order of Pilgrim Fathers, an invitation was accepted to attend the memorial exercises of Bay State Colony on Wednesday evening, August 26. There was one application for membership.

Notwithstanding the fact that many of the members are in Boston attending the supreme lodge convention the regular meeting last night of Samuel H. Hines lodge No. 56 Knights of Pythias was well attended. One of the most interesting features of the meeting was an account of the parade of the uniform rank in Boston yesterday by Past Chancellor H. V. Kittredge. Past Chancellor Kittredge acted as an aid to Marshal Forbes of the fourth division in the subordinate lodge parade today.

Interesting remarks were made by Past Chancellor Trask of Wamesit lodge, No. 25, and Past Chancellor Jay Boise. Much interest was evinced in the outing to be held at Mountain Rock August 29.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The will of Townsend Wandell, a lawyer of this city, who was killed by a train at Bologna, Italy, was filed for probate yesterday. Josephine Wandell and Francis Livingston Wandell, sister and brother of the testator, are named as executors. The will disposes of an estate estimated conservatively at $500,000, the bulk of which goes to the brother and two sisters of the testator.

The specific bequests include $500 each to St. Christopher's Home at Dobbs Ferry, the Methodist Episcopal Church Home, the Five Points Mission and the Methodist Episcopal Church Hospital. He also left $2500 each to the New York Free Kindergarten School and the Charity Organization Society and $500 each to the S. P. C. A. and the Home for the Friendless.

Mr. Wandell directed that all moneys loaned by him to the estate of his brother, Benjamin Coe Wandell, should be wiped off by the executors, and so should the bonds for $50,000 each given by Josephine and Caroline, the sisters of the testator, to secure advances. Mr. Wandell directed also the cancellation of any loans to the Rev. George Mooney and the Misses Eva M. Davidson, Helen M. Bell and Adeline V. Sutton.

To the Holland Society of New York the will leaves $1000 to be spent on the erection of a statue of "William the Silent" in this city. The St. Nicholas Society receives $1000 for a memorial to Washington Irving, and $1000 each is left to the Sons of the Revolution, the Associate Alumni of the College of the City of New York, the Dwight Alumni Association, to establish an annual prize for the student of the New York Law School most proficient in real estate law and to the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society.

Martha W. Stilwell, a sister of the testator is to receive $35,000 if the notes and books kept by Mr. Wandell are approved by her. "If not so accepted by her," reads the will, "or if she shall in any way bring these accounts into court, or contest the will, or interpose any objection to its probate as may obstruct the executors in carrying the provisions into effect all legacies and bequests in her favor are revoked and the claims for money advanced for the erection of the Vendel building are to be enforced and all gifts intended for her to become part of the residuary estate."

The personal property of the testator is to go in equal shares to the brother, Francis, and the sister, Josephine. Of the real estate and all residue he left three-fifths to Josephine and directed the executors to hold the other two-fifths in trust for Francis until Francis is either divorced or his wife is dead. While his wife shall live and not be divorced Francis is to receive only the income of the trust fund, and none of it is to be considered as liable to execution on account of any debts which the wife may contract.

"My brother is not now in debt," reads the will, "nor is he likely to be involved in any financial difficulty, but I make these provisions chiefly for his protection against his wife. If he survive his present wife or become absolutely divorced from her then he may receive the capital of the trust created."

"It is especially my will," wrote the testator, "that none of my estate shall in any event go to my brother's said wife, or benefit her in any way in her own right, or through her daughter, and if any provision shall be construed to have that effect the gift thereby shall be held to pass to my sister Josephine instead."

"Should Francis die before coming into the capital of the trust fund it is to go to Josephine, and not to the wife or children of Francis, because of their conduct and attitude toward my brother and myself."

The will was executed on May 9, 1906.

HE WILL RECOVER

Bernard Doherty's Condition More Hopeful

It was stated at St. John's hospital this morning that Bernard Doherty, who was found lying near the railroad tracks in Western avenue early Tuesday morning had shown signs of improvement during the past twenty-four hours, and that his recovery is expected. An examination yesterday disclosed the fact that Doherty's spine had been severely injured.

MONSTER PARADE

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—The principal event of the Knights of Pythias today was the great parade of the subordinate lodges and Pythian Sisters and while not such a military spectacle as was presented by the uniform rank in their parade yesterday the numerous floats and other features were expected to lend color to today's pageant and make it more interesting to the general public. Lieut. George E. Wragg, chief marshal of the parade announced that about 15,000 people would be in line, formed in ten divisions.

Up to fifteen minutes of the starting hour of the parade this morning Boston was expecting a severe thunder shower. It was dark and dismal and the rain was pouring down in torrents. A few minutes before ten o'clock, however, the rain stopped, the clouds began to break away and when the bells in the church steeples chimed forth the hour of ten o'clock the sun shone down upon the some 15,000 Pythians and Pythian Sisters who were gathered together at the corner of Beacon and Arlington streets, the starting point of the parade.

A word from Chief Marshal George E. Wragg of Mystic lodge, Chelsea, Mass., and the big assemblage of knights from all Pythian lodges from al over the United States and Canada slowly began to move. Bands began to play lively march music and the people of Greater Boston were again given a chance to witness a spectacular event in the history of the old city.

A variety of especial interest was lent to today's parade by the appearance of 35 emblematic floats and other features. Many of the floats were elaborately constructed and represented historic as well as Pythian ideas. Besides the floats and marching lodgemen there were decorated tally horses, big drags, large automobile carriages and other means of conveyance.

The contest for offices in the supreme lodge was expected to be settled today. Henry P. Brown of Texas is a strong favorite for supreme chancellor, succeeding Charles A. Barnes of Jacksonville, Ill. who will retire.

Maine and Massachusetts have each a candidate in the field for the vice chancellorship and a sharp contest was predicted between George M. Hanson of Maine and D. Sidney Woodworth of this State.

The members of the uniform rank encamped on Franklin field had little to do but enjoy themselves today after their busy day yesterday. Prize drill competitions at the camp were scheduled for the afternoon to provide the only work of the day.

Valuable prizes have been offered for the drills and there was a large entry list.

A band concert in the afternoon and a vaudeville entertainment this evening were arranged to afford entertainment for the knights.

Of the receptions and social gatherings of the week in connection with the Pythian convention the most important was the reception to all the members of the order, including the Pythian Sisters by the supreme lodge on the program for tonight. A large detachment of the uniform rank were expected to be present.

This morning's parade was witnessed by even a larger crowd of people than came to Boston yesterday to see the uniform rank of the Order of Knights of Pythias march.

Chief Marshal Wragg and his staff was escorted by Boston lodge number 3 who were in full dress. Officers of the grand lodge followed in carriages. Then the officers of the grand lodge of Pythian Sisters, all clad in white dresses, were in line.

A feature of the parade was the float of the Scandia lodge number 6 of this city which represented a Viking ship of old. A float by Solomon lodge of Boston representing King Solomon and his three wise-men also attracted considerable attention. All along the line the Pythian colors, red blue and orange, blended with the red, white bule, predominated. The marching order today rivalled the evolutions performed by the Sir Knights during yesterday's pageant.

There were six divisions. Most of the marchers were from the New England states. A prize for the best appearing lodge was awarded by Lieut. Gov. Eben S. Draper, Mayor Hibbard of Boston and others at the reviewing stand on Boston common.

Those on Chief Marshal Wragg's staff were:

FOOTBALL RULES

Few Changes Were Made This Year

With very few changes, the football rules for the coming year, as set forth by the American Intercollegiate rules committee, have just appeared in print.

In its new form the game will appear little different from that witnessed last season and the modifications will affect the players very little. Possibly the changes will have a tendency to eliminate roughness a little, particularly in open plays.

Rules 24 and 25 have been made to read "Loss of 15 yards, point to be gained and number of down to remain unchanged."

It has also been determined that all penalties for fouls except penalties under forward pass may be declined by the offended side. For disqualification, however, the player must be removed from the game. The field judge is made time-keeper and he is also given jurisdiction over the penalty for batting the ball forward, which penalty means no loss of ball to offended side. The score in forfeited games hereafter will be 1 to 0 to distinguish it from other possible scores.

The forward pass has also come in for a few changes. First, when the forward pass is legally touched, only the man of the passer's side who thus first legally touched it shall be entitled to recover the ball until it has been touched by an opponent. Secondly, if a forward pass is thus legally touched, fumbled and touched again by another player of the passer's side before the ball has touched an opponent, the ball shall go to the opponents on the side where it was first legally touched.

With the ball in the air in a forward pass players of the defensive side may not use their arms or hands on opponents except to get them out of the way a order ot get at the ball themselves. Players of the side making the pass who are eligible to receive the pass may use the hands and arms, as in the case of players going down the field under a kick.

Neither side, however, may hold or tackle a player who has not the ball.

Finally, in case a forward pass is illegally touched outside of these provisions named the penalty shall be that the ball shall go to the opponents on the spot where the pass was made.

Time must be taken out during enforcement of penalty for incompleted forward pass. The 10 minutes intermission between halves has been increased to 15. If the ball accidentally strikes an official, play begins over again. If the ball on a forward pass or a kicked ball, except a try at goal, strikes the uprights or crossbars, it shall be considered as having crossed the goal line.

The other alterations are practically only changes in the wording.

There'll be nothing doing in the threading and warping departments of the Bigelow carpet mills in this city next Saturday because the threaders and warpers are all going to Revere beach and ex-Alderman James H. Walker, the boss of these two departments, will probably go along, too. This outing is somewhat of an annual affair and is always looked forward to with happy anticipation. The difference in the mill atmosphere and that of Revere beach is too great not to be appreciated.
